Dodge Brothers Reduce Prices on Special Type Cars

CAUSES SURPRISE AS ADVANCES SEEM TO BE IN ORDER

In view of the upward trend in automobile prices, considerable surprise was occasioned by Dodge Brothers recent announcement of a reduction in prices of their special type cars.

Dodge Brothers were able to do the unexpected, according to the factory announcement, on account of the increased volume of their purchases of special equipment for the special type cars.

Dodge Brothers special types consist of the standard cars equipped with accessories which produce the utmost in comfort and convenience and appearance of the car. Among these are steel disc wheels, five balloon type tires, nickel-trimmed radiator, nickel plated bumpers, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror, scuff plates, cowl lights, motor with lock. A special body stripe is also provided.

Manufacturing and buying these accessories in quantity, Dodge Brothers are naturally able to install them at prices considerably below what the owner would have to pay at retail. The public was quick to sense this and the demand for the special types grew steadily from the moment they were made available. Their convenience and appearance has elicited the greatest admiration everywhere and those who know the volume that has been attained can readily understand how Dodge Brothers were able to make a reduction when others were announcing advances.

Four Dodge Brothers cars are affected by the reduction—the special Touring Car, special Roadster, special "A" Sedan, and special 4-seger Coupe. The "B" Sedan and the Business Coupe have also been added to the line of special types.

As the reduction was made possible by economies effected in the purchase of equipment used exclusively on the special type cars, the standard types are in no way affected, according to A. E. Goldfinch, local dealer. The prices of all standard types remain unchanged.

Sallie's Temptations

Copyright, 1924, by Gladys Baker

Although he had meant to be perfectly proper about delivering the message, Fath and Mr. Wright had both heard Johnson's words. There must be a complex in every woman for occupying the center of the stage, for, even though I knew the message was bad form it thrilled me to have someone clamoring for my presence.

I apologized and left the table. It was Ted. "Come on, Sallie, the gang's outside," he said enthusiastically. "We're going on a party out at Yates and give Alma's dance the atmosphere. Make it snappy, we've got thermos bottles and gin—even a victrola. It's moonlight and we'll have a swim later on."

"Sorry, Ted, but I can't make it this time," I began, "I'm having dinner with Dad and one of his friends," making a grimace.

"Never mind that home-body stuff, ditch 'em, Sallie. You're the life of the party. We couldn't think of leaving you behind." He dragged me by the hand.

I shook my head, remembering Marjorie's dare.

"Aw, come on Sallie, I'll call up your date and fix it with Paul. You aren't going to break up a party, are you? Be a good sport, Sallie," he urged, "You'll always are."

Ted was on the right track now. I adored being called a good sport. Why not go? I argued. Dad would probably get on business or politics and then I wouldn't have a chance to see Mr. Wright alone. I could hear the rest of the crowd laughing and calling me to come on down.

I made up my mind. Running back into the dining room, I exclaimed, "I hate to be rude, but they've come for me to go to the Bach and I'll have to leave."

"But Sallie, what of the dance?" asked Fath, pushing his chair back. "Mr. Davis and I are closely associated in business—and he will certainly expect you to be there."

sketch a... showed the Jury his movements on the day of the killing. He said: "Smiley came out of the woods with me, and we went in the woods and had dinner. All but Smiley and I had had dinner. After dinner I got ready to go to Pamlico to pay off wagon drivers, and asked Mother to go with me but she declined."

I went by Robert Foxworth's on way to Pamlico, and saw a little boy there. I asked for Robert. Robert came out and discussed hauling wood and piling it in 10 cord piles at $4.00. He agreed.

"Smiley was at the bee hives at home when I left for Pamlico with my wife and children. Mother and Margie were in the dining room when I left. After leaving, Foxworth's I had to come back by home on way to Pamlico. As I came near the house I saw Smiley cross the road going into a path I had cut. He appeared to have had something in his hands and he disappeared in the woods. As I drove up within a few yards of the house, I saw Mother coming from the back of the house, with the blood streaming down her face. She was staggering toward the road. I threw the car out of gear and got out and ran to her and caught her in my arms. I asked her what had happened and she said 'Smiley has killed us all.' I started to carry her to some benches near the back steps but she collapsed and I couldn't hold her, so I had to let her down to the ground, where she died. I thought I heard a car coming and I went running to stop the car. I felt that I needed assistance. I am not sure, but I think that I told Louise to run for Mrs. Kirton as I jumped out of the car. I wouldn't say positively for I do not know whether Mr. Garrison or Mr. Bostick got there first, but I think it was Mr. Bostick. Mr. Garrison is hard of hearing. I told both of them what had happened, and have told everybody who inquired as to just what happened. I saw two negroes passing and told one of them to go tell Uncle Robert Foxworth to come there and the other one to go to Steele's store and tell them there what had happened: Mr. Bostick, Mr. Garrison and I carried Mother in the house, and right by the steps we found the smallest McCracken child dead. One of them carried the child in and laid it on the bed by Mother.

"Mr. Melvin Brown and I went up stairs about dark and found Margie. I had thought she had run off and hid up to this time as I had called her all over the place. About an hour later the second boy was found. He was not dead but died about 4 o'clock the next morning. I did not have a pistol in my pocket during the night. Nor did I go out of the house during the night. About daylight McCracken called my attention to a pistol on the mantel and suggested that I move it. I put it in my coat pocket.

"Just after daylight Flowers and I went out to the lot. When we got back to the house I gave the pistol to Flowers and I went to the kitchen or dining room to see about breakfast. I then went through the house to where Flowers, McCracken and others were on the road. I did not cross the road before Monday after the killing, but I told them that I saw Smiley cross the road. I did not say 'now boys go find Smiley and bring him in.'"

Wednesday afternoon, Edmund Bigham shown letter alleged to have been written by Smiley identified signature as that of Smiley. He was also shown a number of checks drawn by Smiley Bigham and identified as Smiley's signature. Bigham admitted possession of bottle of Chloroform while in Florence Jail which was used to induce sleep. A family habit, I did not write notes to my wife from Florence Jail, nor did I authorize anyone to write them. They were written by another prisoner. I have been allowed to keep and use my own razor. I was put in jail January 20, 1921 to April 5, 1921 when I was carried to Columbia and placed in a death cell in which I remained 26 months and 8 days. I was then carried to Florence and put in jail there. In the death cell I was allowed to see no one except in the presence of a guard.

Defense rested at 2:38 P. M.—Mr. E. H. Arrowsmith conducted cross examination.

I came of age in 1906. My father's house rose to their feet and surged toward the bar. As soon as the bailiffs were able to restore order Judge Rice arose and said that in all his joining the home place. I paid $4000 cash and $4500 note, and had some time attorneys had come to blows money left. I bought this place in his court. He said that he would June 1907, made three crops and said have to rule both for contempt of it at a profit for $10,250 to Dr. Finkler. I sold my interest in the home place in 1908 for between 2700. and 2800. and got a mortgage. After selling to Dr. Finkler I moved to Ga. for 2 years. Farmed at Cordele. I moved till Thursday morning at 9:30.

to Leslie Ga. and bought cotton seed for about three seasons there. In Aug. 1913 my family owed me $26,000.00 and a little money I had loaned Smiley. The first money I let them have was some insurance money on father's life. I let them have my share, 5, 8, or $700.00 in 1906. Next, my share of father's personal property in 1906 about $700.00 Rent for 1906 and 1907 on my share of land $180.00. Then I sold my share of the property to them in 1908 for $2500.00. Next in 1910 while living in Greenville I let them have $5000.00. In May 1911 I let them have $4250.00. In 1918 while at Leslie I let them have $250. Next in 1920 I let them have $1100.00 I was living in Americus Ga. selling oils. During the fall of 1920 I let them have in small amounts up to $500.00. I got the first mortgage when I sold my interest in the home place, and got the second mortgage in 1910 which was a renewal of the 1908 paper. When I let them have $5000. and in 1911 did same thing which took up 1910 paper and interest. The last mortgage was for something like $15500.00. State exhibits telegram. "L. S. Bigham, Personal, Pamlico, S. C. Am in trouble, wire me $150.00 will secure you. E. D. Bigham. Edmund Bigham—"I sent that in an effort to collect money due me. I sold Exum place because brothers were accused of murders, and I wanted to take my wife and child away from there." State—did you kill negro by driving nail in negro's ear? No I did not. Defense objected and Court sustained.

During the cross examination of Edmund Bigham P. H. Arrowsmith of State Counsel and M. L. Smith of Defense Counsel came to blows. In questioning Bigham Mr. Arrowsmith asked Bigham if the family of a man murdered in Ga. did not come to the Florence jail and ask him to confess. Defense objected and in the course of his remarks Mr. Smith said: "That line of questioning is grossly improper and counsel knows it." Mr. Arrowsmith immediately replied: "You are a liar" no sooner than this was said Judge Smith rushed for Mr. Arrowsmith and struck at him. It was impossible to see whether the blow landed or not. Mr. Arrowsmith struck at Judge Smith but before more blows could be passed they were separated.
