Citizens' Military Training Camps
To Open Soon

11 YOUNG MEN FROM HORRY
CO. HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO ATTEND

Enrollment of young men for the Citizens' Military Training camps, to be held June 14, at seven army posts in the Fourth Corps area, will open shortly, as soon as application blanks can be distributed. Oversight of the work in South Carolina, Florida and part of Georgia will be exercised from Columbia by Col. Richard H. McMaster, chief of staff, Eightysecond division. Colonel McMaster will have the assistance in the procurement campaign of all regular army agencies within his district and also of the civilian aides to the secretary of war for the three states, namely: for South Carolina, Maj. McDavid Horton, Columbia; for Florida, Maj. B. C. Riley, Gainesville; for Georgia, Capt. Edgar B. Dunlap, Gainesville.

Minimum quotas for South Carolina counties have been assigned at corps area headquarters as follows:

For Fort Bragg, near Fayetteville, N. C., (basic and field artillery courses): From Abbeville county 9, Anderson 25, Cherokee 9, Chester 11, Chesterfield 11, Darlington 13, Dillon 8, Fairfield 9, Florence 17, Greenville, 29, Greenwood 12, Horry 11, Kershaw 10, Lancaster 10, Laurens 14, Lee 9, Marion 8, Marlboro 11, Newberry 12, Oconee 10, Pickens 9, Richland 26, Spartanburg 31, Sumter 14, Union 10, York 17.

For Fort Moultrie, Charleston, S. C. (basic and infantry courses): From Allam county 15, Allendale 5, Bamberg 7, Barnwell 8, Beaufort 7, Berkeley 7, Calhoun 6, Charleston 36, Clarendon 12, Colleton 10, Dorchester 8, Edgefield 8, Georgetown 7, Hampton 6, Jasper 3, Lexington 12, McCormick 5, Orangeburg 22, Saluda 7, Williamsburg 13.

Applicants will be assigned to camps nearest their homes except that graduates of the white course who have been recommended for the blue course in cavalry, coast artillery or field artillery will be sent to the camps they last attended. Advanced courses will be given in coast artillery at Fort Barrancas, near Pensacola, Fla.; in field artillery at Fort Bragg, N. C.; in cavalry at Fort Oglethorpe and Fort Screven, Ga.; in infantry at Fort Moultrie.

Physically sound young men, of good moral character, between the ages of 17 and 24 years, are eligible.

The written consent of parents is required for those under 21. Applicants must be protected against smallpox and typhoid. Vaccine for typhoid is furnished by the government. Ages for advanced courses are Red 17-25, white 18-28, blue 19-31.

Necessary expenses, including transportation to and from the camp, quarters, subsistence, clothing and medical and dental attendance, are met by the government. Uniforms are furnished, including shoes and hats, with arms and equipment; even laundry service is provided without cost to the cadet. Food is served in good variety and of the best quality, prepared by qualified army cooks.

Each day's activities are planned in advance to provide a well balance program. There will be enough physical exercise, drills and games to keep the strong young bodies fit and the young brains alert. Instruction is given in a wide variety of subjects, from a study of the constitution of the United States to radio, telegraphy, telephony, map reading and sketching, sanitation and hygiene as applied to life outdoors. The Cadets will learn to march and ride, shoot and swim; to walk with a spring in their toes; a gleam in their eyes and a pride in their bearing. Every day—except Sunday is devoted to athletics, physical training, drills and target practice.

Discipline is enforced—never harsh but always strict. Soldierly carriage, order, neatness and sanitation are required of all. The meaning of discipline—prompt and cheerful obedience, its importance and development—forms an important part in each camp program.

Religion is respected and encouraged. Provision is made for each cadet to practice the observance of his faith. Each camp will have its chaplains, who will function as pastors do in home communities, visiting the students in their tents, lecturing briefly from day to day and holding religious services on Sundays.

Only 4,000 young men altogether from the eight states in the Fourth Corps area can be accommodated this year. Each season during the last five years many more have applied than could be admitted.

These camps are the outgrowth of the camps held at Plattsburgh, N. Y., in 1913, 1914, and 1915. Valuable experience was also derived from the officers' training camps held in 1917 and 1918. Their aim is to make a worthwhile contribution to the physical, mental and moral development of those participating, by providing without cost to the young men 30 days of active, outdoor, military training, under the most desirable conditions. The camps teach respect for authority, strengthen self-respect, develop alertness and self-reliance, patriotism and regard for the rights of others, promote physical and moral courage, teach observation and prompt decision, add stamina and virility to the young manhood of the country and make the individual healthier and more efficient.

Officers and noncommissioned officers to administer these camps are chosen with the utmost care for their special fitness for this duty and most of them have had some years of experience in the work.

Pending local distribution of application blanks, young men interested may obtain detailed information and application forms by writing to the C. M. T. C. officer, Fourth Corps area, Hurt building, Atlanta, Ga.

SNAKE BITE CURE BY RADIO

The most dramatic incident of five years as a broadcasting director is described by John S. Daggett of Station KHX, Los Angeles, in the current American Magazine.

"We got a frantic long distant call one night from a man out in the Nevada desert," he says. "The man had ridden from a desert camp to the nearest ranch where there was a telephone, to ask us if we wouldn't try to find a doctor for him. A friend of his had been bitten by a rattlesnake. They had been able to hold off the spread of the poison by means of a tourniquet, but there wasn't much chance that they could hold it in check much longer. Moving the man would stimulate his circulation, making the danger even greater. So he was left alone in camp while his friend went after help.

"The friend gave us an exact description of the place where their camp was and how to get there. We immediately sent out a distress call, but with little hope that anyone could reach the man in time. It was miles to a town of any size, and even if we were heard in the nearest town there was little chance that a doctor could reach the camp before the poison did its work.

"The man who had telephoned us went back to his camp to wait with his friend. When he rode up on his horse, he saw that someone had preceded him.

"Was it you that telephoned the radio station this afternoon?" the stranger asked, coming out of the tent.

"Yes," said the man on horseback. "Well," said the other man, "I'm an old desert rat. I've camped over here about a mile from you. I heard about the fix you was in and come right over. I've got an anti-snake-bite outfit, and I brought that too. Your partner is all fixed up and is going to be all right. Them rattos is a great thing, ain't they?"

Chrysler Makes Time On Rough Icy Roads

Imperial "80" Travels 109 Miles in 109 Minutes From Cheyenne to Denver, Colorado.

What is believed to constitute a new record for winter driving over rough, icy roads in the mountain states was recently established by a Chrysler Imperial "80" Phaeton in a night trip which covered 109 miles of treacherous going in exactly 109 minutes.

The route taken by this stock Chrysler car between Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Denver, Colorado, was over highways on which ice and snow with plenty of mud thrown made the trip hazardous yet mile after mile was clicked off at the rate of considerably more than a mile a minute. In fact, mile after mile was covered at speeds of 75, 76, 77 and even up to 82 miles per hour.

The trip was taken, in conjunction with airplanes, to transport photographs to a Denver newspaper.

The time established by the Chrysler Imperial "80", in addition to setting a new motor car record between the two cities, clipped 71 minutes from the scheduled time of the fastest express train between these two points.

The Imperial "80" Phaeton was the same Chrysler that, last summer established a new record for cross country driving for 500 miles or more by a standard stock car, when it covered the 702 mile between Kansas City and Denver in the phenomenally short space of 13 hours and 56 minutes. Previous to the Cheyenne-Denver mark, this Chrysler car had more than 30,000 miles of service registered on the speedometer.

Too Much
"Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

A Benefactor

A physician who reaches out to benefit humanity leaves a record behind him that is worth while. Such a man was Dr. R. V. Pierce. His study along medical lines, and his knowledge of the remedial qualities of herbs and plants led to the discovery of his wonderful herbal remedy, Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is just the tonic required if a woman is borne down by pain and sufferings at regular or irregular intervals, by nervousness or dizzy spells, headache or backache. Favorite Prescription can be had in tablet form as well as liquid at your neighborhood store.
