Hygiene in the Air.
The chemical composition of the atmosphere varies very little. Whether we take a sample from the top of the Himalayas or at sea level the contents of oxygen, nitrogen, etc., are practically the same. The favorable effects of high altitudes upon many diseases cannot be explained by any gaseous peculiarity in the composition of the air, and is probably largely due to the decrease of microbes and dust. Health resorts in pine, birch and oak forests owe their beneficial effect to the traces of hydrogen, and hydrocarbons in the shape of essential oils and aromatic products, which are found in the air of such localities.

M'KINLEY AND TRUSTS.
NO ACTION TAKEN BY HIM TO SUPPRESS THEM.

Four Years as Governor and Four as President—Correspondence of Congressman Gaines, of Tennessee, With Attorney-General Frank Monnett, of Ohio.

During the four years McKinley was Governor of Ohio not a single law was passed against trusts and no prosecutions were instituted. Although Mr. McKinley has been President almost four years not a single law against trusts has been passed and the administration has failed to enforce the anti-trust law of 1890, having filed but three suits during the four years, although trusts have increased a hundred-fold during that time. Congressman John W. Gaines, of Tennessee, who attended the National Convention of the Association of Democratic Clubs in Chicago, before leaving for home discussed this important fact. He said:

"Mr. McKinley was four years Governor of the trust-ridden State of Ohio, yet during his entire administration not one law was passed against trusts. This is proven by the following correspondence, which I will show you:

"Washington, June 22, 1900.
"The Hon. Frank Monnett, Columbus, Ohio:
"Was any anti-trust law enacted while McKinley was Governor of Ohio?"

"JOHN W. GAINES:
"Here is the reply of the same date: "None and no prosecutions instituted."

"FRANK F. S. MONNETT:
"General Monnett, you remember, was four years Attorney-General of Ohio, and until the Republicans turned him out, and that, too, without indorsing his brilliant record in fighting trusts. The Democrats did indorse his record, however, in fighting trusts but went down in defeat. The Legislature adjourned in Ohio last spring after refusing, over the protests of the Democrats, to pass any anti-trust legislation. General Monnett saying that every anti-trust resolution offered this winter was voted down at the dictation of the bosses at Washington and the trust magnates of New York.

"I cannot believe that we (the Republican party) will escape punishment, and I believe it will come this fall. Why should not the party be punished when the men who control its actions disregard the will of the people. Although the Russell bill was bill No. 10, it was side-tracked by the lobbyists and held back until near the adjournment and then, over the protest of some of the best men of the party and almost all of the Democratic members, it was defeated. This was a repudiation of the party platform and the sentiment of the party."

"In addition to this failure of the Republican party to keep its promises as to State anti-trust laws, over the protests of the Democrats in the United States Senate, the Republicans of that body, as a unite, refused to enact any anti-trust legislation, although the House had sent them a bill for which every Democrat voted, while eight Republicans voted against it. The Republicans snatched this bill and prevented its passage by referring it to the Republican Judiciary Committee, where it now sleeps and will continue to sleep until the Democrats get in power.

"Why, do you know that Mr. McKinley has been President nearly four years and no anti-trust laws have been passed, and in addition to that, he and his Attorney-General, Mr. Griggs, have failed to enforce the anti-trust act of 1890, having filed only three suits during this administration against trusts, although trusts have increased a hundred-fold during this administration.

"This clearly shows, to my mind, that the Republican party has refused and failed as a party, and the Republican officials, too, to enforce the law, to kill the goose that lays the golden egg, and that for the people to crush trusts, we must turn the Democrats into power. We refer with pride to the record of the Democrats in Texas, who crushed, with a State and anti-trust law, a foreign trust oil concern, and to the present fight of the Democrats in Nebraska against trusts, as well as to the great pipe case recently decided by the Supreme Court of the United States that was begun in my own State by Democratic officials and prosecuted successfully. I believe that the people will place the Democrats in power, headed by Bryan, who is a deadly enemy of monopoly, trusts and combines and is the unimpeachable and courageous friend of the masses."

We Need Idealism.
The charge is brought against Mr. Bryan that he is an "idealist." It is meant to be a reproach. But if Mr. Bryan is an idealist he comes along just at the right time. What the country is suffering from at this moment is the reign of commercialism, what it needs is more idealism. Let us get back to the ideal of constitutional rights for all people under the stars and stripes; the ideal of liberation, not subjugation; the ideal of a world of republics, not satrapies or subject colonies. If Mr. Bryan is an idealist he is the man for the crisis.—Boston Post.

A WARNING.
Some of the Republican spellbinders admit that there are trusts, but say their party is the one to destroy them. The voter who has a good memory will recall that in the Harrison campaign of 1888 the Republican party admitted that the tariff needed revising and that they would do it themselves. And they did. They made it higher.—Rochester (N. Y.) Herald.

THE TURN OF LIFE.
The Most Important Period in a Woman's Existence.—Mrs. Johnson Tells How She Was Helped Over the Trying Time.

Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying, and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are only a few of the symptoms of a dangerous nervous trouble. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. The three following letters are guaranteed to be genuine and true, and still further prove what a great medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women.

Mar. 12, 1897.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been sick for a long time. I was taken sick with flooding. All my trouble seemed to be in the womb. I ache all the time at the lower part of the womb. The doctor says the womb is covered with ulcers. I suffer with a pain on the left side of my back over the kidney. I am fifty years old and passing through the change of life. Please advise me what to do to get relief. Would like to hear from you as soon as possible."—MRS. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Monclova, Ohio.

Jan. 23, 1898.
"I have been taking your remedies, and think they have helped me a great deal. I had been in bed for ten weeks when I began taking your Vegetable Compound, but after using it for a short time I was able to be up around the house. The aching in the lower part of my back has left me. The most that troubles me now is the flowing. That is not so bad, but still there is a little every day. I am not discouraged yet, and shall continue with your medicine, for I believe it will cure me."—MRS. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Monclova, Ohio.

April 13, 1900.
"I send you this letter to publish for the benefit of others. I was sick for about nine years so that I could not do my work. For three months I could not sit up long enough to have my bed made. I had five different doctors, and all said there was no help for me. My trouble was change of life. I suffered with ulceration of the womb, pain in sides, kidney and stomach trouble, backache, headache, and dizziness. I am well and strong, and feel like a new person. My recovery is a perfect surprise to everybody that knows me. I owe all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not do without your medicine for anything. There is no need of women suffering so much if they would take your remedies, for they are a sure cure."—MRS. CHARLOTTE JOHNSON, Monclova, Ohio.

When one stops to think about the good Mrs. Johnson derived from Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine, it seems almost beyond belief; yet it is all true as stated in her three letters published above at her own request. As a matter of positive fact Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of letters from women who have been safely carried through that danger period "Change of Life." Mrs. Johnson's cure is not an unusual one for Mrs. Pinkham's medicine to accomplish.
