The iron work of the new bridge is in place and the approaches are being built as rapidly as possible. It will, however, be several weeks yet before the bridge will be opened to travel.

—Mr. L. B. Glover, a well known resident of Flint Hill section, was a visitor to Fort Mill Monday, and while here paid The Times office a pleasant call. Mr. Glover informed us, among other things, that he is now 62 years of age and lives in the house in which he was born and that he had never been away from home for more than three weeks at one time. He also stated that a portion of the house in which he lives was built more than 100 years ago. Mr. Glover did not serve in the army because of injuries which he sustained by the accidental discharge of a gun when he was only three years of age.

White Boy on Chain Gang.

A young white boy named Luke Robinson was brought here Friday to serve 15 days with the county chaingang which is located one mile south of town. Robinson was convicted of stealing from a store in Rock Hill. The Herald has the following to say of the crime:

"Luke Robinson, a white boy about 16 years of age, whose parents live in Lancaster, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or work on the county chain gang for fifteen days by Recorder Craig Wednesday morning for Stealing two purses from the store of E. E. Cloud the day before. He was caught by Mr. Tom Huey, a salesman in the store, with the goods on him. The boy did not have the money to pay his fine and he was locked up after the trial pending efforts to raise the money, but friends who were expected to arrive here Thursday and pay the fine did not turn up and he will very likely have to go to the gang."

A Former York Man to Hang.

A dispatch from Richmond, Va., to the Roanoke Times has the following to say about Geo. A. Peters, a native of York county, who has been sentenced to death in Carroll county, Virginia: "George A. Peters, of Carroll county, is to hang for the murder of Rev. Jasper Easter, a Dunkard preacher, who was killed in the county several months ago. This conclusion was reached by Governor Swanson this morning after going over the application for commutation."

"The governor says he has not found a solitary thing upon which he could base any interference with the sentence of the jury which tried the prisoner. The papers have been in the hands of the governor for some time and he has examined into the merits of the case with unusual care."

"Peters, according to the records in the case, went to the home of the minister one night in May, after the minister had retired, called him to the door and shot him down in cold blood in the presence of the man's wife and children. There was absolutely no provocation for the crime, and the attempt of the defence to show that Peters was drunk at the time fell flat, the contrary being proven. Peters will be hanged on September 20."

An Old Time Community.

Down in York county, S. C., about two and one-half miles west of Rock Hill, is old Ebenezer Presbyterian church. Ebenezer was, before the days of the railroads and is still, the centre of a prosperous and intelligent neighborhood and has been so for a long, long time. It is now perhaps fifteen years ago that the hundredth anniversary of the building of the church was celebrated. At Ebenezer there is also a big school at which many have been educated. The church has always had very fine fine preachers and the school has been well conducted. The first Sunday in September and the first Sunday in May there is always a communion service. More than six hundred people attend service on these two communion days. Only one communion service has been missed in a hundred years and that was not fully missed but was postponed on account of the sickness of the pastor.

The Rev. J. H. Thornwell is now pastor of old Ebenezer. He and his congregation are in such delightful accord that if he needs money for any church, charity or other beneficent work all he has to do is to say the word to his people assembled or put the word out quietly amongst them and the sum is raised.

Yesterday was communion day at the church. It may be taken for granted that there was a big attendance.—Charlotte Observer, Monday.

Cannot Sell Crescent Ale.

Governor Ansel has issued circular letters to the various sheriffs of the State requesting the seizure of all the Crescent ale that may be offered for sale. The sale of this ale is prohibited by the Carey-Cothran act as it has been found to contain three per cent alcohol, the full strength of beer, which if taken in sufficient quantity will cause the drinker to feel real merry.

Several days ago Governor Ansel caused an analysis to be made of several soft drinks, Crescent Ale being one. The state chemist in his report stated that this contained three per cent alcohol, while in the other drinks only a trace of alcohol was found.

York County News

Yorkville Enquirer.

—Sheriff Brown has received from Governor Ansel a circular letter calling his attention to the fact that beer is being sold by various merchants under fictitious labels, and instructing him to seize such stuff whenever he finds it.

—Internal revenue officers have been doing some business in Yorkville this week, collecting revenue tax from certain dealers who have been selling "Beerine," a so-called temperance drink; but which has been found to contain enough alcohol to bring it under the ban of the dispensary law. One dealer paid $5, another $12.50 and a third $15. As to whether or not there are to be any prosecutions has not developed.

—The congregation of King's Mountain Chapel has arranged to hang on the walls of the building a life size portrait of the late Rev. Louis a Johnson and also a memorial tablet. The church was originally established largely at the instance of Mr. Johnson, assisted by Joseph A. Smith, Jasper N. Roberts and several others.

Rock Hill Herald.
—Messrs. J. C. Wallace and James and Will Campbell of Tirzah, returned yesterday morning from a three days' fox hunt around St. Matthews, in Orangeburg county. They had fine luck, catching six gray. One of them was brought back alive.

—Mr. Maek Schorb, an efficient electrician who has been connected with the Bell Telephone company, has accepted the position of manager of the Rock Hill Telephone company. Mr. Schorb is a York county boy, being the son of Col Geo. T. Schorb, of Yorkville. He comes to Rock Hill highly recommended and we feel safe in saying that he will do all in his power to improve the system.

—The farms around Rock Hill are in magnificent shape. A farmer told us other other day that he had been farming for fifteen years and that he had never had a better crop than he has this year. The farmers in this section, we know, feel good just now and if we have a late fall the country will be flooded with money. We feel sure that cotton will bring a good price the whole season through for the farmers around here have been educated to the fact that it pays to hold cotton for a certain price. Some farmers have sold their crops already on future delivery, the price paid being in the neighborhood of 12 cents. In fact, most of the future delivery price was 12 cents, so we have been informed.

—The first two bales of cotton of this year's crop were sold here Wednesday afternoon by Messrs. J. A. Barber and J. C. Fudge. Mr. Barber's was the first one to be ginned, while Mr. Fudge, who farms on Mr. F. H. Barber's place, was close behind him. Both bales were bought by Mr. Ed. Fewell, and the price paid was 14 cents per pound.

—Mr. Phil Hoover, a young man, died early Wednesday morning at his home in the village of the Fort Mill Mfg. Company, after a several weeks' illness of typhoid fever. The funeral arrangements had not been announced up to the hour of closing our forms.
