Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little girl eight years old. I go to school. My teacher's name is Miss Agnes Link. I like her very much. Please bring me a doll carriage and a pretty doll. I want a pencil box with pencils in it, that has a drinking cup with it and a pencil sharpener. I want a dining-room set. Please bring me a kitchen set, too. I want a pocketbook. I want a pair of kid gloves, size 5. I have a little brother three years old. Please bring him a tricycle and a train and a ball, and bring us lots of nuts and candy. Do not come down the chimney—we will have the front door open. Your little friend,
Emily Louise Meacham.

Fort Mill, S. C., Dec. 15, 1922.
Dear Santa Claus:
I have been writing to you every Christmas, and telling you to bring me a baby doll, but this Christmas I don't want a doll, but I want a little tea set and a set of vases to go in our little company room, so when we have company our room will look neat. Oh, I forgot, Santa, I want some apples and oranges and candy, and, Santa Claus, my other little sisters and brother want something too. My little brother wants a tricycle and some fruit and both of my sisters want a big doll.
Well, Old Santa, I hope you won't have any bad luck getting in the house. When you have put our toys in our stockings and in our boxes go in the kitchen and look on the table and you will find a nice slice of cake, and when I get up I will be thankful to you, your friend,
Rebecca Giles.
