

All Smoking Tobaccos are Flavored

"Your Nose Knows"

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "... on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves."

Your smoke-enjoyment depends as much upon the quality and kind of flavoring used as upon the Quality and aging of the tobacco.

Tuxedo tobacco is the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings—chocolate! That flavoring, added to the finest of carefully aged and blended burley tobacco, produces Tuxedo—the perfect tobacco—

"Your Nose Knows."

Try This Test: Rub a little Tuxedo briskly in the palm of your hand to bring out its full aroma. Then smell it deep—its delicious, pure fragrance will convince you. Try this test with any other tobacco and we will let Tuxedo stand or fall on your judgment—"Your Nose Knows."

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

FIRST SESSION OF SEVENTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF S. C. IN CONVENTION.

NO ROAD LEGISLATION YET

House Has a Spirited Discussion on Merits of Various Breeds of Dogs and Proposed Tax on Same.

The following is a resume of the weekly work of the General Assembly of South Carolina:

Senate.
Columbia, Feb. 14.—The senate passed the Dukes resolution sent over from the house requesting the governor to bring to the attention of the secretary of war the fact that about 900 negroes are in the labor battalion at Camp Jackson and that unless these men are discharged immediately their labor will be lost to the farmers for this crop season, and urging that they be discharged at an early date.

The bills of Senator Christensen to establish a highway department and the bill to provide for the issue of $25,000,000 of road bonds, and Senator Lightsey's bill on the same subject were made special orders.

House.
With a few minor changes, the general appropriations bill, carrying a total of $3,354,796.45, an increase of $20,280 over the amount reported from the ways and means committee, was given its final reading.

An item was added appropriating $2,000 to legally approved claims to owners of condemned cattle slaughtered in accordance with law.

After considerable debate, the house, by a vote of 52 to 27, added $10,000 for South Carolina's pro rata share of cotton representatives to the peace conference in France.

By a vote of 16 to 62 the house refused to increase the salaries of the members of the general assembly $100. The amendment to the appropriation bill, calling for $16,900, or $100 for each member of the two houses, was introduced by Representative Wise of Charleston.

The bill as it now stands calls for an increase of 10 per cent. in the salaries of all clerks and attaches of the various departments of the state government, this total increase amounted to $8,900.

Senate.
Feb. 17.—The senate considered only uncontested matters during the early hours of the session and then took up the two bills by Senator Banks on state insurance.

The first bill provides for the insurance of state warehouses and cotton therein by the sinking fund commission, leaving it to the commission to fix rates and by an amendment offered by Senator Marion of Chester limiting the amount that may be placed by the sinking fund on any one warehouse at $10,000 and requiring the sinking fund to reinsure the balance in reputable companies.

The second bill removes the limitation heretofore put upon the accumulation of insurance funds in the hands of the sinking fund to $1,000,000 and the cessation of the payment of premiums. Under the provisions of this bill the accumulations are to continue and the premiums are to be paid annually.

House.
Among the third reading bills passed by the house was that by Mr. Berry of Orangeburg, to authorize banks, banking institutions, trust companies and insurance companies and judges of probate or persons acting as executors or administrators, guardians or trustees to invest in Federal Farm Loan bonds. Passage of this bill has been urgently recommended by the treasury officials in Washington.

The Pasley bill to the 1912 code so as to enable clerks of court to issue warrants to enforce agricultural liens was also passed.

The Laney bill to appropriate $50,000 for the vocational training in public schools was sent to third reading. The training is to be in agriculture and trades and industries.

Gas Bill Favorably Reported.

Senator Pearce's gas bill was reported favorably in the senate but amended so as to include all cities of less than 40,000 inhabitants. This bill was published several days ago. It provides that in case a bill for gas or electricity is disputed by a public-service corporation the consumer shall have the right to pay the amount which he admits to be correct and to deposit the balance claimed by the company pending suit to determine the correctness of the amount, service continuing in the meantime.

To Stimulate Foreign Trade.

Representative Etheredge of Saluda has introduced in the house a concurrent resolution calling for the appointment of a committee from the two houses to confer with the State warehouse commissioner and other persons, looking to the formation of a cotton corporation to stimulate trade in the foreign field, as suggested by W. P. G. Harding, governor of the board of directors of the federal reserve system, when in Columbia. The resolution was adopted without discussion.

The bill by James E. Davis to require circuit judges to file their decisions within 60 days from final argument was sent to third reading.

Senate.
Feb. 18.—The bill establishing a board of tax assessors and abolishing the tax commission occupied the attention of the senate. Senator McColl said that it was "incumbent upon the proponents of the bill to develop the indictments against the present system as represented by the tax commission."

The budget bill for appropriations which had been suggested by Governor Cooper was considered and passed to a third reading with notice of general amendments.

House.

Good roads legislation originating in the house this session was discarded with reckless abandon. The vote of the central committee's substitute bill, which was a combination of all the ideas proposed, was rejected by a vote of 51 to 63. The Burgson measure, for which the committee measure was a substitute, was then rejected by a vote of 27 to 76. The hands of the clock had already passed the meridian when this last vote was taken.

The Beanguard bill from the senate to raise the age limit for road taxes from 18 to 21 years was passed by the house and ordered enrolled for ratification.

The McMillan-Kinard-Davis measure to set aside $50,000 from the state sinking fund as the nucleus for a student loan fund in lieu of scholarships at state institutions was sent to third reading.

The Laney bill from the senate to appropriate $50,000 for vocational training in agriculture, trades and industries and in home economics was passed by the house and ordered enrolled for ratification.

Senate.

Feb. 19.—The Confederate veterans of the state would have had happy moments if they had been in the senate.

As expressed by Senator Alexander of Pickens they are all now past three score and ten, the allotted span of life for man, and "if we are ever to do anything for them, now is the time." He wanted all to receive the full pension which the state allows to class "A" the great sum of $96 a year, and the veterans in the Confederate Home in addition to their maintenance are to receive $75 a year "spending money."

This creates a Confederate pension department with a commissioner at $2,000 a year and $2,000 for an office force. The bill carries an appropriation of $350,000 which Senator Christensen said was sufficient to put all Confederate veterans in class A.

House.

The Citadel bill, calling for an appropriation of $300,000 with which to build a new plant in Charleston was passed and sent to the senate.

The bill calling for $100,000 for buildings and maintenance for the state training school for the feeble-minded was also passed.

Proponents of good roads legislation gathered their forces and again determined to put some form of good roads legislation through the present session of the general assembly. A bill was introduced by the committee on roads, bridges and ferries to levy a three mill tax on all taxable property for road purposes and to meet the aid offered by the federal government.

Both Houses.

Feb. 20.—The senate today had an alarm sounded over the utter failure thus far to do anything with reference to legislation in the interest of good roads. It is apparent that the session will continue next week and Senator Johnstone said that it was well for the session to continue if for no other reason than the importance and necessity of passing legislation for good roads. He felt that it would be a great mistake and great wrong to the people if the legislature left here without doing something for permanent road improvement.

The house of representatives devoted its whole morning session to the "sounding" of its calendar which was interrupted at 1:30 o'clock by the house going to the senate for the ratification of acts. This procedure likewise broke into a spirited debate on the merits and demerits of various species of dogs and whether a tax of $1.25 a head would be burdensome on the people of the state.

Inventory of Stock Required.

D. C. Heyward, collector of internal revenue, said that as the new war revenue act is now sure of becoming a law and as under its provisions all dealers in tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes would be required to pay additional taxes, that dealers in these articles will be required to make an inventory of any stock which they may have on hand on the morning after the bill has been approved and signed by the President. There is no probability that the bill will be vetoed.

Semi-Centennial Celebration.

A semi-centennial celebration of the South Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Society, which is also the State Fair Association, will be held in Columbia April 12. A committee consisting of W. A. Clark, chairman; A. B. Langley and D. G. Ellison was appointed to make arrangements for the celebration which it is expected will be largely attended by members of the association from all sections. The celebration will be in honor of the members who were at the reorganization meeting in 1869.
