INTERESTING CONVENTION OF STATE STOCKMEN HAS CONCLUDED ITS LABORS.

STRONG RESOLUTION PASSED

Legislature Memorialized to Enact a Safe and Workable Plan for Construction of Permanent Roads.

South Carolina live stockmen and dairymen brought their eighteenth annual meeting to a close here with the adoption of several strong resolutions and general discussions relative to the live stock and dairy industry in the State.

One resolution calling for a stricter enforcement of the laws now on the statute books in protecting the dairy and live stock industry of South Carolina and prohibiting diseased cattle from being shipped into the State was unanimously adopted after discussion had brought out that diseased cattle, culls and scrubs were being brought into the State.

Another resolution memorializing the general assembly to enact a safe and workable plan for the construction and maintenance of a system of permanent highways in 1920 was adopted. A resolution declaring that "it was the sense of this meeting that the agitation for the calling of an extra session of the general assembly to consider the passage of good roads legislation and other matters is undesirable and unwise at this time," was also unanimously adopted. This latter resolution was adopted after considerable discussion and after all those present had agreed that good roads were absolutely essential to the live stock and dairy industry of the State.

The 1920 meeting of the association will be held in Columbia.

Plans For Health Work.

Dr. L. A. Riser, director of county health work in South Carolina, has been busily engaged since the adjournment of the legislature in making efforts to secure outside assistance in carrying on his work. Dr. Riser had planned to carry on the work in seven counties but when the general assembly failed to make sufficient appropriation to do this, Dr. Riser interested himself in outside sources, being reluctant to relinquish his seven county plan.

Dr. Riser said that arrangements had been perfected by which the work will be carried out in seven counties as planned originally. The counties, with the physician who will be in charge of the work are as follows: Lexington, Dr. B. E. Kneec; Calhoun, Dr. T. H. Phillips; Orangeburg, Dr. R. S. Bailey; Darlington, Dr. C. H. Verner; Lee, Dr. C. C. Craft; Sumter, Dr. D. T. Rankin; Marion, physician not yet announced.

It is hoped by the director that permanent health organizations supported by the county, will be perfected in each county. At the present time, the State is giving assistance to the counties in the work, but when the counties come to fully appreciate the value of the work, they will probably be willing to bear the expense themselves and to keep the work going without State assistance.

Road Project Approved.

The State highway commission has received notice from the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture that its chief engineer had recommended the approval of project No. 6, which consists of 11 timber trestle bridges and earth embankment and one timber truss bridge across the Little Pee Dee at Gallivant's Ferry on the line between Marion and Horry counties. Bids will be opened on this job March 18. The approval of the secretary of agriculture of the Marion-Horry project carries with it a total of $27,339.26 in federal aid. The project will give Horry county a greatly improved connection by road with the remainder of the State.

Will Not Turn Back Roads.

"You can be sure of one thing; the government will certainly not turn back the railroads to their owners before 21 months after the signing of the peace treaty."

This statement was made by Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, retiring chairman of the interstate commerce committee of the senate, who was visiting in Columbia, when asked about a statement on the future of the country's transportation lines. Beyond the foregoing, Senator Smith would not talk.

Fight Against Smallpox.

Approximately 2,000 people in and around Johnsonville, Williamsburg county, have been vaccinated recently by Dr. C. S. Kinzer, of the State board of health in an effort to check the spread of smallpox in the community. Several hundred people have been exposed to the disease, and one patient died. This was the first death from smallpox in South Carolina in three years. Dr. Kinzer rendered excellent service to the state during the influenza epidemic, and is now being employed by the state board of health.

Farmers Sign Cotton Pledge.

The cotton acreage and fertilizer movement is sweeping the state and the farmers in every section enthusiastically are signing pledge cards stated W. G. Smith, state warehouse commissioner, who has just returned from a tour of the state.

"The farmers have lied so frequently about acreage reduction," said Captain Smith, "that they are determined to redeem themselves this time."

The reduction movement originated at a convention of farmers here some weeks ago, at which time a steering committee was appointed to take charge of the campaign. A fund was raised and central offices opened in the Union National Bank building here, with J. S. Wannamaker, of St. Matthews, president of the South Carolina Bankers' Association, as manager, assisted by Prof. Reed Smith, of Columbia, as executive secretary. Mrs. Hugh R. Clinkscales of Columbia, is in immediate charge of the working of the office. William Banks, of Columbia, has supervision of the publicity.

Resolutions were adopted at the cotton convention calling on farmers to reduce their 1919 cotton acreage by at least one-third and their use of fertilizer one-half. On "Cotton Acreage Reduction Pledge Day," public meetings were held in every part of the state in the interest of the movement. Captain Smith said that many of the farmers are pledging themselves to a reduction of one-half of their acreage.

Game Law Is Important.

Among the state-wide laws of far reaching consequences passed at the recent session of the general assembly is that for the protection of game and fish and to fix hunters' license fee. A county resident's license fee is $1.10, which allows residents of the state to hunt in any county on his own land. Non-residents pay a county fee of $3.10. A non-resident's state hunting license is $15.25. Non-residents must pay a fee of $3.25 to fish in the state.

The law fixes the open season for partridge hunting from November 15 to February 15, and the bag limit to 15 a day.

The open season for turkeys is from November 15 to April 1. The bag limit a day is two, and for the season 20.

The open season for doves is from August 15 to December 31. A five year closed season for pheasants is prescribed by the law.

Violations of the act shall be a misdemeanor and will be punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25, or imprisonment not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days.

New Enterprises Chartered.

"The Fashion," of Charleston, made application to William Banks Dove, secretary of state, for an amendment to its charter increasing its capital stock from $10,000 to $20,000.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank of Woodruff, Spartanburg county, was chartered with a capital stock of $75,000.

The Andrews Manufacturing company of Andrews was chartered with a capital stock of $10,000.

To Make Direct Campaign.

The State central cotton committee has been receiving the most encouraging reports from all but one or two counties in the State and it is proposed to do some missionary work in those counties at an early day. Senator E. D. Smith, Congressman A. F. Léver and John L. McLaurin are being mustered into service to carry the campaign to the people. Commissioners Harris and others are making speeches daily to the farmers, and the other three speakers have offered their services.

Extra Session Is Possible.

Thomas P. Cothran of Greenville, speaker of the house of representatives, gave out a statement in which he says that if the members of the general assembly will meet with the determination of passing good roads legislation he favors the calling of an extra session. At the same time Representative R. I. McDavid of the Greenville delegation gave out a statement in which he gave as his opinion that there is assurance sufficient that the bill would be put through to warrant calling of special session.
