HEALTH CAMPAIGN IS OPENED

30th Health and Welfare Service Departments Have Been Thoroughly Organized at St. Matthews.

St. Matthews.—The health and welfare service departments of Calhoun county are now thoroughly organized and are being put in motion. The local chapter of the home service department for the Red Cross has been organized. On the first of the month the office was formally opened with Mrs. Cain in charge. The selection of Mrs. Cain as secretary is fitting and fortunate. For the greater part of the war she was chief clerk of the local board and her work was entirely satisfactory. Office supplies have been purchased and the office recently occupied by the war board will be headquarters. The opening was formally noted by Miss Helen Kohn, State superintendent, who came down and spent a couple of days in perfecting the organization.

A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general of the United States, has been appealed to for a ruling concerning the legality of the cotton associations' campaign for reduction of cotton acreage.

Governor Allen of Kansas claims the movement is a flagrant violation of law and should be stopped unless the associations are immune to prosecution. J. Skottowe Wannamaker, chairman of the South Carolina Cotton Association, received a telegram from Henry J. Allen, governor of Kansas, reading in part as follows:

"The whole question at issue seems to me to rest upon the right of any group of men to form a combination for the restraint of production. The federal trade commission has published a list of questionable practices which the commission condemns and among them are two which seem to forbid what you are trying to accomplish. One forbids the entering into an agreement or understanding or pool by competitors to maintain prices or allot business and the other forbids agreement among competitors to limit output. It strikes me that you must be rather sure of your immunity from prosecution in attempting to run so contrary to a declared public policy.

"The right to be a cussed fool is safe from all devices human; it's common, as a general rule, to every critter born of woman," said Mr. Wannamaker in commenting on Governor Allen's telegram.

"The greatest of fools is he who imposes on himself."

Immediately upon receipt of Governor Allen's telegram I wired him stating that it was my privilege to refer the whole matter to the United States attorney general. The matter is now before that official with the request that he make ruling concerning the sections referred to by Governor Allen."

Auto Clubs Formed.

Greenville.—Several new automobile clubs have been formed over the State during the past ten days, it was announced at the headquarters of the State Automobile Association here Saturday.

A live club of 41 members at Chester has been formed.

A club has been formed at Edgefield with 41 members.

A club with 31 members has been formed at McCormick and the club at York has recently taken on a large number of new members.

The slogan of the State Automobile Association is "Better Roads for South Carolina," and the association intends to push the campaign for permanent highways in the State, it is declared.

Soldiers Go to Farms.

Columbia.—Everybody must work these days. The camp employment office tries to make the men realize this before they are discharged. It is providing a place to work and something to do for those worthy. The American doughboy has demonstrated that he will help himself if given a chance. This office is giving him a big chance. Thus far the United States employment service has placed many in positions for which they were qualified. The week before last 3,550 men passed through the office. Last week was even larger with 4,146 men. One of the best things accomplished by the office is getting men not only to return to farms but getting city bred men to try the simple life.

Chester and Rock Hill Win.

Rock Hill.—In the fifth annual oratorical contest of the Catawba Association held in the Rock Hill High School auditorium, John Marion of Chester High School was the winner of first place in the boys' contest. Fred Bryant of the Rock Hill High School second place.

In the girls' contest, Nellie Bronson of Rock Hill High School was the winner of the first place; May Bowers Mackeroll of York High School, second, and Jane Lane of Wethrop Training School, third place.

Liquor Jugs Found in Barrel.

Anderson.—The supply of apples from a wholesale dealer would have been exhausted in short order if other buyers had thought they could have had the same luck that R. A. McConnell did. He had ordered a barrel of russet apples which did not arrive and the dealer let him have a barrel of red apples. When he got about half way down the barrel he found something that looked like a jug, a little further on he found it was not one jug, but two. One filled with whiskey and the other with fine port wine.

Pension Checks Sent Out.

Rutledge L. Osborne, comptroller general, has sent out from his office $295,172 to the clerks of the court of the various counties to pay the pensions for 1919.

All matters pertaining to pensions are from now on to be handled by the commissioners. D. W. McLaurin has the work in charge and is known as "State pension commissioner."

Mr. Osborne says the only change of any significance in the pensions paid by him is that the widows and soldiers in Classes C-2 and C-4 will receive $36 each this year, which is $4 more than they have ever been paid before.

The following is the distribution throughout the State by classification and by counties:

Specter of 1914.

The specter of 1914 stalks before the cotton farmers of the South, declared Senator George K. Laney, of Chesterfield, who was a Columbia visitor recently. "It is his opinion that if the farmers plant a large crop of cotton and the restrictions on the exportation of the staple are not removed that the South will face disaster."

Senator Laney, who has a farm himself, says that the cost of production of this year's cotton crop is going to be as heavy as the cost of producing last year's crop. The farmers cannot afford, he declared, to raise two crops and sell them at below the cost of production. It means ruin for many of them.

The Chesterfield farmers are reducing heavily, said the senator, who declared that they were going to raise more foodstuffs than ever before. "They are playing 'safety first' and are not taking any chances," he said.

Senator Laney believes that if all restrictions were removed around the exportation of cotton, that the price of the staple would soar to great heights, but the farmer is not able to take the chance on the removal of these restrictions. Things are a little too unsettled.

New Trial Ordered.

The Supreme Court has reversed the lower court in the case of Rowe vs. State of South Carolina. The supreme tribunal held that the lower court had erred in holding the bondsmen of the last term of office of the last term of office of the late Sheriff Huckabee of Kershaw county responsible for shortages which were alleged to have extended beyond the last portion of the administration. A new trial was ordered.

Few Overseas Enlistments.

Nearly 100 men have re-enlisted for domestic duty in the regular army. There were only 27 who wished to go overseas badly enough to sign up for three years. This can be explained by the fact that so many wish to remain in the organizations they are now attached to. Seaport camps or camps nearer the ocean, enlist most men for overseas duty. An average of the re-enlistments in the United States shows that half wish domestic and half foreign duty. Re-enlistments numbered 127 at camp last week.

Students Are Turned Away.

The seminar being conducted by the Rev. Thornton Whaling, D. D., at Columbia seminary, is proving a decided success. It was deemed best to accept only a few for work in the course, consequently a number had to be turned away who applied for admission. Among those pursuing the course are: The Rev. C. R. Bailey, Laurel Hill, N. C.; the Rev. W. D. Ratchford, Cross Hill; the Rev. Ben Rivers, a Baptist minister of Chesterfield; the Rev. G. C. Gardner, pastor of the Methodist Church at Bethune.

Everybody sees your hall

Dear Amy:—

Don't you hate to go to see anybody, and have them hurry you out of the hall just because it looks shabby? I went to see Laura the other day. Her husband had let her fix up the parlor, but what a hall she had.

A home is not completely furnished when the hall where people just come in does not look inviting. I'm not ashamed of my hall.

Baby's howling for more milk.

So long,

Lou.
