BLOW OPEN SAFE IN RAILWAY OFFICE

Spartanburg, May 2.—The safe in the freight office of the Charleston and Western Carolina Railway in this city was blown open and robbed of the sum of $45 in cash, about $900 in checks and several insurance policies belonging to John Scruggs, local agent of the company. No trace of the robber or robbers has yet been found.

It is believed that the job was that of an expert yeggman as all indications show that the work was neatly done. The robber entered through the rear of the depot sometime during the night. The robbery was discovered this morning by a member of the city police force. The city and county authorities are on the trail of the guilty party or parties but thus far nothing has been found which would lead to their capture.

AT METHODIST CHURCH.

Next Sunday the 11th, the North Broad Street Methodist church will magnify the Centenary Movement. Both the morning and evening hours will be taken up by visiting speakers. Mr. Crump will take the morning hour and Rev. J. M. Steadman, presiding elder of this district, will address the congregation in the evening. The public is cordially invited.
