SAVINGS MADE SAFE FOR SMALL INVESTOR

Uncle Sam Provides Protection for Thrifty Citizen Who Wishes to Lay Aside Part of Earnings.

This is the day of the small investor. The war opened the eyes of some 50,000,000 Americans to the benefits of investing in government securities; it minimized to the same extent the menace of fraudulent promotions in which many life's savings have been sunk. War Savings Stamps are making investing safe for the small saver.

Every small investor should realize that a dollar saved while money is the cheapest commodity offered will purchase twice as much of almost any other commodity within four or five years, so that, in addition to the interest that War Savings or other government securities yield, the investor really has earned 100 per cent in the purchasing power of the dollar saved. Small sums certainly are worth saving. Amounts that seem insignificant soon pile up into figures that are impressive.

A great French banker was once asked the secret of French thrift, and he replied, "Compound interest." Just as constant waste, even in little things, may change one's life from success to failure, so the steady saving of money will eventually bring independence, if not actual wealth.

There are very few persons who cannot, without inconvience, lay aside 10 cents a day. Within ten years, one's daily savings of this insignificant sum will amount to $365, in addition to $86.35 compound interest, making a total of $451.35.

By saving 15 cents a day for ten years, with interest compounded at 4 per cent, one will have the comfortable sum of $668.18; 20 cents a day will net $890.99. Save 50 cents a day for ten years and there is $2,227.75. A dollar a day will make a total of $4,455.74 for the ten-year period.

All these figures are based on the savings being put out at 4 per cent compound interest. War Savings Stamps yield more than 4 per cent.

LESSONS WILL TEACH THRIFT IN SCHOOLS

Pamphlets Giving Outline Course May Be Had by Writing War Loan Organization.

The War Loan Organization of the Fifth Federal Reserve District at Richmond, Va., has just issued an outline of a course of thrift for elementary schools. It is designed especially to meet the needs of teachers, beginning with chapters for the smallest youngsters and continuing to those for pupils up to the eighth grade.

"Thrift in the Schools" contains fascinating suggestions for the teaching of thrift to the little ones at the "Mother Goose" age. Then for the older children there are many other ways of bringing the lesson home. Geography, hygiene, English reading, budget making and problems in arithmetic adapt themselves to the teaching of thrift.

Besides these items the pamphlet contains suggestions for morning talks for all grades; tentative reading lists, with the names of the publishers of books included; and, in each chapter, a paragraph on the practice of thrift.

The summary of the aims of the leaflet will probably give the best idea of the outline.

1. To give the child a broad understanding of the specific facts and underlying principles of thrift.
2. To train the child in the habits of conservation and the wise use of all his resources.
3. To create through the schools a public sentiment in favor of thrift and economy, and through this public sentiment, to cultivate the national habit of thrift.

The War Loan Organization in Richmond will furnish these leaflets in any quantity, free of charge.

LEARNING TO MAKE MONEY ONLY HALF

Wise Spending is Also Essential According to War Savings Organization.

Learning how to make money is only half. It is learning how to spend wisely and save judiciously that counts.

Even saving does not necessarily mean wise spending, since the present day offers so many equivalents for our money. It is only by making a careful, systematic study of the household administration that a proper balance may be found between the different items in the average budget of the home.

There are items in every household on which too much money is spent. The fact must be faced that if too much is spent on clothing, for instance, less must be spent for other necessities of life.

Saving, however, is the item that should be most emphasized. Poor houses are full of people who did not have a savings item on their budgets. Unemployment, sickness, old age and many other demands necessitate a call on the reserve fund, the lack of which will result in suffering and want.

Every going enterprise is conducted on a system. If the home is to be a successful institution it must also comply with this wise rule of economics. Systematic household accounting will make a home more cheerful and prosperous. Household accounting alone, however, will never return its full benefit until it is backed by an intelligent family budget.

One must consider the problem of whether it is wiser to pay rent or to build a home. In a large measure this depends on local conditions as well as the size of the income.

Amusement and recreation are essential in family life. The child and the adult should have an allowance for this, though the total be very small, averaging from 4 to 5 per cent of the income of the family.

The wise spender plans the needs of the family so that the amount spent in the "miscellaneous" items will be as small as possible. This item should not be a "catch all" in home records.

MUCH JUNK FOUND BY VIRGINIA COMMUNITY

Thrift and junk business are booming at Emporia, Va. "It keeps me busy running to the post office to get Thrift Stamps to pay for all the salvage that is coming in now," said the proprietor of one of the junk shops. "Where all the junk comes from is a constant wonder. No one would have believed that so much stuff could have been hidden away in a town of this size."

Under the voluntary organization of Mrs. W. B. Goodwyn, of Emporia, all the housewives of the town have been conducting an organized salvage campaign, in accordance with the plans outlined by the War Loan Organization of the Fifth Federal Reserve District.

Salvage so collected is sold to the local junk dealer for its full value in Thrift Stamps. According to arrangements already made with most dealers in waste materials in the Fifth District, wagons will call for junk wherever a "Salvage" card is displayed. These cards have been distributed all over the State.

Not only has Emporia found that this organized campaign is resulting in a highly beneficial town "clean-up," but a source of economic welfare hardly known before has thus come to light.

The salvage campaign has proved so satisfactory in Emporia that junk wagons are now being run out to the surrounding towns.

MONEY MAKING MONEY.

One dollar put aside every week for five years will give you over $237; for ten years it will make $638. Of course, $2 a week will give you about double that, or for five years $575.09; and so on. Buy a lead pencil and figure on that. It will be one of the best investments you ever made.

Safety, increase and ready money are all provided by W. S. S. They can always be converted into cash on ten days' notice at the nearest post office.

GEO. C. ANDERSON SHOT BY NEGRO

Laurens, S. C., July 2, (Special)—Mr. Geo. C. Anderson, who lives between Waterloo and Mountville, was shot through the left jaw with a pistol by a negro hand on the place of Mr. Artemus Long Thursday evening about dusk. The bullet entered the jaw below the teeth, fracturing it and passing through his mouth to the right jaw where it knocked out two teeth and spent its force. It fell back into the pit of the mouth and was spit out upon the ground. The negro escaped and has not yet been apprehended.

It appears that the negro, Austin Griffin by name, had been upbraided by Mr. Artemus Long several days before for failure to perform his work in a proper manner and was doubtless nursing a grievance on this account. Thursday evening, Mr. Long went down to his farm, the Mandy Jones place, to look after some mules which were in the pasture. Mr. Anderson, with children of both, accompanied him. Arriving at the farm Mr. Long went to the pasture to look after the mules, leaving Mr. Anderson in the car with the children. Austin Griffin drove up in a buggy with another negro using vile and unwarranted language. Mr. Anderson told him to stop using such improper language in the presence of the children, but the negro continued without heeding the remonstrance. Mr. Anderson then got out of the car determined to put a stop to the cursing by force. He reached for the whip in the negro's buggy, but the negro drew a pistol from his pocket and shot twice. The first bullet missed its mark, but the second took effect. Mr. Anderson fell to the ground and the negro fled. Mr. Long, hearing the pistol shot, rushed back to find out the trouble. The negro was already nearly out of sight, driving at a furious pace, and Mr. Long had to give his attention to Mr. Anderson allowing the negro to escape entirely. Peace officers and civilians have made a close search for him since, but so far he has eluded arrest.

Mr. Anderson, though painfully, was not seriously wounded. He was able to return to the city Monday to have his wound treated.

KING GEORGE SENDS WILSON GREETINGS

American and Britain Forever Brothers in Arms, He Tells President. London, June 28.—King George has sent the following message to President Wilson:

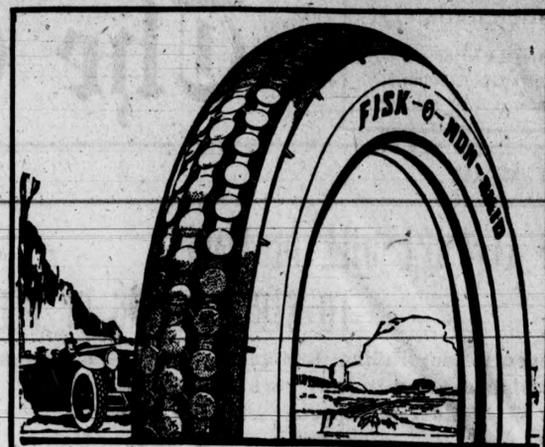

"In this glorious hour when the long struggle of nations for right, justice, and freedom is at last crowned by a triumphant peace, I greet you, Mr. President and the great American people in the name of the British nation.

"At a time when fortune seemed to frown and the issues of the war trembled in the balance, the American people stretched out the hands of fellowship to those who on this side of the ocean were battling for a righteous cause. Light and hope at once shone brighter in our hearts and a new day dawned.

"Together we have fought to a happy end; together we lay down our arms in proud consciousness of valiant deeds nobly done.

"Mr. President, it is on this day one of our happiest thoughts that the American and the British people, brothers in arms, will continue forever to be brothers in peace. United before by language, traditions, kinship and ideals, there has now been set upon our fellowship the sacred seal of common sacrifice."
