

SOCIETY.

Little Robert McLees invited a number of his little friends to his birthday party on Monday afternoon. After playing quite a number of games the guests were served all-day suckers, chewing gum, cream and cake, by Miss Mamie Lee Wright. Those who enjoyed being with Robert on his third birthday were: Katherine Davis, Virginia Kellers, Mary Howze Dillard, Virginia Spratt, Caroline Martin, Francis Bailey, Sara Wright, Agnes Milling, Chalmers Daniel, Robert Copeland, Bailey Williams, Dillard Ellis, John Davis, Jr., Robert Vance and Edgar Stanton.

The Mothers' Club had a delightful meeting on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. John Spratt. This was an unusually enjoyable meeting as it was the first musical program of their new year book. After a pleasant hour of talks on music composers, and instrumental music iced tea and sandwiches were served to the following guests: Mesdames A. V. Martin, Crawford Clapp, Frank Adair, Parks Adair, Lloyd McCrary, Will Dillard, Cyrus Bailey, A. J. Milling, Jno. W. Finny, and Sidney Denson.

Dr. and Mrs. James R. Copeland entertained a few friends at a course supper this week. Those who were present at this enjoyable occasion were: Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Jacobs, Mrs. Evie Burr, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. J. B. Townsend, of Anderson; Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Jacobs and little son, Dillard, of Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Emmie Robertson entertained the Knitting Club Wednesday afternoon. After an hour of pleasant conversation and sewing, the guests were served iced tea and sandwiches.

Mrs. A. J. Milling entertained Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock in honor of her niece, Miss Annie Milling, of Greenwood. When all of the guests had arrived, they were invited out on the lawn to fish in the pond. Each child caught a fish filled with a picnic lunch and after an hour's picnic they were served cream and cake. The guests were: Misses Annie Milling, Almena Milling, Frances Barrow, Mamie Lee Wright, Martha Young, Cleon Pitts, Elise Henry, Emma Little, Frances Bell, Bettie Woodworth and Frances McSwain.

Master Jack Jeans invited a number of little folks to spend a few hours with him on Monday afternoon. Pink and white flowers were used as decorations and various games were arranged for the children to play. After an hour of enjoyment cream and cake were served. Those who enjoyed being with Jack on his sixth birthday were: Little Misses Margurite and Jeanette Boland, Christine Sowers, Nettie Ruth Duckett, Ida Mae Hunter, of Laurens, Lillie Lake and Laura Plowding, of Greenwood; Masters J. D. Boland, Jr., Jean Knox, James and Robert Jeans, George Flanagan, George Shepard and Yeldell Grimes, of Greenwood.

An occasion of much interest was the Drummond family reunion at the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. L. W. Bailey here, on July 4th. The splendid grove with its grand oaks and deep carpet of green, aided much in the entertainment of the crowd. The weather was ideal and about one o'clock the table in the grove was the center of attraction and everything from barbecued meat to the delicacies were found there. Three generations, composed of fifty-two persons were gathered there, two of whom were Mrs. Bailey's brothers, Lieuts. Frank and James Drummond, who have just returned from France. It is most remarkable that in connection with this family of brothers and sisters, there was not a broken link in the attendance.
