Miss Emma Hipp entertained on Tuesday evening in honor of the K&L Kare Klub. This was the first meeting of this club since the closing of school as quite a number of the teachers were charter members. Miss Hipp entertained in an elaborate and elegant manner. Covers were laid for fourteen and a four-course luncheon was served by Misses Gertrude and Alliene Hipp. Pink and white were used as a color scheme and a vase of beautiful pink carnations as a centerpiece proved quite effective. The guests invited were: Mrs. Irby Hipp, Mrs. M. B. Hipp, Misses Caroline Caldwell, Edna Clayton, Leila Edwards, Emmie Robertson, Dorcas Mason, Jessie Dillard, Edith Austin, Maggie Finney, Elise Spencer, Maude Sumerel, Frances Garvin and Lois Caldwell.

Miss Connie Martin entertained several couples of rook players on Tuesday evening. The following guests are indebted to Miss Martin for an evening of great enjoyment: Misses Dorcas Mason, Emmie Robertson, Nancy Owens, Elise Spencer, Jessie Dillard, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jacobs, Jr., Messrs. Len Rounds, Al Bricie, R. K. Frick, Walter Richbourg, and Claude Workman.

Mrs. W. P. Jacobs entertained the Knitting Club on Thursday afternoon and served to her guests an elegant salad course. The guests present were: Misses Jessie Dillard, Dorcas Mason, Emmie Robertson, Mittie Young, Mesdames John Young, Cyrus Bailey, Ferdinand Jacobs and Kenneth Burdette.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Copeland invited a few friends to dinner on Tuesday evening. Those invited to spend this pleasant evening were: Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Copeland, Prof. and Mrs. A. V. Martin and Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Coleman entertained at bridge and rook on Wednesday evening. The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Bailey, Mrs. J. W. Copeland, Miss Jessie Dillard, Mrs. J. K. Hatton, Mrs. John Little. Mrs. Coleman served delicious cream, cake and candy, and the evening was one of much pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Coleman again delightfully entertained at rook on Thursday evening. Tables had been arranged for ten couples and much merriment was caused throughout the games by the high bidding. Mrs. Coleman served candy, cream and angel cake to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Jacobs, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Chandler, Mrs. Frank Kellers, Miss Maude Sumerel, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Adair, Mrs. Will Owens, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dillard.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Donnan entertained in a delightful manner at a four-course dinner. Miss Ethel Davidson assisted Mrs. Donnan in entertaining. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Irby Hipp, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ware, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Baldwin and Mrs. Claude Vaughn.

Mrs. D. W. Mason and Mrs. Julia Griffin entertained at a beautiful morning party at the home of Mrs. Julia Griffin on Tuesday. One hundred and twenty-five guests were invited and tables were arranged for seventy-five who were pleasantly entertained by playing rook. The guests were met by Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Griffin and invited to the punch bowl which was presided over by Misses Dorcas Mason and Emmie Robertson. Miss Susan Moody and Master Fleming Mason assisted in keeping scores and Misses Mary Stokes, Emmie Robertson and Colette Griffin pleased the guests with a number of vocal and instrumental selections. Mrs. Jodie Chandler, Miss Dorcas Mason and Miss Emmie Robertson, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Griffin served an elegant salad course with iced tea.

Misses Agnes and Mary Henry and Mr. Edward Henry entertained on Tuesday evening. One hundred and fifty guests were invited, and the progressive conversation made the time pass only too quickly to assuage the grief they experienced pleasure and throughout the hours from nine until twelve.

Mrs. Charlie Wallace and Miss May Owens served a refreshing fruit punch. Later Misses Agnes, Mary and Elise Henry and Miss May Owens served cones of cream. The out-of-town guests were: Miss Carrie Fleming, Cecil Roper, Nash Philpot and Laurens Philpot of Laurens, Miss Eugenia Drennan of Richburg, Miss Margaret Motte of Atlanta and Miss Frances Beard of Texas.

Miss Irene Wilburn entertained on last Thursday night at a supper in honor of her guest, Miss Edna King, of Pelham, Ga. After supper the evening was spent in playing rook and a jolly time was had by those present.

SEN. DIAL CATCHING ON.

Newberry Paper Says the Senator Seems to have Made a "Killing" with the Newspaper Correspondents.

Senator N. B. Dial seems to have made a "killing" with the newspaper correspondents of Washington, says the Newberry Herald and News in writing editorially of the senator's activity in Washington. It goes on further to say that the senator seems to be on the job in other respects and hands him a little bouquet in the judgeship appointment.

The following is how the Newberry paper speaks of these things: "Senator Dial seems to have made a 'killing' with the newspaper correspondents over in Washington, especially those of our papers down in this neck of the woods. He gets 'played up' nearly every day. It may be that he is doing big things up in Washington, and we hope that he is, but we sometimes wonder what has become of 'Cotton' Smith, and if we have any congressmen over there from down in South Carolina. Mr. Dial seemed to be the only one who had anything to do with the appointment of a judge, and he was satisfied that he had done the right thing after he looked over the list of applicants, and that is something worth while. And we reckon he was right.

And we notice that he is going to have something done about these postmastership appointments down here that have been held up so long. And really just the other day there were several appointments sent in. Newberry will have attention very soon, we suspect."
