Ever wonder why we believe in good service?

It's because we know the more we do for you the better you'll like us.

And the oftener you'll come in.

We run our store to please you because that makes business for us.

We know you like groceries delivered to your door, so we maintain a good delivery service.

We know you like the best of everything for your table, so we keep that kind of groceries in stock.

We know you can't come to the store sometimes, so we have two telephones for your convenience. We know you are not a grocer yourself so we give you the benefit of our thorough knowledge of groceries.

For example, it isn't easy for you to know all about baking powder; what they are made of, what they will do, which ones are most efficient and economical.

We do know baking powder and when we recommend one to you we do so because we are sure you will be pleased with it.
