furniture

Dear Amy:

When I wrote you last I thought I had furniture enough, but Baby John soils his dresses so often that I had to buy another chiffonier just to keep his things in. He so much enjoys having one of the drawers for his playthings.

My, but doesn't a chiffonier help you keep the house in order!

Your pal'

Lou.

P.S. I saw so many pretty things for the home when I bought my chiffonier. Of course you are going to see them at

MOST REMARKABLE COUNTY IN STATE

BAMBERG COUNTY SETTLEMENT WITH STATE TREASURER IS MADE IN RECORD TIME.

BOOKS WERE IN FINE SHAPE

Balance on Hand for Both School and County Purposes Amounts to Neat Sum of More Than $33,000.

Bamberg.—The annual settlement for Bamberg county was made with the county treasurer, county auditor and superintendent of education and county supervisor, Rut L. Osborne, comptroller general, and his chief clerk, H. F. Jackson, witnessing the settlement. It took only a short while to complete the work, as the officers had all records in fine shape and it was not necessary to change a figure which affected the final balance, as follows on July 1: Balance on hand for county purposes, $23,554.16; for school purposes, $9,847.47.

Bamberg county is out of debt and has been for many years. Several of the school districts carry bonded indebtedness, but this does not affect the school or county funds.

Beaufort.—The quartermaster's department at Parris' Island has started the construction of a road from the training camp to the sea going depot. The road bed will be of oyster shells, covered with gravel and over the surface of the gravel will be a coating of road oil.

Greenville.—A commission was issued by W. Banks Dove, secretary of state, for Capt. Sam D. Willis, appointed sheriff of Greenville county several days ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hendrix Receptor. Captain Willis was in attendance upon the meeting of peace officers called by Governor Cooper.

Sumter.—The most important transaction that has happened here in a long time is the closing of negotiations between city council and the management of the Sumter Lighting Company for the purchase of the plant by this city, the consideration being $235,000. The property is to change hands September 1.

Laurens.—The contract for rebuilding the operatives' houses at the Laurens Cotton Mill village has been awarded. One hundred and forty cottages are to be erected, taking the places of the old ones which number about 180. The new ones will be of a larger type and will be provided with all modern conveniences, electric lights and a complete water system.

Newberry.—Fire on the outside platforms of the Standard Warehouse Company burned over about 250 bales of cotton. When the blaze was discovered it was very small, but in a little while it had spread over many square yards of space and was sending a blaze high up into the air. The fire company responded promptly to the alarm and the firemen worked like Trojans and soon had the blaze out.

Kingstree.—The doors of Kingstree's four great tobacco warehouses are wide open to receive the never ending stream of wagons laden with the golden weed, while there are still rows and rows of giant green plants standing lazily and motionless in fields, full of new deep color as a result of the recent rains, awaiting their time to turn golden and follow the "primings" to the warehouses.

Florence.—Thorough harmony prevailed throughout the session here, at which the State branch of the American Legion was permanently organized. The delegates evinced the greatest enthusiasm and earnestness in the proceedings. Former officers and enlisted men stood upon the same footing in the deliberations. The high order of the representation sent from the various counties was particularly noticeable.

Cruelty to Animals.

Gaffney.—Sheriff Thomas went to Wilkinsville, in Cherokee county to investigate a case of cruelty which is said to have no parallel in the annals of the county. He found, after investigation, that someone had tied a mule to a tree in a barren spot, where the poor animal was left without food or water for more than a day, and that the animal had been shot three times. The sheriff has not as yet been able to locate the person or persons, who committed the crime.

Rock Hill Paving.

Rock Hill.—A meeting of the business men of this city was held at the city hall to hear Gilbert C. White, a well-known engineer of Durham, N. C., discuss the question of street paving and civic improvements in general and the application of modern ideas to the needs of Rock Hill. It is proposed to spend $450,000 for street paving in this city and an election to authorize the issue of bonds to raise funds for this purpose will be held at an early date, at which all these questions will be settled.

PULSING LIFE OF PIEDMONT

REPORTS FROM MANY POINTS IN PIEDMONT BELT SHOW INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY.

Greenville.—Flourishing business prevails, money is more plentiful, higher wages obtain, cotton mills are making larger returns than ever before and the Piedmont section of upper South Carolina is teeming with the greatest prosperity since the declaration of war more than two years ago, according to a statement of F. O. Dudley, local manager for the Bradstreet company. Numerous concerns throughout the Piedmont recently have been organized and expect to be in readiness for the fall business on or about September 1, Mr. Dudley said, this number being in excess of the number which usually begins business at this season. Soldiers are being placed in positions almost as fast as they return and the unemployment problem here has never assumed any perplexing proportion.

Not only are new comers preparing for business, but there have been fewer failures reported than formerly. Within the last 90 days there has not been a single bankruptcy reported to the Greenville office, which covers eight counties in the Piedmont section. At no time before has this condition existed, Mr. Dudley said, and this is to be taken that the business of the nation, and particularly of this section, is getting on a sound footing. Within the last week new banks have been organized at Clemson College and at Gray Court, both of which are within 40 miles of this city. Each bank will be ready for business by September 1 and each is located in a prosperous farming section.

Gaffney Bonds Sell Well.

Gaffney.—The Continental Trust Company, of Macon, Ga., has brought Cherokee's $125,000 worth of road bonds, paying therefor par plus accrued interest, and a premium of $1,439.25. The bonds draw 5 per cent interest and run for a period of 20 years.

The highway commission took an important step at its meeting Wednesday when it decided to establish two crews for the maintenance of the roads which have already been built and for those which are in process of construction. Additional crews will be established when it becomes necessary. The commission also decided to build a road from the national highway to the Cherokee Falls Manufacturing Company on Broad river.

Delay in Mill Building.

York.—Decision to indefinitely postpone the building of the Walmore Thread Mills; a new enterprise which was to be capitalized at $500,000 was made at a meeting of the stockholders. This action was the result of changed conditions since the movement to establish the mill was begun, chief of which were rapid advances in the price of building material and machinery. At the meeting deciding against the present building of the mill, the stockholders passed a resolution in which they agreed to renew their subscriptions at whatever time the promoters of the project may deem it advisable to proceed with the enterprise.

Ancient Masonic Gavel.

Laurens.—At the regular meeting of Palmetto Lodge No. 19, A. F. M., a gavel with a unique history was formally presented to the lodge by Col. R. E. Babb, a past worshipful master of Palmetto. Colonel Babb briefly related the history of the origin and existence of the mallet.

The gavel given to the Palmetto lodge was sent from France a few weeks ago by Dr. Isadore Schayer, who has been over there for more than a year, attached to a medical corps, and whose rank is that of a captain. Dr. Schayer is a native of Laurens and a member of Palmetto lodge.

The mallet was made from a piece of timber from a beam of the first Knight Templar chapel ever built. This chapel was erected at Bure le Templier, France, in 1118, according to the records as given to Dr. Schayer, who visited the place several times, he says in his note explaining the interesting relic and its origin.

Walterboro People Heard.

Walterboro.—The hearing held here by the South Carolina Railroad Commission is expected to help the schedules to and from Walterboro. Quite a large crowd of interested persons were present at the hearing, which had been arranged by Senator Padgett upon the refusal of the railroads to stop their through trains at Green Pond to comply with a law passed at the recent session of the legislature, Senator Padgett being the author of the law. The full commission was present.

Saluda Enters Suit.

Saluda.—Saluda county has instituted suit for $8,700 damages against the Reid Hardware Company of Lincoln, N. C., agents for the Hart-Parr Company of Charles City, Iowa, and has attached four Hart-Parr tractors from the Reid company. The county some time ago bought three old style tractors from the Reid company, for which cash was paid. According to Supervisor Langford, these tractors have failed to come up to the guarantee and the company has refused to make adjustment.
