NOT OPPOSED TO WORLD COTTON CONGRESS

Wannamaker Sends Message to New Orleans Man Defining Attitude of Subject. Reports Circulated of His Opposition.

New Orleans, July 25.—Cotton producers will not oppose the world cotton conference which is to be held here in October, according to W. B. Thompson, of New Orleans, late today in making public a telegram from J. N. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton Association.

The Wannamaker telegram was sent from Atlanta today after a two-day conference there of the cotton association. It follows:

"We regret exceedingly that the impression has been formed that we are fighting the World Cotton Conference. We have not pitched any fight on the conference. However, as a result of your telegrams, the entire matter has been adjusted."

It was reported that the association was suspicious of the coming world conference in regard to lowering the price of cotton.

Although it was reported that the board of directors adopted a resolution that no member of the American Cotton Association should at this time become identified with the World's Cotton convention, President Wannamaker in his communication to Mr. Thompson, who was active in the organization of the association, referred to a resolution only which was for confining efforts of the organization to a membership campaign and which gave notice of the decision to drop any talk in opposition to the world conference.

Word was received here today by Mr. Thompson that President Wilson had signed a joint resolution authorizing invitations to other nations to send delegates to the cotton conference.

NEXT UNION SERVICE.

The Union service next Sunday evening will be held in the First Baptist church and Dr. Dudley Jones of the First Presbyterian church will preach.

People tell us our store is different

Of course it's different.

Because it's a service grocery. It's not just a store where groceries are sold.

It's a place where everything is done to make buying groceries a real pleasure.

A big stock of goods things to eat. Courteous, intelligent clerks who understand their business thoroughly. Prompt deliveries.

A telephone that is always open to you.

A place where you can have a charge account if you so desire.

A store that sells quality goods which it can recommend without the slightest fear or hesitation. To illustrate what we mean, just consider the question of baking powder. It's only a small part of our entire business but we consider it a most important feature.

Because baking powder plays such a vital part in the preparation of food in your home. If it isn't good it can ruin a great amount of good material. Therefore the baking powder we recommend must be good—so good that we won't have the slightest chance of displeasing a customer.
