

Just come in and see our new furniture.

Dear Amy:

I didn't think I needed any furniture, but I got an invitation from the leading reliable furniture store in town to "just come in and look around."

I went and was so tempted by the beautiful, serviceable new things I saw, that I bought a whole wagon load.

The prices were so reasonable and the things so pretty that I just could't help it. I got a nice new, little chair for Baby John; he's so destructive.

Ta-Ta,

Lou.

P.S.—The store I went to was

Deer Season Changed.

Federal legislation has changed the open season for shooting doves from September 16 to October 16 as the opening dates for sportsmen in South Carolina and thereby brought about a conflict with the State law, according to Wade Hampton Gibbs, state game warden. The South Carolina law was made to conform with the federal migratory bird treaty act by the 1919 general assembly of the State, but since that time United States agents have notified Mr. Gibbs that the open season under federal law is from October 16 to January 31, inclusive.

Warning to Delinquents.

Rut L. Osborne, comptroller general, has furnished the office of Sam M. Wolfe, attorney general, a list of the corporations of the State that have thus far failed to comply with the state statute as to annual license fees. Mr. Wolfe is directing a letter to all these corporations, advising what the requirements of the state laws are.

Trade Acceptance Corporation.

Preliminary steps will probably be taken in the next few days looking to the formation in South Carolina of a trade acceptance corporation with a sufficient capital for handling distressed cotton in this state. A resolution calling on the president of the State Bankers' Association and the presidents of the Columbia and Charleston chambers of commerce to call a conference of bankers and business men for this purpose was passed at the big cotton convention here.

Military Science Professor.

Maj. W. E. Duvall, regular army officer, has been assigned to the University of South Carolina as professor of military science and tactics succeeding Maj. A. W. Chairsell, emergency officer, who will be relieved of duty September 30, according to information from the war department reaching President Currell.

NO AUTHORITY TO FIX FARES

In Matter of Columbia, the General Assembly Only Has Power to Interfere in Street Car Rates.

Columbia.—Morris C. Lumpkin, assistant attorney general, has given an opinion, in which he holds that the city council of Columbia has no authority to amend the franchise of the Columbia Railway, Gas & Electric Company so as to regulate street car fares.

Recently the company increased its fares from five cents to seven cents. When the matter was referred to the city council the council found that there was no provision in the franchise which empowered the council to interfere with rate making. An ordinance was immediately introduced to grant the council this authority, which ordinance is now pending. Before taking final action, the attorney general's office was asked for an opinion.

The streets of Columbia are the property of the state and the original grant or franchise was given by the state legislature. The original franchise was for a period of 30 years. This expired in 1918 and was then renewed in perpetuity, and the opinion of the attorney general is opinion that any authority to interfere with rate making would have to come from the general assembly.

Columbia.—B. P. Campbell of Newberry was accidentally shot by his brother and was brought to the Baptist Hospital later in the evening. The bullet took effect in the abdomen. His condition is thought to be serious.

St. George.—There was a gathering of representative farmers from every section of Dorchester county in St. George for the purpose of organizing a branch of the American Cotton Association.

Clemson College.—The extension service at Clemson College is attempting to bring farmers together for co-operative purchase of carload lots of wire fencing as a further step in advancing live stock growing in South Carolina.

Greenville.—The strike of shopmen and sub-station tenders of the southern division of Piedmont and Northern lines, caused the suspension of all freight and through train passenger service, except between Greenville and Anderson.

Orangeburg.—Work will soon commence upon the erection of an annex to St. Paul's Methodist Church Sunday school building, which annex will be known as the "R. E. Wannamaker Sunday School Annex." This building will cost approximately $10,000 and will fill a needed want.

Columbia.—Approximately $240,365 was lost during the July floods and over $450,000 saved by timely warnings of the United States weather bureau says the July report of Richard H. Sullivan, meteorologist, issued recently. The largest damages were wrought in the Edisto River basin with estimated losses of $207,250.

Charleston.—Three arrests have been made by federal authorities of Atlantic Coast Line employees, who are charged with larceny of interstate freight. There may be other arrests in connection with this case, which is said to be similar to one in which several Seaboard employees were convicted at the June term of court.

Rowesville.—During a severe thunder storm lightning struck Rowesville cotton warehouse and set fire to the cotton. The warehouse and contents were destroyed. It is understood that over 300 bales were in the warehouse at time of fire. The warehouse was under state supervision and all cotton was insured.

Gaffney.—Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. Sarratt received a message from army headquarters at Douglas, Ariz., telling them of a serious injury to their son, Walter, which had just occurred in an automobile smash-up. None of the particulars were obtainable, and Mr. and Mrs. Sarratt are almost frantic. The young man has been in the army about 18 months.

Negro Celebration in Cheraw. Cheraw.—The negroes of Chesterfield and Marlboro counties held a celebration here in honor of more than 200 soldiers of their race recently returned from France. Addresses were made by Col. E. W. Duvall and the Rev. A. H. McArn and Bishop Clinton, a negro preacher of Charlotte. The latter gave his race some advice and urged goodwill and co-operation between the races.

Cashier Commits Suicide. Camden.—Henry F. Clyburn, a well known citizen of Kershaw and cashier of the Peoples Bank of that place, ended his own life at his home. He had been unwell for some time, but went to the bank as usual. Upon his return to his home for breakfast he went into his room and placed a pistol in his mouth and fired. He is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Rosa Stover, and three children. He also leaves four brothers and one sister, all prominent citizens of this county.

New Daily Paper. Orangeburg.—The Times and Democrat, one of the most enterprising county newspapers in this state, has decided to issue a daily newspaper at Orangeburg beginning September 1. This paper was organized in Orangeburg by Jas. L. Sims, now United States marshal. The paper is now published by Jas. Izlar Sims and edited by Henry R. Sims and Hugo S. Sims. The Times and Democrat promises to get out an interesting daily paper and its success will be watched with great interest.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Roysse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.
