ASSOCIATION'S FAST FINISH IN THE DRIVE

WONDERFUL SUCCESS SECURING NEW MEMBERS OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA COTTON ASSN.

WORK WAS PLEASANT AND EASY

In Addition to Enthusiasm and Unity of Purpose Was the Incentive of Local and County Pride.

Columbia.

A statement given out at headquarters of the South Carolina Cotton Association says that from all over South Carolina reports came telling of the wonderful success of the three day campaign for members of the association. Absolute confidence that the state's quota of 50,000 members would be reached was expressed by officials of the association.

The work of the canvassers is pleasant and easy.

"Added to this enthusiasm and unity of purpose of the individual citizens is the great incentive of county pride everywhere. In laudable zeal each county is determined to be first to finish its complete organization. And South Carolina would like to set in this great work a shining example to the other cotton states that under trained experts are equally as determined as she is to enroll as members of the association every eligible citizen and corporation and to join with her in presenting one solid front in the struggle for the great and sure victory.

Cotton Crop Unpromising.

A letter from Commissioner Harris, who has been out in Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas, leading the fight there for the organization of the American Cotton Association, states that he will be home during the present week. He has found the crops in bad condition and will issue a statement on his return to Columbia.

In the meantime he urges the people to keep their new crop of cotton out of the gins until it gets its growth and to put no cotton at all on the market. Mr. Harris' statement recently that cotton will grow after it is picked and will take on weight as well as length of staple has attracted quite a lot of attention. Many farmers say that they have observed this in their experience. Mr. Harris says that it should be put in the barn four or five weeks before being ginned.

Second Primary September 9.

Returns, which are practically complete, from the Sixth and Seventh Congressional Districts, bear out the early indications that a second race would be necessary for each nomination. E. C. Mann of St. Matthews and George Bell Timmerman of Lexington run for the Democratic choice to succeed Mr. Lever, and P. H. Stoll of Kingstree and E. C. Sherwood of Conway make the race for the nomination to succeed the late J. Willard Ragsdale. Mr. McInnes is a very close third. Second primaries will be held in each district September 9.

Good Investment Offered.

The series of Series C-1920 treasury certificates of indebtedness bearing interest at 4 1/2 per cent, dated September 2, 1919, is announced. These certificates are free from all State, county, city and local taxes except estate or inheritance taxes, and free from normal and federal income taxes.

This security bears a yield equivalent to that derived from a 6 per cent and 7 per cent taxable security. It may be had in the denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000.

Souvenir for State.

Governor Cooper has received a letter from Pinckney W. H. Lee of Martin, Tennessee, in which letter the Tennesseean offers to send to the chief executive the skillet used by Gen. Francis Marion, South Carolina's great Revolutionary war leader. Mr. Lee was a member of the Union forces in the War Between the Sections and is now in his 80th year.

Case for Civil Court.

Another chapter was written in the case of the state of South Carolina against the Columbia Railway, Gas & Electric Company when a unanimous opinion was handed down, confirming the opinion of Judge Townsend in which a demurrer by the company was denied. The force of the opinion is that the case to cause the canal property to revert to the state because of alleged failure to comply with conditions under which the property was sold must now go to trial on its merit before a jury in the civil court.

Debt of College Paid.

Clemson College has repaid to the state the loan which it made in 1916, by payment of $40,000 under date of August 16, to the Palmetto National Bank of Columbia. The total loan was for $62,400. The first payment of $21,644 was made during 1916, after which the legislature changed the terms of payment so that the college might have five years, if desired, in which to complete payment. Since 1916 the college has been putting aside every year $10,000 or more towards the final payment.

Increase in Corporation Fees.

Rut L. Osborne, comptroller general, has given out the following information with regard to the corporation license fees collected by his office for 1919:

The fees collected to date from foreign and domestic corporations for 1919 show an increase of $5,188.12, the amount collected being $107,007.90 against $101,819.78 for 1918.

The law requires every corporation doing business in the state to make a report and secure a license from the comptroller general. The fee paid for this license is based upon the paid in capital, being one-half of 1 per cent on same, with a minimum fee of $5. There are between 4,000 and 5,000 corporations doing business in the state, the majority of these paying the minimum fee. Cotton mills, banks and foreign corporations pay approximately 55 per cent of the total amount collected.

Since the enactment of the corporation law these fees have more than doubled. The amount collected in 1906, the first year, was $42,429.48. Corporations failing to make a report or pay the license fee to the comptroller general for collection and Attorney General Wolfe has made a special effort to collect those placed in his hands this year, and there remain very few now that have not complied with the law. Suit will be entered against those.

Bleese Will Not Run.

Cole L. Bleese issued a statement in which he said he would not be a candidate for congress in the Seventh district in the general election. He said he had not been nor would be a candidate.

July 29 he announced his candidacy in the general election, issued his platform and called on his followers to stay away from the primary that they might "not be bound" by the primary oath.

Major Peebles Transferred.

Washington.—(Special)—Thomas H. Peebles of South Carolina, who received a commission some time ago as major in the army and who is now on duty in this city, has been transferred to the war board of appeals to handle claims growing out of the war under the Dent bill. In this capacity Major Peebles will be chief counsel. There are many claims of contractors which remain to be settled.

His new duties will take him to various parts of the United States from time to time.

Negro Enters Damage Suit.

John Castor, negro, has filed suit against R. E. Lee, member of the Columbia Railway, Gas & Electric Company. The officer and corporation are made defendants in a complaint alleging injuries and damages to the amount of $10,000 is asked for.

The complaint alleges that on or about November 24, 1918, the plaintiff was a passenger on a trolley car and that while being ejected he was shot several times. Permanent and serious injuries are alleged.

Taxes Collected in Full.

Rut L. Osborne, comptroller general, has returned to Columbia after being absent witnessing annual settlements for the greater part of the week. Mr. Osborne visited the counties of Chester, York, Lancaster, Kershaw and Chesterfield.

The comptroller general reports that in Lancaster county all delinquent taxes had been collected on June 30, and he found no executions whatever in Sheriff Hunter's hands, he having collected same and made a final report to the county treasurer prior to June 30.

Preparing to Fight Flu.

Dr. J. A. Hayne, state health officer, says that very soon plans will have been flushed to meet any emergency should there be an epidemic of influenza in this or any of the Southern states.

At a recent meeting of the state health officers Dr. Ennon G. Williams, state commissioner of health of Virginia, Dr. W. S. Rankin, state health officer of North Carolina, were appointed a committee to prepare plans to combat any epidemic of influenza should such occur.

Securing Census Facts.

H. R. Dickens, special agent of the bureau of the census for the federal government, is busy in the office of the comptroller general, getting facts in regard to the financial conditions of the various towns and cities.

Each town and city in the state will be or has been visited by representatives of the federal government for this purpose.

A report on the financial condition of the various municipalities is made to the census bureau each year and the facts thus obtained are published.

Pharmacists Association.

Druggists from Richland and Kershaw counties met at the city hall and organized a district association. F. S. Earle was chosen resident and F. K. Otis was elected secretary.

The pharmacists were planning to affiliate with the state association and a committee will be appointed to prepare rules and regulations. The association will hold regular meetings to discuss matters concerning the welfare of the drug business. The meeting was attended by leading druggists.
