BUILD CHAIN OF WAREHOUSES

Several Members of the Spartanburg Cotton Association Are Planning Beneficent Enterprise.

Spartanburg.—Members of the Spartanburg Cotton Association, now in process of organization in this county, have subscribed $124,000 for stock in a corporation to erect in this county a system of warehouses owned by the members of the association. The subscribers pledged themselves to raise additional stock amounting to $300,000. The plan is to build in the county seven warehouses, one in the city of Spartanburg and the other distributed over the county.

Newberry.—The first bale of new cotton was sold in Newberry by Arthur P. Werts of the Silverstreet section. He sold two bales, one weighing 488 pounds and the other 455. They brought 30 cents a pound.

Clemson College.—The premium list of the Boys' Corn Club department of the State fair has been announced by L. L. Baker, supervising agent of boys' club work, who hopes to make this department larger and better this year than ever before.

Batesburg.—The town of Batesburg has employed Nisbet Wingfield of Augusta, Ga., as engineer for the water, sewer and street improvements. According to present plans work will soon be under way.

Graniteville.—Relatives and friends of Miss Lullie Giles, who has served so faithfully as postmistress here for many years, regret that on account of a recent illness, Miss Giles has given up her work permanently and has gone to Greenwood to make her home.

Barnwell.—The boll weevil is being found in widely separated districts in the county, a letter received here from a farmer at Meyer's Mill stating that the pest had been found in two fields near that place. It is also understood that the weevil has been found near Williston.

Greenville.—The fourth conviction for murder, carrying the death sentence, in as many days, occurred in court of general sessions for Greenville County when Tobe Abercrombie was convicted of killing his son.

York.—Capt. George C. McCelvey, winner of the American Distinguished Service Cross for heroism in action while a member of the American expeditionary force in France, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French government in recognition of his gallantry on this occasion.

Florence.—Nearly 1,500 people attended the auction sale of the Mary McKnight place. The plantation, containing about 930 acres, had been cut into small farms. Every tract was sold, the aggregate price being $140,000. This is one of the largest land sales that has ever been pulled off in the county.

Laurens.—Excellent progress is being made in the construction work on the highways selected for improvement by the state and county highway commissions. The first project, 18 miles known as the Laurens-Princeton Road, is more than one-third graded now and some of the first work has been topsoiled.

Hartsville.—Fred McFarlen, about 22 years of age, was drowned here. He was an employee of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and his home was in Florence. He came to Hartsville and went with a friend in bathing in Black Creek Lake. The young men had only been in a few minutes when the tragedy occurred.

Greenville.—Contending that in killing Sheriff Hendrix Rector, Jake Gosnell was not acting under the authority of the revenue laws or under the color of his office, the state of South Carolina through its attorney filed its notice to counsel for Gosnell that as soon as it can be heard, it will move that the trial of Gosnell on a charge of murder be remanded from the federal court to the court of general sessions for Greenville county.

To Mark War Site.

York.—The site of what was known as Hill's iron works, where small cannon and other crude weapons were made for the patriots during the revolutionary war, will be marked by an inexpensive but appropriate monument to be unveiled in October, according to the plans of the Kings Mountain chapter of the D. A. R. The plant derived its name from its owner, Col. William Hill. The iron works were destroyed in 1780 by a combined force of British and Tories.

How to take the H. C. L. out of clothes buying for fall

CLOTHES are higher priced; all of them—good or bad. The poor ones cost about the same as the good ones—not much difference any more.

Here's some good advice; take it from us; don't try to "beat the game," and pay the lowest price; you will get poor quality; the clothes won't last and your "High Cost of Living" will go up several notches.

Here's the right way; get good quality; pay for it; wear and service you get saves for you and reduces the H. C. L.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes do it; they're made to give wear; your money's worth; satisfaction or your money back.
