CLEAN UP THAT BACK YARD

Matter of Importance That Does Not Always Seem to Be Given Consideration.

At various seasons we women faithfully scour our homes from attic to cellar, and then stop at the back door leading to the yard, which, after all, is a kind of outdoor room not always fully appreciated.

Many a woman most fastidious where the house proper is concerned tolerates a surprising degree of untidiness in the back garden. Accumulations of house and garden trash are not only eyesores, but positive menaces to health. If you have been lax in the past, get busy with broom and bucket before the rubbish collectors make their next round.

Dig into the corners, particularly the dark, damp angles under porch or shed. Let in the sunlight! Sunlight is the greatest purifier known. Get rid, if possible, of the tall wooden fences which often surround even tiny yards scarcely big enough to stretch a sheet across. Grass and flowers refuse to grow in the rank shade, but snails and microbes flourish amazingly. Let in the health-giving sunshine; keep the yard neat and you should worry about the public gaze!

Let the children help in the work. Bid them round up stray clothespins, tin cans, old brooms and milk bottles. Don't make a clothes-prop rack of the lilac bush, nor a dishcloth drier of your shrubs. Dig up plantain and dandelion weeds from the grass while digging is good. It will be doubly hard later in the hot sun when the roots are stronger.

Don't let tradesmen take short cuts across your little grass plot, even if you have to set up wire guards, which are less unsightly than bald patches in the grass. Don't let the withered flower stalks of the iris now blooming hang around all summer. Keep the borders neat by cutting all withered leaves and flowers. Set a trash barrel in an unobtrusive corner. Teach the children to throw into it all refuse not suitable for the garbage pail. Tell the kiddies you take pride in your tidy, pretty garden and they will take pleasure in helping the good work along.—Philadelphia Record.

NOW GOOD TIME TO BUILD

Many Reasons Why Those Who Are Thinking of Construction Should Get It Started.

Building done these days is quite certain to be good building; better than the average quality in times when real estate improvements are more actively carried on. This is a point worth considering as an offset, in part, to high prices for material and high wages in the building trades.

Contractors are sure to take unusual pains to please those who give them business. They are not obliged, as they have been, at times, to put up with almost any labor, however incompetent, that can be found, even among tramps and idlers. There have been periods, such as the last year of the war, when the standards were so lowered that almost anyone who could and would work at all was eagerly hired for service which needed painstaking intelligence.

All the way through the various trades that contribute to the building of a dwelling or a business block there is a strong desire to make the work done so satisfactory that it will lead to more employment. All who have anything to do with real estate improvements are anxious to promote a revival of construction, on the largest possible scale.

These facts are important. They are worthy of consideration by all who are dealing with building problems.—Exchange.

Proper Homes Important.

To provide proper homes for the people is one of the worthiest objects of human endeavor. Proper housing conditions have been regarded as the basis upon which all other reforms and betterments must rest. Without decent home surroundings, light and air, proper sanitation, we do not have good citizens. All of this has been said many times before. The surprising thing is that in this country, at least, there has been comparatively little interest in it among well-to-do who desire to aid with their wealth the wellbeing of their fellow men. Money expended now in building serves a double purpose, meets a coincident need, the need for employment and housing.

City Manager Plan in Kansas.

Kansas is said to have more cities with a commission form of government than any other state, and it also has three cities where the city manager plan of government is in successful operation. One of the latter is McCracken, a little city in the western edge of Rush county, with a population of only 371 persons. It adopted the commission-manager form of city government and on May 7 the commissioners took over the city affairs. The first act was to elect Leonard L. Ryan of McCracken as city manager. He will have complete charge of all the business affairs of the city.—Christian Science Monitor.

REASONS FOR OWNING HOME

Fourteen Points That Will Not Cause So Much Controversy as Another Famous Set.

1. In the long run the home owner is more prosperous than the renter.
2. The home owner is permanent; the shifter does little good to his city or himself.
3. The home owner is progressive; the renter is not interested in progressive movements.
4. Habits of thrift learned in home buying add to the wealth of the individual and the city.
5. The home owner beautifies the city; the renter does not.
6. Other things being equal, the home owner is a better worker than the renter and keeps his position after the renter is discharged.
7. The owner of a home has an ever present protection against poverty and will not become a charge upon the community.
8. No city of renters can ever succeed. No nation of tenants ever became great.
9. A city that is worth living in is worth owning a home in.
10. Other things being equal, the home owner is a better citizen, a better soldier, a better American than the renter.
11. The prosperity of any city depends upon the prosperity of its individual citizens.
12. The more beautiful our city is the more people will be attracted to it.
13. Home owners add to the buying power of a municipality. Tenants detract.
14. Self-respect and independence are the greatest assets in life. Health and happiness are the children of success.

NURSERY-GROWN TREES BEST

Excellent Reasons Why Wild Varieties Are Not Suitable for Growth in Cities.

Digging wild trees for home planting is not successful as a rule. In the first place wild trees are likely to grow where they are crowded and are drawn out taller than they should be. Others have not had an opportunity to develop evenly and may be well shaped on one side only. Then the roots have been left to spread out at long distances and the trees cannot be removed without breaking off important roots, so the trees will be a long while in recovering and a large percentage will die.

Nursery-grown trees are grown where they develop evenly on all sides, and are frequently transplanted and root pruned, which keeps them from growing too spindling and the roots are thus confined to a small area, so the trees can easily and safely be transplanted.

In making home plantings it is a grave error to attempt to use wild trees. If many trees are to be used it is advisable to visit a nursery and personally select each specimen.

Urges Value of Beechnut.

A writer in the Chicago Daily News makes a plea for the beechnut. A high-grade quality of this nut might easily be made a delicious article of food. The beech tree, well grown, is an object of great beauty. In Europe extensive avenues of them are found, and the fruit carefully conserved. Many a township could easily handle along its roadsides 10,000 noble beeches and as many hickories, not to speak of a large sprinkling of other nut trees and shrubs, all of them largely taking care of themselves. Each town or county could have its own nursery for fostering a high grade of nut trees and shrubs.

To Get Rid of Ants.

Powdered borax sprinkled around the infested places will exterminate both red and black ants. Powdered cloves are said to drive them away. Another plan is to grease a plate with lard and set it where these insects abound. They prefer lard to anything else, and will forsake sugar for it. Place a few sticks around the plate for the ants to climb up on. Occasionally turn the plate bottom side up over the fire, and the ants will fall in with the melted lard. Or, use a small amount of oil of turpentine, run into the cracks with an ordinary sewing machine oil can.

Home Gardens Pay.

Garden work is health giving, especially for those whose occupations are indoors. To allow land that might grow food to lie idle is almost criminal. In this war-impoorished world. The products of the garden are simply indispensable to a wholesome dietary. When home grown their quality must be better than any that can be bought. Next year should see a further increase, instead of a further decrease, in home gardens.

Life.

Our life is precious to us for the activity that we are capable of, and still more because that activity may be so adjusted as to give us the consciousness of acting in harmony with the divine mind.—Archbishop Thomas.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard
