NOTICE
of the
COUNTY TREASURER.

The Books of the County Treasurer will be open for the collection of State, County and Commutation Road Taxes for the fiscal year, 1919, at the Treasurer's office from October 15th to December 31st, 1919. After December 31st one per cent will be added. After January 31st, two per cent will be added, and after February 28th, seven per cent will be added till the 15th day of March, 1920, when the books will be closed.

All persons owning property in more than one township are requested to call for receipts in each of the several townships in which the property is located. This is important, as additional cost and penalty may be attached.

All able-bodied male citizens between the ages of 21 and 60 years of age are liable to pay a poll tax of $1.00, except old soldiers, who are exempt at 50 years of age. Commutation Road Tax $1.50 in lieu of road duty. All men now in military service are exempt from road tax.

ARMISTICE DAY IS KEPT IN COLUMBIA

GREAT THRONG ON SIDEWALKS
WATCH NOTABLE PARADE TO STATEHOUSE GROUNDS.

ADDRESSED BY THE GOVERNOR

McGowan, a Participant in Meuse-Argonne Offensive Also Spoke on Behalf of Veterans and Legion.

Columbia.—In spite of threatening clouds and at times a light mist, Columbia gathered to celebrate the first anniversary of the armistice. The parade moved as per schedule and was witnessed by large crowds gathered along Main street. Afterwards there was a good attendance at the exercises at the state house.

At the state house, the stand was built at the foot of the front steps. Mayor Blalock presided. The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. A. W. Blalock, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Mayor Blalock then introduced Governor Cooper, who spoke briefly.

The governor, commenting on the significance of the celebration, said that a year ago saw autocracy acknowledge defeat and surrender to democracy. He spoke of the part played in the war by South Carolina, and, pointing to General Read, who was sitting on the stand, told of the men of the Thirtieth fighting under this fine soldier. The governor spoke of the Confederate veterans and of the Girls of the Sixties, and their heroic work in years gone by, and he said that their work then had inspired the South Carolinians of today while fighting on the fields of Flanders.

William C. McGowan, a young member of the Columbia bar, who was on the front in the Meuse-Argonne offensive at the dramatic end of the war, spoke on behalf of the veterans directing his remarks especially to the American Legion. Mr. McGowan told his audience: "Make it your Legion."

Rock Hill.—Estimating that enough of the first loan is being held by York county people to offset any sales of previous loans, Uncle Sam is paying to holders of Liberty Bonds in York county upwards of $150,000 annually.

Washington.—(Special)—Congressman Stevenson announced that he had named Joseph Gaston Hollis, Jr., of Redman, Chester county, principal of West Point. He also said that he had two alternate places and that he would be glad to hear from any young men in his district desiring to take the examination.

Greenville.—Corp. George W. Batson, a Greenville boy who served over seas with the Butler Guards, Company A, One Hundred and Eighteenth in fantry, left for Washington where he will be decorated with the British medal of honor by the Prince of Wales.

Lancaster.—Captain Elliott W. Springs has gone to Washington where he has been requested to meet the Prince of Wales and to receive from the latter the British cross awarded him by the British government for special distinguished service while fighting with the British Royal Flying corps on the Belgian front.

Charleston.—The supreme court of South Carolina held in a majority opinion that the primary election held in Charleston on August 19, is not effective in so far as the office of mayor is concerned.

Columbia.—Trustees of the Baptist hospital were given full sway to enlarge and improve the plant. This authority was transmitted to the board when the state convention unanimously passed such a resolution. The expenditures will not be less than $30,000 and may be as much as $300,000.

Deeper Waterway Session.
Charleston.—With addresses of welcome by Governor Robert A. Cooper of South Carolina, Mayor Hyde, and Alderman John D. Cappellman, of Baltimore, and Alston B. Briggs, Boston, representing Governor Coolidge, of Massachusetts, the twelfth annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association was opened here.

J. Hampton Moore, mayor-elect of Philadelphia, and president of the association, delivered his annual review.

School Teacher Arrested.
Newberry.—Harry Van Buren, the young teacher of the Utopia school, who was arrested in the city on the charge of grand larceny, was called for and will be carried to Detroit by an officer from that city. The warrant of arrest charged grand larceny. The man is accused of stealing a very handsome suit case, with valuable papers and other valuables in it, from a New Yorker in the Detroit Y. M. C. A. building. Van Buren came here following an advertisement for a teacher for the school.

FRANKLIN D'OLIER COMMANDS LEGION

Philadelphia Man First Commander of Organization of World War Veterans Minneapolis, Nov. 12.—The first annual convention of the American Legion tonight elected Franklin D'Olier of Philadelphia as its first national commander and voted to have congress consider the advisability of approving further bonuses for service men.

D'Olier was the first candidate to be nominated. He was named by the Arkansas delegation. California passed its nominating right to New York and Stuyvesant Fish placed the name of Hanford MacNider of Mason City, Iowa, before the convention. The Virginia delegation nominated Leslie Jones of Washington, D. C., and Kentucky named Emmett O'Neill of Louisville. Jack Sullivan of Seattle, who was nominated by the North Dakota delegates, withdrew from the race, as did Chairman Henry D. Lindsay of Dallas, nominated by the Texas delegation. The vote was:

D'Olier, 366; MacNider, 249; Jones, 28; O'Neill, 18.

The title of past national commander was conferred upon Mr. Lindsay. He had been acting head of the legion since the meeting at St. Louis last spring.

Election of the national commander followed a turbulent afternoon when a mass of resolutions and reports, including the soldier bonus issue, were considered. The convention for a time seemed sharply split on the proposal to indorse a specific bonus plan, and finally voted to place the matter in the hands of the national senate and house of representatives.

Representative Riyal C. Johnson of Aberdeen, S. D., who served in France, supplied the inspiration which decided the bonus issue. Called to the convention stage he urged the delegates to ask congress "to recognize and relieve the financial disadvantages" incurred by persons who made sacrifices to serve their country. Former Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee, chairman of the bonus committee, formally put this resolution before the convention and it was passed by a tremendous viva voce vote.

A broad variety of subjects, including the Centralia, Washington, tragedy, industrial unrest, and the National Non-Partisan League, were touched on this afternoon.

Delegates from northwestern states drew up a resolution assailing the activities of President A. C. Townley of the Non-Partisan League, but it was tabled by a vote of the convention.

Commander D'Olier issued the following statement shortly after his election:

"The American Legion has an enormous amount of constructive work before it in the coming year, but the spirit of clear thinking, fair play and co-operation manifested so wonderfully throughout this convention leaves no doubt in my mind that we shall be able to accomplish during the coming year just as remarkable results for our country as we did in such a comparatively short time in effecting the utter defeat of the enemy.

"Every action of the convention was discussed carefully and in every instance the soundest possible judgment prevailed. There was only one thought of every delegate present and that was to do what was best for this country of ours, for which only so recently we were willing to give our all."

Capt. J. J. McSwain of Greenville, nominated for national vice chairman of the American Legion, received the vote of 22 states and failed of election by a small margin.

Belton Woman Cuts Throat with Razor
Anderson, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Joe Holliday died at her home near Belton Tuesday night. Mrs. Holliday last Friday cut her throat with a razor, as a result, it is believed, of ill health. Her husband rose early that morning to perform household duties. After a few minutes he heard an unusual noise and went back into the bedroom and found Mrs. Holliday in a serious condition. Before marriage Mrs. Holliday was a Miss Harper, daughter of James Harper. She has eight children, the oldest being about 18 years of age. It is believed that the physical condition of Mrs. Holliday caused temporary insanity.

REPORT ON PROBE OF NEGRO PAPERS

Representative Byrnes Told by Department of Justice They are Watched. Developments may Bring Prosecution.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Representative Byrnes, of South Carolina today received a report from the department of justice with reference to the request he made some time ago that proceedings be instituted against certain negro newspapers and magazines. The department furnished Mr. Byrnes with the report of the United States district attorney in New York and states that the official and the bureau of investigation will continue their investigation and report developments. The department says that it believes further developments will enable them to present a proper case.

Because of the difficulties involved in bringing a prosecution against these radical negro newspapers under the espionage act, Mr. Byrnes today urged the chairman of the judiciary committee to report his bill which prohibits the circulation of radical newspapers urging resistance to the government or the overthrow of the government or urging violence in order to accomplish changes based on racial differences. Mr. Byrnes says if this bill is passed the department can then reach this problem. Chairman Velstead assured him that he would take the bill up for consideration the first week in December.

It will be recalled that last July Mr. Byrnes made a speech in the house, advocating in strong terms the exclusion from the mails of certain offensive periodicals. Soon after that Congressman Ragsdale, of South Carolina, died suddenly, then the magazines printed stories that they had a society which had caused Mr. Ragsdale's death and that it would "get" Mr. Byrnes. In addition to this he received many threatening letters, all to the effect that the "society" was after him and would eventually get him.

Interesting developments are expected to follow.

THORNHILL WAGONS

SOME Thornhill owners constantly comment on the ease with which the wagon can be "backed up." This is due to the full circle iron. The ordinary circle is but a half circle (◡). In making a sharp turn bolsters often run to the end of the track and become "derailed." Thornhills cannot do this because their track is a circle (○).

Others comment on the fact that in spite of tremendous overloads, Thornhill axles never break. The reason for this is plain. They use tough highland hickory—reinforced by a steel truss bar that extends the full length of the axle.

Still others comment that the gears never get out of line. This unusual feature is due to one of their workmen's inventions. He designed a malleable front hound plate—bolted to the gears at eight points. It's literally a jacket of iron that holds gears in line and insures light running for life.

From hilly sections come reports that the old trouble of broken king bolts is unknown among owners of Thornhill wagons. This because of a cup and saucer arrangement on the bolster that relieves the king bolt of strain.

To others the amazing feature is the long life of Thornhill beds—due to their location which gives them the pick of the yearly cutting of wood and due, in part, to the fact that they paint with pure lead and linseed oil despite its high cost.

Thousands of owners have found in Thornhills unusual strength where they are accustomed to weakness.

Let us show you this perfected wagon.
