OLDEST BANKERS STRONGEST

Your Bank

This is essentially a bank for everyone, embodying modern facilities and mechanical conveniences.

Here prevails the spirit of co-operation, and of harmony, and of fellowship—a spirit of friendly helpfulness which has its source in the administrative offices.

We welcome you here as an individual. Our service is not measured by the size of your account. All are treated alike and all are treated well.

Most All Land Sales Went To Plaintiffs

Several pieces of real estate were sold in Laurens sales day by Thos. W. Bennett, clerk of court, the plaintiffs being the purchasers in most of the sales. The records of the cases show only nominal prices were bid, the prices not indicating the real values. Following is a list of the property sold:

S. R. Gray vs Haskell Gray, et al, 56 acres in Dials township; sold to R. T. Wilson, attorney, for $300.

L. A. Brock vs W. H. Moore, 32 acres in Sullivan township; sold to W. R. Richey, attorney, for $100.

Albert L. Lohm, receiver of Laurens National Bank, vs E. W. Coppeland, et al, 20 acres, more or less, on East Main street, Laurens, sold to A. C. Todd, attorney, for $1,100.

Federal Land Bank vs W. L. Stone, et al, 80 1-3 acres in Waterloo township, sold to Phil D. Huff, attorney, for $400.

Mrs. Nannie Drummond vs Lanham Clardy and Mrs. E. J. Clardy, one-half acre in Clinton; sold to O. L. Long, attorney, for $500.

J. W. Henderson, Jr., vs W. W. Yeargin, 36 1-3 acres and 61 acres in Dials township; sold to R. T. Wilson for $100 each.

Albert L. Lohm, receiver of Laurens National Bank, vs Mrs. Lucia B. Culbertson, J. D. Culbertson, et al, 46 2-3 acres at Maddens, containing house and store; sold to A. C. Todd, attorney, for $1,500; 60 acres on Reedy river, sold to A. C. Todd, attorney, for $100.

Bank of Gray Court vs A. R. Owens, et al, 103 1-2 acres in Dials township, sold to R. E. Babb, attorney, for $500.

Atlanta Joint Stock Land Bank vs W. T. Rutledge, et al, 313 1-4 acres in Waterloo township, sold to R. E. Babb, attorney, for $300.

Tract of 43 58-100 acres near Cross Hill, in settlement of estate of Mrs. M. J. Simpson, sold to the executors for $50.

Clinton Boy Is Highly Praised

Friends of Rupert Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Fuller of this city, will be glad to know that he is "making good" as a member of The State reportorial staff.

In the recent drive waged for Columbia college, Mr. Fuller was given the assignment to "cover" the campaign.

In writing of the Jubilee Endowment undertaking in The State, A. F. Lever, the general chairman, had this to say of the young Clinton boy:

"Without your Mr. Fuller I do not know how we could have succeeded in interpreting our needs to the public as has been done. This boy not only has made many friends for himself and for the paper, but he has gone just a little further than the letter of the law in performing a constructive service with great ability."

Friends of Mrs. G. W. Gignilliat will regret to know that she is a patient at Dr. Hays' hospital.

Mrs. W. S. Bean left Wednesday for Mobile, Ala., where she will spend three months visiting her son, Dr. W. S. Bean, who is connected with the U. S. Marine hospital of that city.

Miss Clara Duckett, state treasurer of the D. A. R. society, is attending the annual meeting of this organization now in session in Greenwood.

C. F. Winn left Tuesday for Charleston where he is attending the annual grand lodge meeting of the state Masonic order.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bailey and daughter, Miss Ruth, returned Friday from a visit of several weeks to their daughter, Mrs. W. P. Anderson, Jr., in Dunedin, Fla.

Mrs. Allan Smith, Miss Fair, Miss Morse and Joel Morse of Abbeville, were the guests of friends here on Sunday.

Rev. Samuel P. Bowles spent Sunday in Pelzer where he preached for the Presbyterian congregation.

O. A. Sowers was the week-end guest of relatives in Statesville, N. C.

Mrs. David Duncan and sons spent Sunday with Mrs. J. W. Milam.

SPENCE INDICTED IN ADAM'S CASE

Supposed To Have Lured Woman From Home and Robbed Her of Valuables. Sought in North.

Anderson, March 9.—After having been suppressed by federal, state and county authorities for more than three days, the identity of the man believed to have shot to death Mrs. Clara B. Adams of Dewey Rose, Ga., whose bloated and bullet-riddled body was found in Saluda river last Thursday, was revealed today when a warrant was taken out for Faris B. Spence, 21, charging him with the murder.

Officers in Detroit and Chicago are hunting spence, who is last reported to have been living in Detroit, and from there to have moved to Chicago. That Spence, who formerly lived on the Adams place at Dewey Rose, Ga., lured the woman from her home last December and then, after securing her money, jewelry and automobile, killed her to escape the consequences of a white slave charge, is the belief of officers. Young Spence and Mrs. Adams were both wanted by federal authorities, the former on charges of violating the Mann act.

It was R. J. Caffrey, a special agent of the department of justice, who first identified the body. Mr. Caffrey explained that he had been searching for Mrs. Adams and Spence for several weeks.

The hurried departure of Spence from Verdery, several weeks ago where he had gone to get his young wife and baby and his statement that he had to "leave quick and move fast," strengthens belief of officers here that the man has at least some knowledge of the death of Mrs. Adams.
