

Local Girl Wins In Chicora Debate

A special meeting of the literary societies of Chicora college held during the past week was followed by the award by President Byrd of a silver cup on the part of the faculty, to the society offering the best debaters during the session. The question debated was, "Resolved that the novel has exerted greater influence than the drama." The negative side was awarded the judges' decision. Miss Alva Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wilson of this city, and Miss Dorothy Beckman were declared the winners.

Middle Life Troubles

"About twenty years ago, my health was very bad," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Terrell, Texas. "I was passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal. I was not at all strong, and my nerves got all upset. I had hot flashes, and sometimes would get suddenly so faint I could not stand up. My head would whirl, and I could not see a thing. I would have to lie down for hours at a time. "I improved so much after I had taken Cardui for a while. I continued the medicine for some months, until I had passed the critical period. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. We have all been better for having taken it."

WALTER JOHNSON

Coach Walter A. Johnson has been with Presbyterian college since its athletic infancy. He came as a young man about a dozen years ago, and started out with the same aggressiveness and geniality that he is now famous for. Quoting one write, "We can never say enough of his virtues. His faults are few. It is one of the priceless heritages of Presbyterian college graduates to go out into the world and recall and read of the achievements which P. C. has reached in the field of sports under the guiding hand of Walter Johnson."

COW MILKING TABLE STOP—OR YOU GET SHOT AN OFFER FOR COOLIDGE WHY NOT LINDBERGH?

Farmers will be interested in the "fifty cow milking table." The information comes from Dr. J. H. McNeil, chief of the New Jersey Bureau of Animal Industry. The "milking table is devised by the Walker Gordon company's New Jersey milk farm.

It is the beginning of industrial methods applied to milk production. A huge table like a small "round house" with fifty absolutely clean cow stalls on it, is made to revolve, slowly. The cows walk on and off, while the table is in motion, and soon get used to the new idea.

To each cow an electrical milking device is attached as it enters its stall. At the end of one complete table turning, the cow, milked and "stripped," walks off the table at the spot where it walked on, and is immediately fed.

Feed your cows always after milking. Feeding before milking taints the milk. Cows like the milk mass production idea, the relief of milking, followed by the pleasure of eating, makes a pleasant combination.

The Walker Gordon company, milking fifteen hundred cows in one of its stables, can use several tables.

Such a plan, taking the cow to the man, would put milk farming on a modern industrial basis. The average milk farmer would like to get thirty cents a quart for his milk, as does Walker Gordon, instead of $1.80 for 100 pounds of milk, but that is another problem.

In these days of widespread crime it is difficult to know whether to stand still or run.

Henry Lagowitz, seventeen, innocent of evil, coming out of his aunt's house, saw a "plain clothes" detective who for some reason didn't like his looks and told him to stop.

He thought it was a highwayman, and ran. On general principles, the detective shot him. He will recover.

On the high road a man raises his hand, orders a driver to stop. The driver has two guesses. He may be stopped by a highwayman, intent on robbing him, or by a virtuous prohibition enforcement officer, investigating.

The wise thing is to stop and save your life, for in either case you run the risk of being shot.

Mr. Mills, able advertising man, wishes you to know that he has offered President Coolidge $75,000 a year for four years, to act as general director of a home-furnishing movement.

President Coolidge has bigger offers. Why not offer the home-furnishing job to Colonel Lindbergh, whose mind just now is probably concentrated on that very subject.

HOOVER'S STAND WARMLY PRAISED

Barton Congratulates President On Enforcement Position. South Carolinian Also Has Interview.

Washington, March 18.—Assurance that the temperance forces of the nation are rallying unitedly to the support of his plans for law enforcement and suggestions for meeting the agricultural problem as it affects the cotton crop were given President Hoover Monday by two callers from the Southern states.

From Arthur J. Barton of Atlanta, chairman of the commission of social service of the Southern Baptist convention and president of the national conference of organizations supporting the Eighteenth amendment, Mr. Hoover received congratulations on having taken a "broad, sane position" on law enforcement.

"I had a very full, frank and satisfactory conference with the president," Mr. Barton said after leaving the chief executive's office. "We discussed his law enforcement plans and not the merits of prohibition.

"The united temperance forces of the country are heartily backing the president in his plans for effective enforcement of all law, whether it be the national prohibition act or any other law."

The subject of farm relief was brought up by Joseph O. Thompson of St. Matthews, S. C., vice-president of the American Cotton association. He told Mr. Hoover he hoped the farm measure to be worked out at the special session of congress would encourage the establishment of stabilization corporations for handling the seasonal surplus cotton crops, backed by cooperative marketing organizations throughout the South.

His plan envisioned loans from federal funds to cotton planters on crops held in storage by the stabilization corporation, with the whole structure supervised and assisted by a federal farm board.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, the daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, today paid her first visit to the White House as Democratic representative from Florida. With Senator Fletcher, Democrat, of the same state, she discussed with Mr. Hoover the problem of controlling the flood waters to Lake Okeechobee.

Few Addresses For President

Washington, March 18.—First evidences that President Hoover plans a curtailment of public speeches were found tonight in the disclosure that he has declined invitations to address the American Red Cross and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

It has come to be considered almost as a matter of course that the president accept these invitations annually, but regardless of the assumed custom Mr. Hoover has included those two occasions among those which he does not feel it possible to appear. This is in accordance with plans to limit his speaking to the delivery of three or four addresses a year.

The chief executive is receiving numerous invitations to speak, but to date he has accepted only two. One will be at the Associated Press dinner at New York in April and the second, announced today, at the Memorial day exercises in Arlington National cemetery in May.

$1,000 VERDICT IN NEGRO'S DEATH

National Utilities Company Loses Suit Brought for Damages In Laurens Last Week.

Laurens, March 16.—A verdict for $1,000 was returned Friday by a jury in civil court for the plaintiff, G. L. Smith, Negro, against the National Utilities company, owners and operators of the Reedy River and Sullivan Power plants. The suit was brought by Smith in connection with the death of his son, Sam Smith, young Negro who was killed a few weeks ago when he came in contact with a transmission wire that had sagged to within a few feet of the ground when several poles were blown down near the Laurens Oil mill.

Earlier in the week a consent verdict for $2,500 was given in the case of Mrs. Sallie Marler against the Watts Mills company in a suit for $25,000 for the death of Robert Murray, young textile worker, who was fatally injured while at work in the mill by being jerked into the shafting. Attorneys representing the plaintiff and the defendant company agreed on a settlement and so informed the court. The foreman of the jury was instructed by Judge Hayne F. Rice to write a verdict in accordance with the agreement that had been reached in behalf of the plaintiff.
