WELL, JOHN D. WON NOW, THEREFORE, I THE QUICK HOOVER MIND GOODBYE, TOM TAGGART

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., wins his fight in the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and Colonel Stewart is defeated.

There have been few more bitter fights in the history of high finance.

On Tuesday John H. Perry, learned editor of Reading, Pa., Jacksonville, Fla., and other places, predicting the Indiana result, said:

"It is hard to fight dollars. In fact, you can't do it."

He added as an afterthought: "It is absolutely impossible to fight dollars when they happen to be right."

Colonel Coblenz, of San Francisco and New York, remarked: "To the victor belongs the oils."

Colonel Stewart, bidding farewell to Standard Oil of Indiana, and probably preparing to run some other big oil company, had the satisfaction of reporting financial success for 1928.

In the last year Standard Oil of Indiana has earned more than eighty-three million dollars profit, or 16.76 per cent on its capital. Earnings of the company increased more than fifty millions, as compared with 1927.

President Hoover, who summons the extra session of congress to meet on April 15, is not an emotional man. But he must have been moved on writing the words, "Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare," etc.

After you have done farm chores as a small boy there must be considerable satisfaction in writing, "Now, therefore, I, President."

On April 15 farmers will have their day and congress will tell them, if it can, how to put a disorganized industry on a substantial paying basis.

No manufacturer could make his plant pay if he had to close down all winter. The farmer must do that, and it is part of the problem.

President Hoover has a quality more important to executives than any, except sound judgment. He makes up his mind quickly. No "wait a day or two."

When told of the Mexican revolution, the president did not wait a week. In five minutes he had told his cabinet "our business interests and duty demand support of the existing Mexican government."

He shipped guns and ammunition from army stores to President Portes Gil, stopped shipment of ammunition, guns, and airplanes to the revolutionists, and arranged for shipments of fighting planes to Mexico's government.

This does not imply complete approval of all that the Mexican government has done, or disapproval of the revolutionary cause. It means that the president means to uphold stability of government.

Tom Taggart of Indiana is dead. He had an interesting life while it lasted, and it lasted seventy-two years. He was a political boss for a generation, controlling his state. He defeated Champ Clark and nominated Woodrow Wilson for the presidency.

Now that he is in heaven, and presumably knows everything, Mr. Taggart knows just how useful he was when his influence gave Woodrow Wilson the presidency.

When Serving Eggs To Children Eggs on toast are difficult for little folks to manage—unless you cut the toast in small cubes, leaving the slice in its original shape before putting on the eggs. Then they are very easily eaten.

MOVEMENT FROM CITY TO FARM AND FARM TO CITY SLOWING UP

FARM POPULATION IS NOW THE SMALLEST IN TWENTY YEARS.

Washington, March 26.—The movement from city to farm and farm to city has slowed up somewhat during 1928, according to figures revealed by the Department of Agriculture.

1,960,000 persons left farms during the last year, as compared with 1,978,000 persons during 1927 and 2,155,000 during 1926.

The movement from cities to farms was 1,362,000 persons last year, 1,374,000 in 1927, and 1,135,000 in 1926.

The farm population is now the smallest in twenty years, with 27,511,000 on the farms in the United States on January 1, compared with a peak of 32,000,000 in 1909. The January, 1929, figures may be compared to the January, 1928, figure of 27,699,000 population. This decrease came about despite improved agricultural conditions.

The decrease in farm population in the last year would have been much greater were it not offset by an excess of births over deaths, the figures revealing that in the movement of population from and to farms, 1,960,000 persons left farms during the year and 1,362,000 persons moved from cities to farms.

The large farm birth rate of 23 births per 1,000 persons and small death rate of eight deaths per 1,000 persons has been a big city factor offsetting the farm-to-city movement, so that the net loss of farm population last year was 188,000 persons, compared with 193,000 in 1927, and with 649,000 in 1926.

Bread Crumb Muffins Soak 1 cup stale crumbs in 1-2 cup milk for 20 minutes; sift together 1-2 cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons baking powder; add to softened crumbs. Add 2 tablespoons melted butter and enough more milk to make mixture which will drop from spoon. Put in greased muffin tins and bake in hot oven 20 to 30 minutes.

Codfish Combined With Tomatoes Soak 1 pound of fish, drain and flake, removing all bones. Fry two medium-sized onions, diced, in butter and add 3 cups of tomato pulp with seasoning to taste. Thicken slightly and add fish. Serve on fresh buttered toast or with baked potato.
