Snook Takes Leave Of Atlanta Prison

Atlanta, April 1.—In the midst of a bedlam of protest by prisoners, who beat upon their cell doors, whistled and shouted, John W. Snook, left his post as warden of the Atlanta federal penitentiary late last night, carrying with him a "receipt in full" for all inmates, records, and government property at the institution.

Snook had been popular with the prisoners, and as the time of his resignation arrived under the terms of his resignation, effective at midnight last night, the men set up a noisy protest. Jailers threatened force before the men were quieted.

On his last day in office yesterday, the warden made public a letter he had written Attorney General Mitchell, in which he defended his administration and expressed the hope that the practice of "planting" department of justice agents in the prison be abolished.

Mr. Snook said the letter was in reply to a telegram from the attorney general in which the warden was reprimanded for permitting newspapermen to inspect the prison and reporting the conditions they found. In the letter, Snook said he had "read the article referred to, and the facts contained therein were secured from the annual report of all federal institutions published by the department of justice."

Blue Stockings Win From Wofford Men

(From Spartanburg Herald) After leading all the way through, the Terriers of Wofford saw the Blue Stockings of Presbyterian college smash out four hits in a row in the ninth inning and ruin a perfectly good baseball game that seemed assuredly a Methodist victory. But the Presbyterians won it, 7 to 5.

The Terriers, who had grabbed a five run lead by the end of the fourth inning, apparently had the game won, 5 to 3. The Blue Stockings came to the bat in the last stanza, however, and crashed out the winning runs. The first three men up singled sharply, filling the bases. With none out, Hall relieved McGee on the mound for the Terriers. This proved the beginning of the end, for Owens, the next man up, smashed a screaming triple to right field and cleaned the bases. He scored himself on a pass ball a minute later, giving the Blue Stockings four runs and the winning tally.

Coach Frew's men were unable to push across a comeback punch in their last chance, and it ended that way, 7 to 5.
