PAINS

In Side and Back

"I HAD BEEN miserable for a long time. My health was poor, and I suffered a lot from weakness. At times, my strength was so little that I could not stand on my feet. I would have to give up and go to bed. My sides and back hurt dreadfully.

"I grew discouraged, for I could do so little. I worried about myself, and almost gave up hope of ever being strong and well. I could scarcely lift a bucket of water. My house work went undone, for I was not strong enough to do it.

"After I had taken Cardui for a little while, I began to feel better. I grew stronger, soon found that I could do my work with less effort, and the pains in my back and sides left me. I think Cardui is a wonderful medicine. My health has been excellent since then."—Mrs. D. L. Beckner, W. Main St., Salem, Va.

GLENN IS NAMED FEDERAL JUDGE

Solicitor of Sixth Judicial Circuit Gets Surprise Appointment to New Judgeship in South Carolina.

Washington, April 18.—The president today nominated J. Lyles Glenn of Chester to fill the position on the federal bench recently authorized by congress.

The three names heard here in connection with this matter were Congressman F. H. Dominick of Newberry, Mr. Glenn and P. F. Henderson of Aiken.

The bill authorizing the appointment of the additional judge was passed at the last session of congress.

Yesterday several members of the South Carolina delegation in the house called on the attorney general and then at the White House supporting Mr. Dominick. They were led to believe by Secretary Newton that everything looked good for Dominick and that should it be necessary for them to take further steps in his behalf they would be notified. This led some of them to think that Dominick was safe. Today, just as they were preparing to get together again to see whether it would be necessary to go back to the White House, the word came down that a selection had been made. Several of them thought it was Dominick, when surprise was sprung by the official statement from the White House that Glenn was the winner.

At the same time, friends of P. F. Henderson of Aiken no later than yesterday, were active in his behalf and while it was not believed that he had much of a show in view of the strong and aggressive fight put up for Dominick, however, his fight was noticed here.

The White House issued the following statement on Glenn:

"Mr. Glenn is 37 years of age, a graduate of Wofford college, and a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, England, where he obtained his law degree; served in the beginning of the World war in Belgian relief work; later he was commissioned first lieutenant, attained the rank of captain, and saw active duty with the First Army corps; he was awarded the Croix de Guerre in recognition of his bravery and devotion to duty; he has served for six years as solicitor of the Sixth Judicial circuit of South Carolina."

Senator Bleasie, who fought the bill for the additional judge through the senate almost single handed, gave out the following statement:

"Knowing his character as a man, his qualifications as a lawyer and his fitness for the position, and in view of my personal relationship, together with his indorsements, I was a supporter of Mr. Dominick for the additional judge for South Carolina."

"I desire to say that it is fully conceded by all people who are familiar with the history of these matters in South Carolina, that there has been nobody under consideration for a judge in South Carolina in 40 years who has had as creditable and as powerful indorsements as Mr. Dominick had.

LAURENS HI PUPILS WIN

Students Make Great Showing In Recent State Events. To Enter Columbia Finals.

Laurens, April 20.—In the recent contests held over the state in English, Latin, typewriting and shorthand, the Laurens high school representatives were highly successful.

Frances Harvey, a member of the 9th grade, qualified as one of the fifteen best from 700 high school students who entered the English contest on March 2.

In the Latin contest, which was held on March 9, the Laurens contestants were even more successful. No school was allowed to submit more than three papers, and of the five best selected from district three, representing Abbeville, Greenville and Laurens, three from Laurens high school were chosen. These papers were then submitted to the state committee and were again adjudged among the fifteen best selected from approximately 500 that had been submitted from the state. The young ladies who won these honors are Kathleen Sanders, Clemogene Teague and Sarah Dorroh.

This year the state was divided into an upper-state and lower-state division. Preliminary contests to determine winners in the different phases of shorthand and typewriting were held in these two divisions. The upper-state contest was held at Chester. From a number of high school teams entered in this contest, the eight representatives from the Laurens high school won the right to represent the upper-state division in finals to be held in Columbia, April 25 and 26. The students winning in the different events of this contest are: Belle Hamilton, Elva Brownlee, Ralph Bagwell, Rosa Elmore, Eva Fuller, Sara Dendy, Omega Pitts and Clara Tumblyn.

The city, high school faculty and student body are highly pleased with the records made by these young people. The best wishes of district three and upper-state division will go with these contestants to Columbia for the finals. Last year the Laurens high school contestants won two loving cups and five medals in state competition.

WHAT DO P. S. JEANES DO?

CLINTON GIRL WINS HONOR

Miss Isabel Witherspoon Elected President of Winthrop Senior Class for 1929-30 Session.

The following from The Johnsonian, official publication of the student body of Winthrop college, will be read here with cordial interest:

"The rising senior class has chosen as its president for 1929-30 Miss Isabel Witherspoon, who is one of the most capable members of her class. Miss Witherspoon, a graduate of the Clinton high school, has been prominent in various phases of Winthrop life during her three years in college.

"She has been distinguished in her academic work every year at Winthrop; she is continuing the excellent record that she set for herself in high school, as evidenced by the fact that she was salutatorian of her class at Clinton.

"Miss Witherspoon has been outstanding in extra-curricular activities as well as in her regular classroom work. In high school she held such honors as that of representative of her school in the State high school debate in 1926; of secretary of her class, 1926; and of advertising manager of the high school annual. Since coming to Winthrop, she has held various offices. During her freshman year, she was secretary of the class of '30. She was in her sophomore year a chapel proctor, a member of the class hockey squad, and secretary and treasurer of the Girl Scouts. In her junior year she was a college marshal from the Wade Hampton literary society, of which she is a member, a reporter for The Johnsonian, a representative of The Johnsonian at the press association meeting, a member of the Winthrop Handbook staff, and a junior member of the junior-senior debating team of the International Relations club.

"Besides being a member of the Wade Hampton literary society and the International Relations club, Isabel belongs also to other clubs on the campus, such as Eta Sigma Phi, the Masquers, and the S. O. D. social club.

Miss Witherspoon has shown marked qualities of leadership, of resourcefulness, and of executive ability. It is expected that the senior class of 1930 will experience under her direction a most gratifying conclusion of its college career."

Moody Hens Are Coming To Front

Laurens, April 21.—This seems to be an open season for the chronicling of new records and freakish antics of chicken hens, noted and reported from various private poultry yards.

E. B. Rasor of Cross Hill, has a Wyandotte hen two years old that has produced 180 eggs in six months and 27 days. This record was made from September 20, last year, to April 17. By consulting the calendar, it will be seen that this pious and industrious hen was off duty the number of days equal to one holiday and all the Sabbath days included in the period covered in this single-handed laying contest.

A five-year old bantam hen, the trim and dainty pet of little Miss Elizabeth Anderson of the Rocky Springs section exhibits unusual "settin'" proclivities. Without having produced an egg during the past two years, she recently finished her fourth "dry litter" and indicated that setting time had arrived. As on former occasions, eggs from another hen's nest were supplied and the little lady bantam is apparently happy over the accomplished series of "false pretenses and good bluffing."

"Eggs is eggs," commercially speaking, but T. T. Tollison, who lives near Watts Mills, has a game hen that is credited with having laid a premier specimen, as this egg, by actual measurement, is 3 1/4 inches long, six inches in circumference and weighs 4 1/2 ounces. The egg was presented by Mr. Tollison to the poultry fancier of one of the local newspapers who has declared it to be a headliner.
