PAINFUL INDIGESTION

I suffered a good while before I found something that would help me, writes Mr. E. W. Barry, of Neocho, Mo. "My trouble was indigestion, pains in my chest and a tight, bloated feeling that would make me feel smothered."

"Speaking of this to a friend of mine, he told me that Black-Draught was good for this trouble. I went over bought a package. It certainly did help me, so I continued to use it."

"I am in the transfer business, and sometimes when I would be hungry and ready to eat, I would have a call and would have to eat later. Then I would eat too much or too hurriedly. This would cause indigestion. After I started using Black-Draught, I found it did me a world of good. It is splendid for biliousness and stomach troubles."

COKER WRITES ON WEEVIL CONTROL

Hartsville Seed Specialist Advises All Farmers To Fight Weevil, Old Cotton Should Be Poisoned. David R. Coker, of Hartsville, president and general manager of Coker's Pedigreed Seed company, tells, in the following article, facts relative to weevil control which should be of interest to cotton planters in South Carolina at this time:

"Nothing has curtailed the crop of South Carolina so much as the idea that a majority of our farmers have had that they could afford not to fight the boll weevil. In three years out of the past eight the farmers of this section who did not fight the weevil but used good methods otherwise, made about as much cotton as those who did fight him. In every one of the other five years, however, weevil control paid enormous dividends, properly poisoned crops frequently making two or three times as much as unpoisoned crops. I do not know of a single farmer in middle or lower South Carolina who has averaged fair to good crops during the past eight years who has not intelligently poisoned the weevil. In certain sections of the Piedmont weevils have not been in evidence during several years of this period, but wherever they can be found on the young cotton in the spring, poisoning is necessary. As there were plenty of weevils in the Piedmont last fall and as we had no low winter temperatures anywhere in the state, it is pretty certain that weevil control measures will be necessary this year over the entire state."

"My entire experience indicates that by far the most important step in weevil control is the killing of the over-wintered weevils on the young cotton at the time the first small square appears. This can be done at a cost of 15 to 20 cents per acre for materials for each application. Two, three or four applications will be necessary according to weather conditions. A mixture of one pound of calcium arsenate thoroughly stirred into a gallon of water to which one gallon of cheap molasses is then added, will poison two acres and will practically kill every weevil on the young cotton. The molasses mixture is best applied with a cloth mop about three inches wide on the end of a stick about two feet long. After lightly dipping it is extended forward and downward, striking the cotton plants two or three inches below the top, the operator then walking down the rows, tipping the plants over with the mop and applying the mixture on the under side of the leaves. Children quickly become expert in this operation when properly supervised. A drop or two of this mixture is sufficient, as the weevils walk about over the leaves very freely and are practically certain to discover and eat the mixture within 24 hours. The writer has a number of times watched weevils moving about over the plants and finding and eating the mixture."

"If a hard rain comes within 24 hours the mixture should be promptly put on again. It should be applied and, if the emergence of the weevils continues in any quantity, a third and at least once more, 5 to 7 days later sometimes a fourth application should be made. If the early poisoning is done properly and at the proper time practically no punctured squares will be noticed before late July or early August, at which time dusting by the regular method may be begun if necessary. In some of our own fields last year we had practically no punctured squares until general migration began the middle of August and no dusting was necessary in these fields."

"Serious infestation of plane lice sometimes follows several applications of calcium arsenate in dust form, but the molasses mixture has never been known to make lice plentiful. If plane lice appear in serious numbers after dusting, it will be necessary to dust with nicotine sulphate."

"In Darlington and nearby counties a very large proportion of the cotton was killed by the sandstorm of May

FARM DEMONSTRATION NEWS

C. B. CANNON, County Agent

Quality Chicks Deserve Good Care P. H. Gooding, extension poultryman from Clemson college, was in the county on May 17 visiting farmers who are co-operating with Clemson in the Grow Better Chicks project, with County Agent Cannon.

Occasionally farmers are found who buy excellent chicks and neglect them during the growing season. It is useless to pay a high price for high-grade chicks, if they are not given good care during the brooding period. Eggs that are uniform, of good size and shape, which were produced by selected birds, produce the best chicks. But if these chicks are not given a good ration and comfortable surroundings in which to grow, they will not develop into profitable birds.

Good equipment, such as a 10x12 ft. brooder house and reliable coal brooder stove will, eliminate much of the worry connected with chick raising and if an all mash ration is used the feeding is greatly simplified. Get good chicks and treat them right.

Farmers Week, August 5-10 Farmers week will be held at Clemson college this year, August 5 to 10, says Dr. W. W. Long, director of the extension service and chairman of the Farmers week committee. This will be good news to the scores of people who have already inquired if Clemson will again hold this event.

Plans are being made to make this educational and recreational chautauqua for farm families even better than those of 1927 and 1928. Notables are being secured for special addresses, schedules of departmental discussions and demonstrations are being framed, and entertainment features are being planned. The Parris Island Marine band, which so greatly pleased last year, has already been engaged again.

JUNIOR TOWN NAMES OFFICERS

William Abrams for Second Year Holds Mayor's Seat. Bill McSween Is Press Reporter.

Junior Town was organized on Monday, May 20. It is under the leadership of Miss Julia Creery.

Miss Creery taught us two yells and we sang the song we sang last year.

Junior Town citizens elected officers Monday. The officers are as follows: Mayor, Bill Abrams; Law and Order Commissioners, Caroline Burroughs and Margaret Moorhead; Clerk of Court, Frances Spratt; News Reporter, Bill McSween.

Junior Town adopted as their slogan, "Anything for the Betterment of Clinton."

We will meet after each afternoon program. On the last day we will give a minstrel.

Blow On Head Causes Death

Homer Barnes, 18, of the Clinton Cotton mills community, died Saturday night at Dr. Hays' hospital following injuries sustained early in the afternoon. Several workmen were employed in the spool room changing a line of shafting when the accident occurred. In sawing the shaft, one section several feet long fell and was thrown across the room and struck young Barnes in the head, although it was stated that he attempted to dodge the falling shaft. His head was badly crushed and consciousness was never gained. He was rushed to the hospital and an operation performed in an effort to save his life but the end came a few hours later. The deceased is survived by his parents and several brothers.

A Spicy Salad Dressing

For beet, lettuce or string bean salad dry this dressing which uses 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon mustard, pepper and paprika to taste, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1-3 cup olive oil, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, 2 chopped chives. Mix dry ingredients, add vinegar, catsup and horseradish and a lump of ice. Gradually add oil and beat thoroughly.

2nd and has been planted over. Every acre of the old cotton should be poisoned not only for its own protection but for the protection of the later cotton. Unless all the old cotton is properly poisoned at the time the very first small squares appear, it will develop an early crop of new weevils which will go over on to the young cotton before it has time to develop a crop. I believe the time of weevil migration will be delayed a week or more if all the old cotton is poisoned. "Poison both old and young cotton when the first small squares appear, and be sure to do the work thoroughly and on time, especially on the old cotton."

Attention Farmers

READ THE REPORT ON GRADE AND STAPLE OF YOUR OWN COTTON AS GIVEN ON PAGE ONE IN THIS PAPER.

If you want to see a detailed report come to our office and let us show it to you. We feel that this report should be a great help to you for two reasons:

1st. Because if you are NOT raising the right sort of staple you can see just what you are raising and try to better it.

2nd. Because if you ARE raising the right kind of staple you can see it for yourself and demand a good price for your cotton.

In connection with this report, see what the Department of Agriculture says about our gin: "Out of the 1633 samples received from your gin, 13, or less than 1%, were gin cut." This is a good record.
