STORES COLLAPSE IN MONTGOMERY

Believe Most People Escaped From
Traps. Police and Firemen Work
To Save All Caught In Ruins.

Montgomery, Ala., July 15.—Working by the light of giant torches, several score rescue workers tonight were tunneling steadily into a small mountain of debris, all that remains of two downtown business houses following their collapse early this afternoon, hopeful that if any of the 75 employes of the two stores are still imprisoned they may be reached before it is too late.

Hurried checks shortly after the collapse of the buildings which came in two waves, revealed that a majority, if not all the occupants of the two establishments, managed to free themselves during the interval between the first avalanche and the second.

Downtown offices immediately were deserted and thousands of persons choked the street in front of the buildings, handicapping police and firemen in rescue attempts. Only three persons were seriously injured. They were George De Grouchy, manager of the three story Pizitz department store, the first to cave in, and the two Negro employes of the store. The other building crushed housed the Bullock Shoe store, a one-story structure.

Collapsing with hardly a moment's warning, the two, upper stories of the three story Pizitz building crumbled over into an excavation on one side and onto the roof of a one-story shoe store, on the other. Employes of the stores managed to thread their way through the falling materials after a first crash had trapped some of them in the rear of the building and the second floor of the department store.

Police, firemen and pedestrians rushed into the buildings and managed to free practically every employe before a second crash descended, believed to have been a portion of one of the walls. Fire Chief Chester L. Ingraham and seven firemen were on the second floor of the department store building and only by flattening themselves against a portion of the rear wall of the building did they escape with their lives. The falling walls, they said, passed so close that they could easily have been touched.

De Grouchy said that he was on the third floor when the first crackling noise was made. He raced to the second floor to give warning to employes of store and within three minutes, he said, the walls of the building descended upon him. He was dragged from the wreckage with a broken arm and a fractured shoulder. He expressed the belief that his warning and the fact that the collapse occurred during the noon hour, when many of the employes of the store were at lunch and there was a scarcity of customers were responsible for low casualties.

Although they had not reached every employe, De Grouchy and the sales manager of the bootery, J. H. McDaniel, felt confident that none had been seriously injured. The confusion caused by large crowds that congested the streets up until late in the day prevented an accurate check.

Damage to both structures was unofficially estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

Weevil Infestation Still Increasing

Clemson College, July 15.—The weekly survey made by the boll weevil division at Florence shows that the weevil population is still on the increase, especially in fields where no poison has been applied. In Allendale county five fields examined showed square infestation ranging from 29 per cent with an average of 46 per cent. The heaviest infestation was found in young cotton near fields of old cotton. In Colleton county the carefully poisoned fields still had less than 6 per cent infestation while the unpoisoned fields had an infestation of from 28 to 40 per cent.

Square infestation is increasing rapidly in the Piedmont. Fields in Union, Chester, Fairfield and Greenwood counties are showing average infestations of from 12 to 30 per cent. Even in the upper Piedmont the infestation is higher than ever before observed this early in the season, which emphasizes the importance of continuing the poison program over the state as a whole.

KEEP FRIENDSHIPS ALIVE BY TELEPHONE

Haven't you often wished that you could be with friends who have moved to other cities? They may be far away, yet you can easily keep in touch with them; talk over old times, and make plans for the future. When they're ill or when anniversaries and birthdays come around you can join them with your voice.

Recent service improvements have made distant telephone conversations a pleasure. Generally, connections are made almost as quickly as with local calls. In most cases you can hear just as clearly as if you were talking to a friend around the corner.

You'll be surprised, too, to learn how inexpensive these voice visits now are. At 8:30 o'clock in the evening, and again at midnight, reductions are made in the station-to-station rates. And long distance calls return so much in the way of friendship and satisfaction. Keep friendships alive—by telephone.
