

LAURENS BUYS FIRE TRUCK

Council Purchases Most Modern Design American-LaFrance Pumper To Be Delivered In December.

Laurens, July 26.—A thousand gallon fire pumper and truck, described by its manufacturers as the last word in fire fighting equipment, was purchased by the city council at a called meeting held Friday night. The pumper, or fire truck as it is most commonly called, was purchased from the American-LaFrance company and is known as the Metropolitan type, which is the latest thing put out by the fire engine manufacturers. The truck has to be made by special order, it was stated by the company's representative, and will not be ready for delivery until about December 1st. The cost will be $13,000.

The truck will be propelled by a six-cylinder triple ignition motor and rated to deliver 1,000 gallons of water per minute. Besides the pump, it will carry an 80 gallon booster tank for small emergency fires, two chemical tanks, one 24 foot ladder, one 12 foot ladder, two 4-inch suction pipes, connections for four lines of hose, automatic nozzle cut-off and all other equipment carried on machines of the same type.

The new engine was made by the same concern which built the city's other engine, which has been in service fourteen years. This latter machine, it is stated, will be returned to the factory for over-hauling and put in condition for extra use. The two engines, it is stated, will give a combined pumping capacity of 1,500 gallons per minute.

FLIERS TO GET $31,000

St. Louis, July 30.—Dale "Red" Jackson and Forest O'Brine earned $31,255 jointly or $15,627.50 for each man in the record-breaking flight of the St. Louis Robin which ended here tonight.

This did not include $2,756 in cash sums given them nor checks and cash which has been sent to the chamber of commerce. Eighteen days pay as commercial pilots must also be figured into the total.

The mileage of the Robin was estimated at 25,500 miles on a consumption of approximately 3,590 gallons of a high test fuel, the same as used by a number of commercial companies. Oil used totaled 158 gallons and 48 contacts were made for refueling out of a total of 77. The propeller revolutions, counted at 1,300 per minute, approximated 32,000,000 times.

WHAT DO P. S. JEANES DO?

"Very Latests"

By Cecile

A smart mid-summer mode—and ideal for the last days of August—is the tailored suit or ensemble made up in cotton in one of the new and bewitching designs.

These are to be had in plain color, or figured, crossbarred or checked. Modern art and color have contributed much to the patterns, and gives us everything from circus scenes to skyscraper angles and vistas.

The smart little suit illustrated features pique in a sleeveless dress with yellow and green printed calico coat and a matching hat in yellow and green. The coat is quilted and tailor-stitched at all the edges.

Over the white tennis or golf frock a coat of quilted pique, in a pastel shade harmonizing with the gray colored belt and scarf, proves extremely effective and presents one in trim attire for less active moments spent at the country club.

Trouser Blouses Are In

For the short jacket suit—those rakish lisle trouser blouses! Everyone who loves a smart touch—and a safe one—is adopting them for wear with cotton sports suits. It's because they are so saucy, and also so convenient. They are attached to panties, which are so tailored.

Knitted Silk Suits for Fall

Knitted costumes made of pure silk are to play an important part in fall sports costumes. The new types are made with one-piece dresses and with them usually goes a smart jacket made with a notched collar—tailor-fashion.

Printed Velvet for Raincoats
Another interesting departure for fall will be the raincoat of printed velvet—a far cry from the old utility rubber coats becoming to none, despised by all! Aren't you eager to see these dressier models?

Farm Demonstration Notes

C. B. Cannon, County Agent

Farmer's Week at Clemson August 5-10

Farmer's Week, which is to be held at Clemson college, should be of great service to farmers, and farm women of South Carolina. In fact, the past two years have proven that it is worth while to attend. The farmer who is making progress today is the farmer who is studying agriculture every day. The same is true of the farm women. She, too, is studying home making every day. The person who attends this farmers meeting will get the knowledge of the latest improvements, and most scientific methods of handling problems pertaining to farm life, or rural community life. Besides the advantages mentioned above it will be a fine outing for both farm women and farm men. This class of people needs a vacation, or an outing, the same as any other business man or woman.

Miss Lonnie I. Landrum, state home demonstration agent, and her co-workers, will be present to discuss subjects and help solve problems pertaining to the home. A few of the subjects to be discussed and demonstrations to be given, are as follows:

Home equipment, nutrition, budget, hand work, biscuit making, garden budget, posture, canning, room improvement, foods, and clothing.

For the farm men a very helpful program has been arranged:

Tuesday: Discussion of making "Grain Crop Profitable." "Home Grown Fertility," under this a discussion will be on cowpeas, velvet beans, soy beans, clovers, vetch, Austrian winter peas.

Wednesday: Effects of fertilizer on earliness of cotton, lesson from the cotton contest, and how Darrington county fought the boll weevil.

Thursday: Soil erosion will be discussed.

Each afternoon a contest will be on in identifying various plants. Prizes will be given at this contest, consisting of Austrian winter pea seed. A total of 800 pounds of seed will be distributed for prizes.

Various phases of dairying and livestock will be discussed during Farmer's Week. A number of modern types of machinery will be on display at the college.

The roads and all important places will be well marked on the college property in order that a stranger may find his way to any place he wishes to go.

Rooms will not be reserved this year, and meals will cost 50c each. 25c will be charged for meals for small children. All the county agents and specialists of the state will be present, to be of assistance to any farmer who may call upon them.

The county agent will be out of the county for Farmer's Week, and will return the following week for three days encampment with club boys, with the following week as a portion of vacation.

"COLLEGE VIEW" HAS NEW PLAN

Attractive New Residential Section Being Rapidly Developed. Selection of Homesites Made Easy.

Along with the opening and development of a new section of Clinton's rapidly growing residential section, the developers, Wm. P. Jacobs and John T. Young, are trying in College View a new plan. It is a plan that has proven popular and successful in Spartanburg, Greenville and Columbia, and these enterprising young Clintonians are striving to keep Clinton abreast of the times in development and growth.

The plan, explained in detail in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue, involves the posting of each lot with a tag giving the lot number, dimensions and price. Prospects may thus look over the property, compare the location, sizes, shapes and prices of the various home sites, and without further ado, tear off the tag and bring it to either Mr. Jacobs or Mr. Young, with a deposit of as much as 10 per cent of the purchase price, and easy terms will be arranged if desired for the balance.

There is a general impression prevalent, brought about no doubt by the attractiveness of College View property, that College View prices are higher than lots elsewhere in the city. Nothing could be farther from the fact, however, for the prices now posted in College View prove to be much lower than similarly desirable property in many other sections of the town. The easy terms of payment add still further to its attractiveness.

The new plan is being applied to the entire portion of College View that is unsold, but is adopted particularly to introduce the new section known as "The Woods." The new section is actually closer in to the business section than the original College View. It lies only a block from Broadway and the college campus, a block from "Need More" and the orphanage campus, and is immediately west of the home of the late Geo. W. Young, original owner and co-developer of College View.

The new section, while crossed by the already established thoroughfares, Maple street, Hickory avenue, Cedar avenue, and Chestnut avenue, also adds a new and beautiful street to the city, "Young Drive," named in honor of the late Geo. W. Young. It is an attractive drive, winding in and out among the beautiful wooded section. It has recently been built jointly by the city and the developers of the property, and is perhaps the most attractive short street in the city. The public is invited to drive over the new street and note Clinton's latest progress in residential extension. Many attractive homesites are offered, some wooded, some cleared, some large, some small, some regular, some irregular, altogether comprising a beautiful section that is a credit to Clinton. Several new homes are either in progress or shortly to arise and many others will follow. Already a number of the new lots have been purchased by Clintonians.

While, as with the original College View development, the developers are encouraging sales mainly to possible home builders, the reasonableness of the price and the inevitable future and stability of the property makes a homesite in College View a very promising investment financially.

The city is co-operating by building and draining the streets and extending water and sewer mains and electric lines. In the fall, at the proper planting season, the new streets and lots will be beautified by the developers, by planting hundreds of evergreens and flowering shrubs, as well as oaks and lombardy poplars. The developers have the ambition to make of College View a city development second to none in the state.

Seek To Increase Usage Of Cotton

Columbia, July 27.—Indicating the sweep across the South of sentiment to use cotton products, the Cotton Products Extension committee has been advised that the Southern Wholesale Confectioners association at its recent annual meeting in Atlanta, voted to request all confectioners to order their sugar in cotton sacks.

The committee has also been advised that the Wayne County Advisory council at its quarterly meeting held at Goldsboro, N. C., on July 19, adopted a resolution urging housewives of the South to demand that their flour, rice, sugar, feeds, etc., shall come in cotton containers.

Members of the Alabama State Council of Home Demonstration clubs will wear cotton dresses and hose and carry purses made of cotton material to their annual meeting at Auburn, August 5-10, the committee has been advised. There will be a display of useful articles made from cotton flour sacks at this meeting.

Housewives over the South are being urged by the committee to ask for rice in cotton sacks in packages of from one to twenty-five pounds.
