GOD WALKS UPON THE HILLS

By Anna Blake Mezquida

God walks upon the hills! I saw Him in the flight
Of wild geese winging south at morn;
and when the night
Came running down the stairway of the trees
God called my heart to rest with whispering of the leaves;
I found the hollow of His footprints in the grass
Where yesteryear I watched the fires, devouring, pass;
I heard Him in the bush when some young, timid deer
Went down on little feet to drink the waters clear;
He laid His cool hand on my fevered soul, in rain—
God walked the hills today. And He will walk again!

God walks the valley! Closed by mountains round,
I saw His shadow tremble on the ground
In flicker of that butterfly's bright wing;
And in the lark's sweet note I heard God sing;
His breath blew from the river's bank across
The panting fields, where ripened wheat-heads toss;
And in the dark His face shone there afar,
Reflected on the waters from a star;
He pointed out the up-trail through my pain,
That I might walk the heights with Him again!

NORMAN-NORMAN

PICNIC AT CHICK SPRINGS

An event of Thursday afternoon was the Mother's club picnic at Chick Springs. After swimming had been enjoyed, a picnic supper was spread.

Those enjoying the picnic were: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moorhead and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Milling and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Ellis and Dill Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. John Holland Hunter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Hunter and family, Dr. and Mrs. T. L. W. Bailey, Mrs. John T. Little, Emma Little and Jamie Little.

CELEBRATES SIXTH BIRTHDAY

On Monday afternoon Mary Elizabeth Hattton, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hattton, celebrated her sixth birthday by entertaining a dozen of her little friends at a delightful lawn party. Entertaining games were directed by Miss Jamie Little. At the conclusion of the games ice cream, cake and candy was served to the following: Miles Hunter, Jr., Florence Hunter, Louise Jacobs, Amy Jacobs, Elliott Jacobs, Virginia Dillard, Josephine Copeland, Rufus Sadler, Jr., Virginia Sadler, Jack Arrington, Jim Arrington, Celeste Arrington and Agnes Kern.

BRIDGE PARTY FOR MISS McSWAIN

On Tuesday evening Miss Dorothy McSwain of Greenville, the guest of Mrs. W. D. Copeland, was honoree at a bridge party given by her hostess. After several progressions of the game had been enjoyed, refreshments were served by Mesdames W. D. Copeland, A. W. Brice, and Miss Margaret Brice.

Those playing were: Misses Dorothy McSwain, Kate Odiorne, Clara Louise O'Daniel, Selina Cozby, Isabel Witherspoon, and Cleon Pitts; Dr. W. T. Hughes, Isaac Copeland, Taylor Martin, Shockey Hall of Great Falls, Delma Rhame and Addison Neighbors. Miss McSwain was presented with an attractive gift as a memento of the occasion.

"MISS BLUE BONNET" A GREAT SUCCESS

At the Florida Street school on Friday evening, the three-act musical comedy, "Miss Blue Bonnet," directed by Miss Mary Holdridge of Arkansas, assisted by Miss Ellen Copeland as pianist, proved a complete success. The auditorium was filled with an audience which was most responsive to the actors.

Peppy songs, pretty chorus girls dressed in gay, becoming costumes, and graceful dances performed by little tots added spice to the performance.

Miss Lillian Burns Browning as "Miss Blue Bonnet" succeeded in winning the heart of the audience as well as of Burton Hill (J. B. Parrott). He scored a hit with his solos. Dr. William T. Hughes as "Hickory Stout," and Miss Emma Little as "Magnolia Evans," proved that they could be lovers as well as brilliant comedians.

Mrs. Oliver Burroughs as "Minerva Maddox," Fant Thornley as "Doctor Evans," and his wife (Mrs. Clyde Lankford), furnished sufficient humor to keep a ripple of laughter constant throughout the evening. Misses Gladys Aldred, Lois Blakely, Willie Rudd Fuller, Fredna Shockey and Willie Putnam, Messrs. John William Dillard and John Odiorne, gave able support in unravelling the love tangle which involved Magnolia, Miss Blue Bonnet, Burton Hill and Hickory Stout.

The play was given for the benefit of the Clinton high school athletic association.

McQUISTON-WILLIAMS WEDDING

Of cordial interest to a host of friends was the marriage of Miss Georgia Ruth McQuiston of this city, and George W. Williams, Jr., of York, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 5:30 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. Ross Lynn.

The handsome new home was decorated throughout in pink crepe myrtle and asparagus fern for the occasion. The service was performed in the spacious living room before an improvised altar which was formed by graduated white baskets of pink crepe myrtle interspersed with fern. Hanging over the mantel was a long mirror which reflected for the guests the plighting of the marriage vows.

Preceding the ceremony a pre-nuptial musical program was rendered by Miss Louise Thompson of Starr, as accompanist for J. Bernie Parrott of this city, who sang "At Nightfall," and "Miss Rosa Curry of Clio, who sang "When We Are Together." Miss Thompson was gowned in an attractive pink afternoon dress and Miss Curry in a becoming green georgette. Both wore shoulder corsages of pink roses.

As these songs ceased, the pianist began playing "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. The first to enter from the library was Dr. L. Ross Lynn, president of Thornwell orphanage, who officiated at the marriage. From the music room entered Miss LaVerne McQuiston of this city, as maid of honor, dressed in a shell pink georgette afternoon gown with pink slippers and hose to match, and wearing a pink Neapolitan picture hat. An arm bouquet of pink gladioli tied with matching ribbon completed her costume. She was followed by the bride on the arm of her brother, Lynn McQuiston of Norfolk, Va.

The bride was a picture of radiant loveliness in a becoming fall costume of egg shell blue velvet skirt and satin blouse with slippers and hose to match. She wore a close-fitting felt hat of the same color. Her bridal flowers consisted of an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, George W. Williams, Sr., of York, father of the groom.

After the young couple had been united by the impressive ring ceremony, the bridal party with Mrs. H. F. McQuiston, mother of the bride, and Mrs. George W. Williams, Sr., of York, formed a receiving line.

At the front door Miss Janie Lois Lynn and Miss Doris Young, of Laurens, welcomed the guests. In the dining room pink and white ice cream, cake, and mints were served by Misses Mary White of Abbeville, Margaret Cope of Greenville, and Ruby Lipscomb of Ninety-Six. Punch was served on the porch by Miss Elizabeth Hudgens of Anderson.

Mrs. Williams is the elder daughter of Mrs. Herbert F. McQuiston. She is a graduate of Chicora college, and for the past two years has taught music in York.

Mr. Williams is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Williams, Sr., of York. He received his education at Erskine college and is now connected with the Dixie Oil company in Rock Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home to their friends in York.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Williams, Sr., of York; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Martin of Clover; Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Royal of Greenwood; Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Milling of Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Turner of Winnsboro; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Marshall, Ed, Arnold, Frances and Sophie Marshall of Rock Hill; Mrs. F. E. Pegram, Miss Martha Pegram, P. C. Henderson, Miss Wilmore Logan, Rudolph Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neil, Miss Gladys Neil, Miss Bessie Barron, Miss Louise Barron, Archie Barron, Charlie Auld, T. M. Lowry, A. S. Bethea and A. I. Hart of York; Rev. and Mrs. Paul Grier of Greenwood; Rupert Page of Clover; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Guy and Mrs. R. B. Lowry of Chester, and Lynn McQuiston of Norfolk, Va.
