WEAK SPELLS

"I WAS so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockcroft, of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything."

"At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt—felt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks."

"I read of Cardui. I sent for a bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before."

"I give the credit to Cardui, for after I had given it a thorough trial, I got well."

WHAT DO P. S. JEANES DO?

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association.

International Sunday School Lesson for September 29 REVIEW: SIGNIFICANCE OF THE EXILE AND RESTORATION

The review lesson is like clinching the nail. A careful study of this quarterly lesson will help to hold the facts in memory, and especially as you are putting the truths into practice in your life. Something over 150 years in time are covered in the past twelve lessons. The title gives the two subdivisions from the historical standpoint: Exile and restoration.

Those who are seeking to get all out of this course that is possible will read the entire books from which these lessons are taken, and they are Ezekiel, Daniel, Ezra, Nehemiah and Malachi. You should read at least the selected portions that were studied in connection with each lesson. Very little success comes without genuinely hard work.

Since history is usually centered about the lives of individual leaders you can get much by giving special attention to the biography of the men whose books are named above. Then look up Esther as she is contemporary, though no lesson was given this quarter to her life. Also look up the secular history of that century and a half. You will observe the rise and fall of vast empires: Babylonia, Persia and Greece.

The horizon of Israel was greatly broadened during the years of exile.

They began to realize that there were other nations that were playing a great part in the life of the world. They had been largely an agricultural nation, but the contacts in Babylon thrust them into the commercial activities that they have ever since maintained. Their cultural development was increased as they became students in the schools of other nations.

A purpose from Jehovah's angle was to stamp out idolatry which in Palestine was polluting them physically and enervating them spiritually. They went back to Jerusalem to live according to the law of God. To be sure there were lapses: there always are. They rebuilt the temple and then protected it by placing a good wall around the city. The rolls of the law were studied that they might follow the teachings both as they applied to sacrifices and to the manner of their daily living.

Individual relationship and responsibility unto God was understood. This aroused personal conscience and no one could hide behind a people's sacrifice. Each must live rightly and justly before both God and man. They had experienced both the mercy and forgiveness of their loving Jehovah. Through prophecy they could look for their greatest blessings in the future when the Messiah should come.

of pain or digestive disturbance. They refuse to accept any new or radical idea, believing that "the old way is best." They often give up some life-long ambition, saying, "It's too late now—I'm getting old." Then they begin to indulge in self pity.

And those are the things that make people grow old before their time. Those things also bring on many of the ailments associated with age. The minute a man or woman begins to let up, deterioration sets in. Our bodies are wonderful machines, and as such they must be cared for, properly fueled and kept in first class running condition.

The way to stay young in spirit and thought is to regard life as a thrilling adventure with who-knows-what just around the corner.

If you have children, try to see their point of view and make them glad to have you around instead of waiting until your back is turned to really enjoy themselves. Let them help you stay young.

Read the new books, listen to new ideas and don't hesitate to do something simply because you have never done such a thing before.

Make a hobby of some sport or exercise—whether it be golf or pitching horseshoes or just walking. Do anything and think anything that will exhilarate you and make you glad to be alive. Make up your mind to get the most out of life until the day you die.

If you have cared for your health and kept your body up to par during your youth, many of these things will come naturally to you. But even if you have committed some of the follies of youth, it is never too late to start building again.

You may not look young until the day you die, but it is certainly within your power to keep young and vital in spirit.

Associated Charities Committee Named

Recently the need of an Associated Charities organization in the city to aid helpless and destitute cases that arise, was discussed at the Chamber of Commerce and the idea unanimously approved. The appointment of a committee was authorized to make an investigation of the plan and work out details. The president of the organization has appointed the following committee to serve as representative of the entire community: Dr. D.

THINGS THAT MAKE YOU GROW OLD

Everybody hates to grow old. Yet, because the march of Time leaves its inevitable traces on the face and form of man, most people are resigned to that fact. But we should not blame Time if we grow old in thought and spirit. That is our own fault.

Age is, for the most part, a state of mind. With the approach of middle age, most people think it is time to "settle down." They fear to do anything that might be called undignified and so they give up everything in the nature of exercise or sports. They take a back seat and watch the world go by. They lose their interest in other people. They become careless of personal appearance. They coddle themselves if the weather is inclement or take to their beds with every twinge
