"SWEET IODINE"

God lavished special favors On this spot called Caroline, For her spinach, beans and onions Are frosting in iodine.

Her men grow strong and healthy, And her women grow divine, From pot licker made from cabbage, That are strong in iodine.

Her 'possums grow to pig size From eating muscadine That clusters in the wildwood, And is strong in iodine.

And her livestock, fat and frisky, Have been fed on cowpea vine, Grown and cut and hauled and harvested, And is strong in iodine.

Now, you folk from other regions, Out beyond our border line, If you'd like to live forever, Come and get your iodine.

Vance, W. D. Copeland, J. L. Wright, E. J. Adair, L. B. Dillard, Misses Sallie Wright and Clara Duckett. Mrs. Whitman Smith of Bishopville, was an out-of-town guest.

BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR MR. TRIBBLE

Mrs. D. E. Tribble surprised Mr. Tribble with a lovely five course dinner on Saturday evening in celebration of his 70th anniversary. Mr. Tribble had insisted that he was only 25, but when the guests were invited into the dining room and viewed the lovely sight of the cake with 70 candles adorning the center of the long table, the secret was revealed. The dining room was lovely in an array of yellow and white. Marigolds and yellow candles were used profusely in the living room and dining room.

The invited guests, besides all the members of the immediate family, were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stone, Mrs. Nannie Finney, John Adair, Mr. and Mrs. Wash Horton, C. W. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stone of Union, and Miss Bertha Gray Gallman of Abbeville.

STUDY CLUB HOLDS MEETINGS

PARTY FOR MISS BARSTOW

On Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. R. Lynn the Ella Riddell circle of the Auxiliary of Thornwell Memorial church entertained in honor of Miss Ada Barstow. The occasion was altogether a surprise to the honoree and not until the guests entered the dining room and began singing birthday songs to her did she realize the significance of the occasion. The beautifully iced and candled cake occupying the center of a daintily appointed table revealed its own secret. Notes or regret were also mingled with those of rejoicing for, after a stay of ten years at Thornwell after a stay of ten years at Thornwell, Miss Barstow was bidding her friends farewell. After spending a month with friends in different parts of Florida, she will make her home in Miami.

Miss Barstow is a charter member of the Ella Riddell circle and during her stay at the orphanage has been a most efficient matron at the Gordon cottage. Nineteen years ago she sailed from London and after spending a number of years in Y. W. C. A. work in Jacksonville, came to Clinton where she has made many friends.

When Basting Meat

It is always better to use fat, or butter mixed with water when basting meats. Plain water or juice that contains little fat dissolves the outside coat of the meat, releasing both juice and flavor.

Cleans White Enamel Quickly

When washing your white enameled cooking utensils, stains will come off readily if you dip the wet cloth in baking soda and rub over the enamel. Use plenty of soda.

Green Leads Presbyterians To Victory Over Lenoir-Rhyne In Season's Opening Game.

Shelby, N. C., Sept. 28.—Led by a flashy halfback, Jimmy Green, Presbyterian college defeated the Lenoir-Rhyne eleven here this afternoon, 15 to 0, in a game played before 3,000 fans at the Cleveland County fair.

A deadly aerial attack and fast end runs were largely responsible for the P. C. victory, although bad passes from center were damaging to Dick Gurley's Mountain Bears. The regular Lutheran center was not in the lineup, due to injuries which will keep him for the remainder of the season.

Early in the first quarter, Hatfield, Lenoir-Rhyne center, snapped one high over Hager's head on his 15-yard line, and although Hager recovered the ball, he was downed for a safety. A few minutes later P. C. added a touchdown to the safety on a long pass, Dunlap to Lynn, and a sweeping end run by Green. Try for point failed.

At the end of the quarter a 30-yard pass, Jones to Kiser, had the ball on the Presbyterians' 4-yard line. The South Carolinians held in the opening of the second quarter and punted out of the only really dangerous spot of the afternoon. After the first quarter, the Lutheran passing attack, Jones and Hager to Kiser, was repeatedly smothered.

In the third quarter two passes, Galloway to Green, for a total of 35 yards, sent over the final touchdown for P. C., Grafton, subbing for Galloway, dropped kick for the extra point.

Green, Presbyterian halfback, was the leading ground gainer and outstanding star, although pushed closely by Young and Senter.

Jones, fullback, led the Lenoir-Rhyne offense, while Poovey, substitute tackle, led both elevens in smashing line plays.

Line-up:

Lenoir-Rhyne (0)	P. C. (15)
McAllister.....rt	Lynn
Lemon.....re	Blakely
Hager.....qb	Beckman (c)
Reese.....hb	McNaull
Holhouser.....hb	Martin
Jones.....fb	Cheatham
Kiser (c).....le	Ferrene
Ritchie.....lt	Young
Rhyne.....lg	Green

Summary:
First downs, P. C. 10, Lenoir-Rhyne 3. Substitutions: P. C., Hamilton for Blakely, Senter for Young, Martin for Beckman, Jones for McNaull, Gillespie for Cheatham, Clinton for Ferrene, B. Dunlap for Green, Ritchie for Galloway, Walker for O. Dunlap, Grafton for Galloway. Lenoir-Rhyne: Poovey for McAllister, Coulter for Reese, Troutman for Holhouser, Mauney for Coulter. Officials: Referee, Wait (S. C.); umpire, Moss (Wake Forest); headlinesman, Barkeley (Erskine).

AMERICAN LEGION BEGINS MEETING

Louisville Is Scene of Eleventh Annual Convention. Judge Landis Addresses Gathering.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 30.—Martial music and the roll of drums today mingled with the rumble of thousands of shuffling feet that a few years ago responded with alacrity to the shrill bugle call as the eleventh annual convention of the American Legion swung into action.

Fourth street, Louisville's main business artery, shunted all its vehicular traffic elsewhere and was given over to the roar of high-stepping drum and bugle corps, bands, cannon and the good-natured repartee of the World war veterans.

A decided drop in temperature bolstered up the spirits that were fagged by an all night of merry-making and the carnival increased in intensity. Eleven years have added streaks of gray to most of the legionnaires but apparently have not dimmed their enthusiasms.

Starting off the day with a meeting in the armory, the veterans loudly cheered their commander, Paul V. McNutt and the other speakers who emphasized the need for adequate national defense and for increased aid for disabled service men.

They shouted their approval when Kennesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, charged the government with neglect of those rendered mentally unfit and blamed his own party for the failure of congress to pass a bill that would have increased hospital facilities for the veterans.

Charging that the Republican leaders in congress had blocked the bill and prevented its consideration by the house, Mr. Landis waved his hand high above his head and declared that if this happens again "there will be hell to pay in the Republican politics."

"I want the responsibility for this infamy to rest where it belongs," he added. During his reference to Republicans, he turned to the Republican governor of Kentucky, Flem B. Sampson, who was seated on the platform, and shook hands.

Commander McNutt said "the determining stand of the American Legion for adequate national defense is based upon the experiences of the past and actuated solely by sound patriotic motives."

NINE FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

Seven Defendants, All Men, Are Held Without Bail In Mecklenburg Jail. Fred Beal Among Them.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 30.—The state today simplified its case against the 16 labor leaders and strikers charged with the murder of O. F. Aderholt, police chief of Gastonia, by reducing all first degree murder charges to second degree charges and then further lightening its burden by holding only seven for trial. The action was taken as the third attempt to try the defendants was begun in the Mecklenburg county court house.

The cases against nine of the defendants were not prosessed with leave by Solicitor John G. Carpenter, who heads the prosecution.

The solicitor's action came at the opening of the court today under Judge M. V. Barnhill, and was allowed by an order by Judge Barnhill to elect 100 special veniremen. These will be called and an effort will be made to choose a jury from the 112.

As a result of the solicitor's action, those who face trial now on second degree murder charges are: Fred Erwin Beall of Lawrence, Mass., Southern organizer of the National Textile Workers union; George Carter, Misspah, N. J.; Clarence Miller, New York, Communist party worker; Joseph Harrison, Passaic, N. J., union organizer, and William McGinnis, Louis McLaughlin and K. Y. Kendricks, all Gastonia union members.

The seven were refused bail by Judge Barnhill, who informed defense counsel that because of the number to be tried and the possibility of a mistrial in case one should not be in court he thought it best for them to be held until the conclusion of the trial.

The defendants freed were Amy

The state, after announcing the reduction of first degree charges to second degree charges, was granted permission to consolidate its assault cases against the defendants with the murder charges and try them together.

All of the men held were named in the former trial as having been present when Chief Aderholt was shot. The trial came to an end September 9 when a juror became insane, necessitating a mistrial.
