RELIEF that is REFRESHING

"We have used Thedford's Black-Draught for years in our family. I can highly recommend it for many ailments. We take it for colds and for constipation. I have four children, and I give it to them. When my little girl gets bilious, or complains of headache, I give her a treatment of Black-Draught, and she is all right in a day or two."

"Sometimes when I have indigestion from improper eating, I have headache. Then I take Black-Draught. I always feel fresh and have more energy after I have taken it."—Mrs. E. Reich, 2215 East First Street, Austin, Texas.

Heart to Heart
ONLY A VIEW-POINT

We used to hear the quotation, "All the world loves a lover." We do not hear it so much in these later years. It is not true, anyway. The only perfect lover the world has ever known, met an ignominious death on the cross. It might better be said that, all the world loves the optimist; at least he commands the respect of his audience, and, draws a good salary. It is so easy for one in comfortable circumstances to be an optimist!

A very esteemed contemporary recently said, "There is no doubt as to the great wealth of our country; look at the automobile sales." Then, he proceeded to give a row of nine or ten figures, in proof of his assertion.

Therefore, every man that owns a gasoline vehicle is a well-to-do and prosperous man! It seems to me a long leap to that conclusion. Even within my somewhat narrow field of observation, I know dozens of cheap cars bought on payments—and, often well worn out before the final payment. Often the bottom of the flour

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness
By Bernarr Macfadden

PITY POOR GRANDMA

Have you ever stopped to wonder why women stay younger nowadays than they did in our grandmother's time?

Haven't you often heard how dear Grandma was married at fifteen and bore her first baby at sixteen; at twenty she was a dignified matron, at thirty a middle-aged woman, and at forty she was just as good as dead? Also, she was delicate, subject to weak spells and heart attacks. And if by any chance a girl wasn't married by the time she was eighteen she was a hopeless old maid!

Why is it? I'll tell you why.

Young girls in our grandmother's time grew old long before their time because they lived contrary to all the laws of nature. In grandmother's day a sixteen year old girl was scrawny and of poor physique; cumbersome clothes, long skirts, corsets and constant admonitions not to be a "tomboy" all tended to retard her physical development. Rarely was she sufficiently matured for marital relations at the time of marriage. And having been kept in ignorance of the facts of life and the necessity for pre-natal care, childbirth was a death-bed agony instead of a normal bodily function. "Female weakness" became a byword because nobody had heard of such a thing as corrective exercise and proper diet.

So through neglect and ignorance and abuse of health, is it any wonder that a woman was passe at thirty and a chronic invalid at forty?

Now take a look at our sixteen year old girls today. Beautifully formed, well developed, competing with men in all branches of sports, bubbling over with exuberance, teeming with vitality. . . Truly they are fit to be the mothers and wives of men!

And to whom does the credit belong? To athletics of course, which are now a part of our educational and social life.

Every girl who desires to be a splendid representative of her sex and to preserve her youth should adopt some form of physical exercise.

ROAD VICTORY IS APPLAUDED

Richards and Jones Pleased By Decision In Highway Bonds. Outcome Vital One.

Columbia, Oct. 12.—Governor John G. Richards tonight expressed himself as being delighted with the opinion of the court which has declared the 65,000,000 road bond issue bill constitutional. At the executive mansion he gave out the following statement:

"I am delighted with the decree of the court en banc in which it has been decided that the highway construction bill is constitutional. I feel sure that a great majority of the people of South Carolina are also delighted.

"I do not believe our courts have ever rendered a decision more vitally affecting our interests or that means more for the general welfare of the people and the prosperity and progress of the state.

"It is hoped that we can now proceed with the road construction program that has been so greatly retarded by litigation of recent months. Of course, the state can be made to suffer further delay by an appeal to the United States courts, but this would be the only result, as I am confident that such appeal when heard will be promptly denied. The United States courts will respect the rights of the state as expressed by its people through its legislature and its courts.

"I congratulate the people of the state on the prospect of an early resumption of our highway construction and the rapid completion of the system as planned by the state highway commission."

C. E. Jones, chairman of the South Carolina Highway commission, and an ardent advocate of the bond issue, tonight commented on the Supreme court's action on the bond bill, in a written statement, as follows:

"The act of the general assembly of 1929 and validated by the court en banc today expresses the measure of confidence that the general assembly had in the advantage to be gained for the state by means of adequate motor transport facilities. The acts provide plans to issue obligations to complete the state highway system to be repaid, principal and interest, from specific revenues—motor vehicles. That obligation, experience shows, may reasonably be expected to retire the obligations."

"The highway establishment is only about 12 years old, and 228 miles of the 4,700 mile system have been paved.
