A THOUGHT

A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.—St. Matthew 7:18.

Never let a man think that he can pursue a good end by evil means, without sinning against his own soul—Southey.

What jumps out of reach quicker than a promising future?

The height of ignorance is buying two neckties just alike.

What this country needs today is socks guaranteed for 10,000 miles.

So many people smoke now-a-days that it is hard to tell when to call the firemen.

Yes, it is all right to follow your natural bent unless it makes you crooked.

The burning question of the hour these early mornings is—who will get up and start the fire?

When a woman plans a party, the fun consists in making a list of those she won't invite.

Municipal pride is at its best when a town first begins to worry about its traffic problem.

WISE RULES

The New York State Conservation department has made eleven wise rules for the prevention of hunting accidents.

As men take to the field and wood, these rules deserve wide circulation. They are sensible. All hunters, in every part of the country, would do well to follow them. We print them herewith:

"Never carry loaded guns in automobiles or other vehicles.

"When afield hunting birds, keep abreast of and know the exact location of your companion.

"In loading never point a gun in the direction of your companion.

"In climbing over stone walls and fences, first break or unload your gun.

"A bird quartering to the right in the vicinity of your hunting companions should never be fired on by a hunter on the extreme left and vice versa.

"Never leave a loaded gun standing against a tree or lying on the ground where a dog may get at it.

"Always keep your gun pointed away from your companions when you stop to talk.

"In handing a gun to a person for inspection, be sure it is unloaded.

"Never shoot in the direction of your companions because you consider yourself a good marksman. You are taking a dangerous chance.

"Carry a gun pointed down to the left. If you shoot left handed walk at the extreme right of the party.

"At all times be careful."

GEORGIA SYNOD COMING

It was a very gracious act on the part of the Georgia synod in session last week, to accept the invitation to hold its meeting next year in this city. It is quite unusual for a synod to go without its bounds for its annual sessions, and this makes the compliment all the more appreciated by our community.

The location here of our two Presbyterian institutions is responsible of course, for the acceptance of the invitation. Georgia has long been a part owner of the Thornwell orphanage and is vitally interested in its work. The sessions of the body will be held on the campus of this historic institution.

An added interest, and one that had a large weight in the acceptance of the invitation by the Georgians, is the new joint ownership of Presbyterian college by the synod of Georgia. It will be recalled that last year the synod pledged its support to the institution and now has representation on the governing board. With the two synods united in the support of the college, and the present debt-relieving campaign successfully "put across," a brighter day will lie ahead and unprecedented prospects for progress and growth are in view. Georgia may be counted upon to contribute its part in this forward-reaching educational movement.

The invitation heartily accepted by our Georgia friends, Clinton should fall in line and co-operate in every way possible in the entertainment of the visitors next year. As an outcome of the occasion, inestimable good will come to both the orphanage and college.

THE CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

We note with pleasure the steady progress that is being made in the organization of the state-wide forces to carry out the Presbyterian College Program of Deliverance. The readiness with which leading laymen and pastors throughout the synod are identifying themselves with the program seems to augur well for this campaign to raise $350,000 to deliver the college from its burden of debt.

To date all the Zone, Presbytery and group chairmen and associate chairmen have been obtained, while a majority of the church chairmen and many of the church committeemen have been secured. When the organization is completed, it will be composed of more than a thousand laymen and pastors, a thousand of the synod's leading Presbyterians, a thousand men and women who are co-operating in this great movement of deliverance.

The work in Clinton and vicinity is under the leadership of C. M. Bailey and Dr. B. O. Whitten, as zone chairman and group chairman, respectively, and these leaders are meeting with gratifying response from laymen and clergy. The organization in this section is keeping pace with that in other sections of the state.

The special gifts work also is progressing favorably under the leadership of W. P. Jacobs and President McSween. With the members of their committee these two men are covering the entire state, and the results achieved by them so far seem to indicate an increasing interest in the cause of Presbyterian college.

We of Clinton may well feel gratified over the growing evidence of a desire on the part of all Presbyterians to place Presbyterian college upon a financial foundation of impregnable soundness.

Bailey's Big Sale Begins Friday

J. A. Bailey, one of the city's oldest and well known merchants, announces the opening of a sensational Fall Sale beginning Friday morning at the stroke of nine. An experienced sales manager, clerks and extra help, have been quite busy the past week arranging the mammoth stock and getting everything in readiness for the crack of the whip tomorrow morning. The sale will be store-wide in its scope with everything thrown on the block to outfit the entire family from head to foot. The "big news" is heralded forth in an attractive double-page advertisement in today's paper, to which the public's attention is directed.

Eric Barnes Goes To Allendale

Eric Barnes, popular druggist at Kellers Drug store for the past few years, has severed his relation with that concern and left Sunday for Allendale where he has accepted a position as pharmacist and general manager of the Carolina Drug company. He will be joined later by Mrs. Barnes and children. He is succeeded at Kellers by R. L. Johnson of Anderson.

A. & P. Observes Its 70th Year

This week marks the seventieth anniversary of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company. Seventy years ago this system of stores, the oldest and largest of all chain systems, had its inception in New York City in a single small shop that specialized in tea and coffees—today more than 15,000 A. & P. stores serve cities, towns and villages in 34 states as well as in Canada.

In celebration of this anniversary, the Clinton A. & P. store is holding this week its 70th Anniversary Sale as will be seen from the advertising columns of today's paper.

J. R. Tucker, the superintendent in charge of the local A. & P. food store, tells a fascinating story about his company. "Most people think of A. & P. as just a vast number of stores all over the country," he said, "without further thought about the complex and intricate organization necessary to run those stores, to buy foods for them, to bake bread, to can salmon, to roast coffee, to ship and truck all those foods to thousands of stores—and to do all this on so large a scale that A. & P. stores can serve 5,000,000 customers each day.

Foods of all kinds are obtained from the best source and are routed by the quickest, most efficient, most economical method known to A. & P. stores in thousands of communities.

Hallowe'en Carnival Friday Night

A clever Hallowe'en carnival will be given in Copeland's hall Friday night at eight o'clock to which the public is cordially invited. It will be a real Hallowe'en party, with ghosts, witches and spooks to entertain the crowd. Several talented young ladies have been busy the past week getting ready for tomorrow's performance, and it promises to please and delight all who are present. A small admission of 10c will be charged. The carnival is being given under the auspices of the Y. P. C. U. of the local A. R. P. church.
