

More and More Colds Treated Externally

Demand for Vicks VapoRub Pioneer of "No Dosing" Method, Grows At Amazing Rate

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today, more and more colds are treated externally, and the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers especially appreciate Vicks, because it checks colds without risk of upsetting children's delicate stomachs. Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a plaster, and at the same time gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Year after year the demand for Vicks has grown until it is now the family standby for colds—adults as well as children's—in more than 60 countries.

A short time ago the famous Vicks slogan "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," was raised to "21 Million" to keep step with the ever-increasing demand. Again the figures have been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly," in the United States alone.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association.

International Sunday School Lesson for November 3
RESPECT FOR RIGHTFUL AUTHORITY

Mark 12:13-17; Romans 13:1-14; I Peter 2:13-17

World's temperance Sunday is the Sunday just before election day and was fixed at that time in order that further information on this moral issue might have an effect in casting votes. All reforms come after a long process of teaching. The world became free from slavery by just such a process. The topics that are followed during this quarter show how practical is the Bible. Religion, to be effective, must deal with the everyday affairs in which we live.

The setting for the selection from Mark is a thrilling one, and just the kind that a novelist can make much of. Jesus was teaching in Jerusalem and His work was almost over. He was probably the most hated man in the community. Many also hated each other, but their feeling against Jesus was so great that they forgot their differences in order to make common cause against Him. Thus the Pharisees and Herodians pooled their interests in trying to entrap the Teacher with catch questions. The one which they thought would "get" him was about paying tribute to the Roman government. The answer was by means of an illustration as He asked for a denarius. All eyes were on Him and the coin as He held it up and inquired "Whose image?" The reply turned the laugh on the hecklers: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

The Bible stands for the full recognition of the authority of the government. Since constant benefits come from Caesar it is in order to pay their share of the tax which makes these advantages possible. Paul and Peter give the same principles in their writings. Paul's life was saved when he declared "I appeal unto Caesar." No government can be maintained when the citizens do as they please about obeying the laws of that land, or decide which ones they will accept.

Crime is a serious cost to taxpayers. Even slight study will reveal that those who "render unto God the things that are God's" are the least expensive to the state. Law-breakers are the most expensive citizens. Some day the community as a whole will refuse to pay the charges of those who deliberately break the law. Law does not make lawlessness, it merely reveals it.

The chemist labels alcohol as a poison. The public knows it as a producer of crime. It is very costly in dollars, morals and life itself. The best way of reaching the solution, aside from maintaining and enforcing the existing laws, is to be more active in the teaching process that the growing youth in every generation may learn the facts early and let alcohol alone, as they would avoid any other poison.

THEY ARE SURE COMING

With each successive season one looks forward to visits of the various tented aggregations that travel the country for the amusement of the people and no show is ever more heartily welcome than the HONEST BILL AND MOON BROS. TRAINED ANIMALS SHOWS. They have made a reputation for themselves by giving the people a good, high class entertainment which appeals to all as interesting, amusing and instructive. Everybody loves horses and ponies, more especially does this apply to the ladies who, with the little ones, are the most loyal patrons. They are assured of the highest form of entertainment, free from everything at all calculated to offend the most sensitive. "Cupid," the highest educated pony in the world, together with many prancing ponies in military drills and marches, are especially pleasing to the little ones.

Will exhibit at Goldville, Friday, Nov. 1st Clinton, Saturday, Nov. 2nd Two performances daily at 2 and 8 P. M. Don't fail to see the big free street parade at noon and free outside exhibitions on show grounds at one and seven P. M.

Piccadilly Salad

Peel and cut a large orange in dice; add sufficient chopped celery to make 1 cup and set on ice until wanted. Halve large pecan meats, using 2 cups nuts to the amount of fruit given. Mix, arrange on crisp lettuce and top with whipped cream mayonnaise. Garnish with strips of pimiento.

A PLEA

My portrait of Col. Charles Lindbergh, hanging on the wall, looks at me very earnestly this morning, I think, with a sort of urge in the calm features, to be careful what I say.

The daily newspaper has grown to be my very dependable friend; I find much that is comforting, edifying, even inspiring; but it calls Col Lindbergh "Lindy." And, it keeps that up with a persistence that is bumbling!

I wonder if newspapers in that day called President George Washington "Washy?" Or Lincoln "Linky?" I believe they did not. They ignored rag-pickers' lingo, bowery slush, cotton-field ninnysms. To apply "Smitty" to a hero of the comic strip is permissible; but to refer to a great American hero as "Lindy" is unworthy of American journalism.

Maybe great western newspapers indulge this silly piece of business with the idea that it is an endearing term I can imagine Jones's wife calling him "Jonesey," or Brown's partner saying "Browney," but it hardly goes in refined society. "Lindy" is to me, a slap in the face of intelligent Americans; Lindbergh does not need this sort of mushing sentiment. "Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh" is a name at once inspiring—of which America is proud.

But, "Lindy!" Baby-talk is all right in its place—for babies. It is perfectly all right and proper in the park, when the moon is waning—to one's own umpsy-dumpsy. But for the great American headline it is too cheap, shallow—it's becoming idiotic! American journalism has outgrown alley-rat parlance; it should pause and take a good look at itself in the mirror of public opinion.

There is always a possibility that I am wrong; it may be that, chopping off three letters of a name, saves several thousand dollars annually to the linotype—I hadn't figured that—printing "Lindy" a million times!

Coffee Sponge

Dissolve 2 tablespoons lemon-flavored gelatin in 1-3 cup boiling water and add to 2 cups strong black coffee, boiling hot; then add 2-3 cup sugar. When cool and beginning to thicken, beat with rotary egg beater until quite stiff. Add whites of 3 eggs, beaten stiff, or 1 1-2 cups stiff whipped cream, and continue beating until mixture will hold its shape. Turn into mold, chill thoroughly, remove and serve with thin cream.
