

MUCH COTTON IS DELIVERED

Sixteen Cent Advance By Government Brings In Much Staple. Loans Obtained Only Through Association.

Columbia, Nov. 19.—Heavy deliveries of cotton to the South Carolina Growers' Cooperative association by farmers wishing to take advantage of the liberal advances authorized by the federal farm board through the cooperative associations yesterday forced the Palmetto Compress and Warehouse company, concentration warehouse of the association, to charter a plane and send to Atlanta for official government warehouse receipts.

The compress had on hand at the beginning of the month what it regarded as an ample supply of receipts but recently the deliveries of cotton have been mounting gradually higher, and beginning last Friday had exceeded all records under the new contract. Monday night the management of the compress checked up and found that if deliveries today approximated those of the three previous days receipts would run short.

Early today H. Gordon Kenna, manager of the compress, chartered a plane and sent it to Atlanta to get the receipts from the firm authorized by the government to print them. The plane made the return trip from Atlanta in one hour and 50 minutes and the compress was issuing the receipts in the afternoon.

Alfred Scarborough, general manager of the South Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative association, said tonight that the office force of the association was working day and night in order to keep up with the rapidly mounting deliveries of cotton. The deliveries are already 50 per cent ahead of the same date last season and the ratio is gradually increasing, Mr. Scarborough said.

Mr. Scarborough said that his information was that the cotton cooperatives in all other cotton states were having the same rush and that a tremendous delivery is expected all over the South. The action of the federal farm board in throwing the strength of the government behind the associations has tended to greatly increase the deliveries, he said.

NEW CHURCH AT GOLDVILLE

Commission From South Carolina Presbytery Organizes Presbyterian Church At Joanna Mills.

Under the direction of a special commission from South Carolina Presbytery, a Presbyterian church was organized at Goldville on last Sunday afternoon with a small, but interested membership. A recent overture to presbytery signed by forty-five men, women and children of the Joanna Mills community, was approved, and machinery set in motion under the supervision of Dr. C. E. Sullivan, evangelist of this presbytery, for the formation of a church there. A desirable lot for a building has already been contributed by an interested friend, several initial contributions received, and it is hoped that plans in the near future may be completed for the erection of a house of worship.

The organization meeting Sunday afternoon was presided over by Dr. Sullivan and the required questions propounded by him to both the membership and officers. The congregation elected J. M. Bozard and A. J. Kay as ruling elders and they were immediately inducted into office. The election of deacons and official naming of the church, was postponed until a subsequent meeting.

The charge to the elders was delivered by Dr. D. J. Brimm, while the charge to the congregation was made by W. W. Harris. Dr. M. G. Woodworth, fourth member of the commission, served as secretary.

The Presbyterian work at Goldville for several months past has been in charge of W. H. Jackson, ministerial student at the Presbyterian college. While the initial membership is small, considerable interest in the proposed church has been manifested by this group of loyal Presbyterians, and indications point to an increasing membership and interest as the work goes forward.

STATE BUDGET IN THE MAKING

Appropriation Bill for Next Year Will Be Greater Than Last Year.

Columbia, Nov. 18.—Budget hearings, preparatory to the recommendations for the 1930 appropriation bill, have been virtually completed, Walter E. Duncan, of Aiken, secretary of the budget commission, has announced.

Less than six departments and institutions are yet to be heard, he said. Mr. Duncan's written statement on the matter follows:

"Budget hearings, conducted during the past month preparatory to recommendations of the budget commission for the 1930 appropriation bill, have practically been completed. Less than half a dozen departments and institutions remain to be heard. The budget commission has recessed until the latter part of November, pending the meeting on the last Tuesday in November of the board of trustees of Winthrop college. The Winthrop trustees usually frame the budget requests for that institution.

"While the total requests for 1930 from the various departments and institutions will be much larger this year than ever before—and particularly from the humanitarian institutions—and although no definite figures have been given out by the budget commission, the amount that will be recommended by the governor and the budget commission will fall far short of the total requests.

"Necessarily, an appropriation bill running several hundred dollars above that for the present year must be recommended to meet the requirements of certain legislative enactments during the last session, among these the statutory increase of Confederate pensions, the publishing (for a five-year period) of the South Carolina reports, the payment by the state instead of by the various counties of the farm and home demonstration agents—and the fact that 1930 is election year, which makes a considerable difference in the appropriations made for defraying the expenses of state elections.

"The bulk of the increase asked for 1930, as usually, is for permanent improvements—new buildings.

"Not even tentative figures have been given out, as it is not usual for the budget commission to make public any figures until the work is completed about January 1 of each year, but Governor Richards and the members of the commission have labored to keep the recommendations down as low as possible without injury to any department or institutions and although the total recommendations will be considerably in excess of those of the past two years—possibly $400,000 to $500,000 higher—this total will not be as large as the amounts of some appropriation bills for past years."

Orphanage To Entertain Clubs

At the regular Kiwanis meeting Thursday evening, an invitation from Dr. L. R. Lynn of Thornwell orphanage was accepted to be guests of that institution for its next regular meeting on Friday evening, Nov. 29th. A similar invitation has been extended to the Rotary club and the two organizations will unite in a joint meeting on this date, supper being served at 6:30 in the central dining hall. Dr. A. T. Jamison, superintendent of Connie Maxwell orphanage of Greenwood, has been extended an invitation to address the clubs and is expected to be present.

At the Kiwanis meeting Thursday, ballots were put in the hands of all members for the nomination of officers for the ensuing year, the election to be completed in December. The club also decided to hold its annual "ladies night" celebration in January instead of December as in the past.

P. C. CAMPAIGN MAKES PROGRESS

Debt Fund Now Well Past One-Third Mark. Friday's Report Expected To Increase Total.

With the Presbyterian college program of deliverance being pushed with renewed vigor this week, a fourth report is scheduled for tomorrow from all Presbyterian churches in the state.

Reports received Tuesday sent the fund well past the one-third mark, in spite of the fact that many of the churches have as yet failed to make any reports.

Returns have been received to date from 184 churches, leaving 88 that have made no report whatever. These 88, along with all the others, have been urged to be certain to send in reports Friday.

Twenty-six churches now have reached or exceeded the goals assigned them. Among these churches is the Whitmire church, of which J. H. Simpson is campaign chairman. Rev. T. C. Bryan is the pastor. Others include Iva, Richland, Walhalla, Seneca, Woodruff, Reedy River, Kershaw, Lanes, Olanta and Pinewood.

One of the donors who helped Richard go "over the top" was Captain A. H. Ellison, a ninety-year old war veteran who joined the church at the age of 82.

Reports from churches in South Carolina presbytery have been somewhat slow in coming in, but all the churches in the presbytery are planning to have reports tomorrow, with some of them likely to follow Whitmire's lead in going over the top.

Rev. John McSweeney, president of the college, has urged united cooperation in this phase of the campaign.

EASTERN STARS MEET FRIDAY

James B. Parrott chapter No. 9, Order of the Eastern Star, will meet Friday night, at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and any visiting Eastern Stars will be welcomed.

PRESBYTERIANS AND DEACS BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE

Blue Stockings Knot Wake Forest in Brilliant Contest. Jimmie Green and Bernie Dunlap Save Game Four or Five Times With Splendid Safety Work. Smashing Tackling of Johnson's Eleven Stands Out.

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 19.—Presbyterian college's Blue Stocking eleven came up from South Carolina Tuesday to battle the Deacon football team of Wake Forest college to a scoreless tie.

The Blue Hose, battling brilliantly throughout the contest, had to be content with seeing Deacon backs get the honors for yardage reeled off in mid-field, but the North Carolina team was not able to pull a bit bigger scoring threat than the plucky little Palmetto eleven, which was outweighed more than ten pounds to the man.

The brilliant safety work of Jimmie Green and B. Dunlap was all that saved the Presbyterian goal four or more times. In the first half Green made several deadly tackles when Wake Forest backs had squirmed through the P. C. eleven and then in the second half Dunlap nabbed Wake Forest pass receivers when only he stood between them and his goal on more than one occasion.

Eustace Mills was the outstanding man for the fighting Deacons. He, like the other Wake Forest "first string" backs, was sent into the contest after the first quarter, but the South Carolina Blue Hose had found themselves against the Deacon starters and held their own against all that Coach Pat Miller could muster.

Mills got the longest run of the day, 35 yards, and also received a pass from Fullen for a gain of 2 yards. Other long gains registered by the Deacons were runs by Hipps for 11 and 26 yards, by Cox for 25 yards and by Quillen for 14 and 18 yards.

Long passes completed by the Deacons included: Quillen to Hipps, 38

SENDS OUT CARDS TO AUTO OWNERS

Licensing Division Mails Applications. Over 200,000 Go In Mails. Front and Rear Plates This Year.

Columbia, Nov. 16.—Blank applications for automobile license plates for 1930 have been prepared for the licensing division of the South Carolina highway department, W. V. Sutherland, director, said, and have already been placed at the postoffice. They will go out Monday and owners of automobiles over the state will have received them by Tuesday night.

Two hundred and thirty-three thousand letters, containing the application blanks and instructions for filling out, are being mailed out in the first batch—this covers owners of passenger cars, trucks, trailers and motorcycles.

In 1930 two plates on each car are required—one to be affixed to the front and the other to the rear. The additional plate will cost the user nothing—that is, the car owner pays the same license fee for the two plates in 1930 as he did for the one plate in 1929. However, the additional weight of the second plate will increase the mailing charges five cents. Class A licenses which last year sold for $9.05, including postage, will this year sell for $9.10, this also including postage. If the car owner applies directly to the office of the highway department, the cost will be $9.00 for the A plates. The prices for other plates will be the same as last year, except for the additional postage.

The plates this year are black and white—the background is black with the lettering and numerals white. Also on each plate is the state's iodine label.

The licenses are to be displayed January 1, under the terms of the law now in force. Shipments of plates will begin about as soon as applications are received and the licensing division will be a busy place indeed.

HOME-COMING DAY PLANNED

Presbyterian-Newberry Football Game To Be Thanksgiving Feature. New Swimming Pool To Be Dedicated.

Thanksgiving day, November 28th, is to be a big day at Presbyterian college. In short, that is the date that has been designated as home-coming time. Officers of the alumni association are busy preparing the program of festivities.

Of course the main event of the day is the closing game of the football season. At three o'clock on the afternoon of the 28th, P. C. and Newberry will line up on Johnson field for the long-awaited contest. It will be an important game in more than one way. Records of P. C.-Newberry games Presbyterian has won seven, Newberry five, and one has resulted in a deadlock at 0-0. Newberry is anxious to win this year and put themselves within striking distance of an even standing. P. C. is equally anxious to lengthen a scanty lead by a Turkey-day victory.

The second big event is the dedication of the new swimming pool. Presbyterian supporters have watched with enthusiasm the growth of the physical plant. In recent years the splendid Leroy Springs gymnasium, Bailey Memorial stadium, and finally this modern, perfectly appointed swimming pool, have been added. Presbyterian is now the best-equipped small college in the South.

It is needless to say that Home-coming day will have its banquet. No event of the kind is complete without a big dinner. It is an occasion for the renewing of old contacts and friendships, as well as for the refreshing of the inner man. Mrs. Hunter is famous for her big spreads—and this is to be the greatest of them all.

The program will be rounded out by several necessary business meetings of the alumni association. The time of these has not yet been announced. Requests and checks are already coming in, and Lonnie McMillan is sending out a steady stream of tickets for the game. Alumni will be given the cream of the crop—a section on the fifty-yard line. The crowd of old grads is going to be large.

The big P. C.-Newberry game begins at 3 p. m.

DEATH CLAIMS LITTLE GIRL

Charlotte Garland Passes At Orphanage After Serious Illness. Interment In Buladean, N. C.

On last Thursday night, little Charlotte Garland, nine years of age, passed away at the Lesh infirmary at the orphanage after a critical illness of a few days duration.

In September when the medical examinations were given the orphanage children it was found that Charlotte was not in good physical condition and she was listed for further examination and careful observation. These were given, but just two weeks ago she was taken ill. The case was diagnosed as tubercula meningitis and the dreadful disease rapidly ran its course until on Nov. 14th the spirit left its little earthly house.

Aside from orphanage friends there were present the child's mother from Buladean, N. C., and two brothers and a sister who are pupils in the institution. The remains were accompanied by the mother to Buladean for burial.

Charlotte was one of the bright, attractive and thoroughly dependable little girls of the Silliman cottage. During her stay at the orphanage she made friends with everyone. A shadow of gloom was thrown over the home by the death of the little one.

The principal address was made by the Rev. W. C. Kirkland and was on the subject "The Scotch Contribution to South Carolina Methodism." The paper was based on historical information filed in the archives at Wofford college, Spartanburg, under the direction of Dr. D. D. Wallace, of the Wofford faculty.

Ministers and laymen began gathering this afternoon for the conference. Various committee meetings were held today and candidates for admission into the Methodist ministry stood examinations provided to ascertain their academic and theological qualifications.

Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon of Charlotte, will open the conference formally at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. He will preside over the deliberations of the body throughout the week and each morning with the exception of Sunday will preach a sermon at 11:30 o'clock.

Each night of the conference the Rev. W. B. Trimble of Asheville, N. C., will preach. A special sermon to undergraduates will be delivered tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. C. C. Herbert.

Business sessions will be held each morning and afternoon through Sunday. One of the principal items of business will be the election of delegates to the general conference which will hold its quadrennial session next May at Dallas, Texas. The Upper South Carolina conference is entitled to six clerical and six lay delegates.

Also during the conference Bishop Mouzon is expected to reiterate his recommendation made at the South Carolina conference last week at Charleston that the two conferences be merged. To affect such a consolidation the two conferences must signify their approval with final action left in the hands of the general conference.

Assignment of ministers will be announced on the last day of the conference.

The membership of the Upper South Carolina conference is listed at 76,153, with 158 pastoral charges, 176 active ministers, 21 supernumeraries and six local preachers serving as supplies.

Laurens Buys New Fire Truck

Laurens, Nov. 18.—The city of Laurens has a new $13,000 fire truck, said to be the last word in mechanism, equipment and capacity for fire fighting. It is an American-LaFrance machine, with a 130 horse-power motor, 600 pounds of pressure, a 1,000 gallon a minute capacity, and is equipped with the latest improved and approved appliances and is a thing of beauty. Instead of junking the old fire truck which has been in service for about 14 years, it will be overhauled by a mechanic from the southeastern headquarters and retained for service in case of minor fires or in emergencies.
