HOLLOWAY-SCURRY

The following account of the marriage of Miss Mayme Holloway of Chappells, to Ralph Scurry, Jr., of this city, will be read with interest. Mr. Scurry is connected with the Metropolitan Life Insurance company and has made many friends since locating here two years ago.

Chappells, Nov. 17.—A marriage of unusual interest to a wide circle of friends was that in which Miss Mayme Holloway of Chappells, became the bride of Ralph Scurry, Jr., of Clinton. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Osce Holloway and it was at their attractive home at Chappells that the marriage took place last Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family connection, the ceremony, performed by the Baptist pastor, was a very quiet affair, only the immediate families of the happy pair and one or two friends being present. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scurry, Sr., of Vaughanville, and is a rising young business man of Clinton. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Scurry left by highway for Atlanta. After their tour they will be at home to their friends at Clinton.

DEATH CLAIMS CABINET MEMBER

Secretary of War James W. Good of Iowa, Succumbs To Attack of Blood Poisoning.

Washington, Nov. 17.—James W. Good, secretary of war, died tonight after blood poisoning finally overwhelmed his courageous resistance.

Just before lapsing into the final unconsciousness, the secretary of war had turned to one of his physicians and said feebly:

"I have never lost a fight in my life and I am not going to lose this one."

Toward the end opiates and oxygen were administered regularly to ease his pain and reinforce his strength. The stubborn determination to live persisted but weakness from poisoned blood slowly overcame his tenacity.

Mrs. Good and their two sons were near the bedside when death came. Secretary Adams and Secretary Davis also were at the hospital tonight.

President Hoover was among the first to learn of the passing. He and Mrs. Hoover left the White House at once for the military hospital.

The secretary was stricken last Tuesday while working on the annual department report. He went home where that evening Secretary Wilbur, a physician, and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, personal physician to the president, advised his immediate removal to the hospital.

Early Wednesday morning an immediate operation for gangrenous perforating appendicitis was ordered. Col. William L. Keller, noted army surgeon, executed the difficult and dangerous excision at 11 a. m. After a period of uncertainty, general blood poisoning set in.

Dr. John M. Finney, of Johns Hopkins hospital, was consulted and said every aid medical science could afford had been given Mr. Good.

Mr. Good's death was the first of a member of the cabinet while in office since that in 1924 of Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture in the Harding and Coolidge administrations. The war secretary made many friends here while in the house as a representative from Iowa from 1909 to 1921. He was western manager for Mr. Hoover in the last campaign.

Funeral services for Secretary Good will be held in the east room of the White House Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock in the presence of President Hoover, his cabinet and important officials of the government.
