Our Thanksgiving

People today have much more for which to return thanks than had our Pilgrim Fathers.

This institution appreciates the patronage of its customers at all times. But it wishes especially at this time to express gratitude and thanks to those who have helped build up this organization for the past 43 years through their business transactions.

May we continue to serve you in the future?

BANKERS OLDEST STRONGEST

Thanksgiving

We have very good reasons to be thankful. The cordial welcome extended our bank by the people of Clinton and contiguous territory—stands out as one of our principal reasons for gratitude.

We are thankful for the confidence our patrons have reposed in us, and we shall continue to strive to merit that confidence as—

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By Edson R. Waite

W. D. Little, publisher of the Ada (Oklahoma) News, says:

That the creative instinct, or the inward urge to build, is the strongest human impulse. The child builds his toy and wants all his friends to see it. The business man is glad to show the home, the business, the list of customers he has made by his own efforts. The mother's greatest pride is in her offspring, the thing to which she has given life itself.

Every normal person wants to leave behind, when he passes on, some monument by which future generations will judge him. A great building, a giant business, a new oil field, an improved farm or ranch, love in the hearts of those with whom he comes into contact. Shakespeare was wrong when he said that only evil lives after us. The good that men do constitute the only worth while monument.

To build—that is the great task of all of us. Build houses, build farms, build businesses, build character, build human lives.

The urge to build is what makes advertising so attractive. A generation ago it required a lifetime for a man to build a great business. With the assistance of newspaper advertising, one can now build a business to the same dimensions within a year or even a shorter time. There is no longer any reason for a meritorious product not being a success from the start. Advertising is the direct route to greater building power.

The world has much in store for the man who has a vision of service and is willing to spend money to let the world know what kind of service he can render. He can build truly, and quickly.

James F. Harney Dies In Laurens

Laurens, Nov. 26.—James F. Harney, 49, local manager of the National Utilities company of South Carolina, died Tuesday at his home on W. Main street after an illness of several weeks duration.

Funeral services were held from the residence Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock and interment followed at the Laurens cemetery. The services were in charge of the Rev. J. R. T. Major, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Mr. Harney had been a resident of Laurens for about eighteen years and for many years was superintendent of the Reedy River and Sullivan Power company operated under the presidency of former Senator N. B. Dial. When these properties were sold about two years ago Mr. Harney was appointed as local manager.

Mr. Harney was a native of Spartanburg, a son of the late James D. Harney and Emily K. Lee Harney. He married Miss Willie Mae Childress of this city, who survives, together with two young daughters, Mary and Jane Harney. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. J. B. Ramsay of Durham, N. C., and two brothers, T. L. Harney of Spartanburg, and W. S. Harney of Savannah, Ga. An aunt, Miss Nellie Lee of Spartanburg, also survives.

Now Millions More Stop "Dosing" Colds

Better External Treatment Wins New Users All Over the World

Every year since the introduction of Vicks VapoRub, more and more people have given up the old-fashioned way of "dosing" colds and turned to this modern external method. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially appreciate Vicks because there's nothing to swallow, and, of course, nothing to upset delicate stomachs. Just rubbed on, its medicated vapors are released by the heat of the body and inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages. At the same time Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, "drawing out" tightness and soreness.

Year by year, the fame of Vicks has spread from neighbor to neighbor and from state to state, until now it is used for the colds of adults as well as children in over 60 countries.

The ever-growing demand for this modern method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan. Made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," later raised to "21 Million," these figures are again being changed, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly"—in the United States alone.
