DRY GOODS STORE CHANGES HANDS

Farmers Mercantile Company Sells Dry Goods Department. Close-Out Sale Begins Friday.

The dry goods department of the Farmers Mercantile company of this city, has within the past week been sold to Levy & Company, well known and successful merchants of Newberry. The new owners have already assumed the ownership of the business and will continue to operate it in the same location in the hotel block and with the entire present sales force retained and ready to serve the Clinton public.

Beginning Friday morning promptly at 9 o'clock, the new owners will begin a Complete Close-Out Sale in which the entire stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes, notions, etc., will be thrown on the block at extraordinary and astounding low prices. The store is being arranged for the big opening tomorrow and everything is to go in the sale with not a single reservation or hold-back, an honest-to-goodness money-saving bargain feast in which only dependable merchandise will be offered. The story of the big sale is attractively told in a double-page advertisement appearing in today's paper.

AT LEAST, NOT NOW

I'm thankful for the sunshine,
I'm thankful for the rain,
I'm thankful for the summer wind
That blows the golden grain.
I'm thankful for my country,
I'm thankful for my God,
I'm thankful for the flowers I love,
The rose and goldenrod.
I'm thankful for my health and strength
And nerves that are not jerky,
But most of all I'm thankful
THAT I WASN'T BORN A TURKEY.

Nature's Blessings and Bounties on Every Side

Thanksgiving is defined as an act of gratitude for favors and mercies, and it is well that we have a day set apart annually for a public acknowledgment or celebration of divine goodness, either in deliverance from calamities or in the dispensation of blessings and the bounties of nature.

But, notwithstanding, "the ill that flesh is heir to," and those which we bring upon ourselves, we might make every day a day of thanksgiving, for every day we share these blessings and partake of these bounties, and we should rejoice every moment in the knowledge that they are found all around and about us, in the fields and streams, in the flowers and trees, in the sunshine and the showers, in the products of farms and gardens and orchards and vineyards, in the coal and stone and minerals that we store away for the use of man ages before his appearance on earth. We should be thankful that all of these things, and many more, were placed here for our comfort and pleasure, and above all, we should be thankful for life and love—for a paradise that is lost by man mainly through his wanderings in labyrinths formed by his own acts.—Southern Cultivator and Farming.

WITH GRANDMOTHER

Over the river and through the wood!
Now grandmother's cap I spy!
Hurrah for the fun! Is the pudding done?
Hurrah for the pumpkin pie.
—Lydia M. Child in the Kansas Farmer.

Thinking Ourselves

Probably the most of us have a fight—or should have one—to keep from thinking ourselves for what we have. I know no reason why you and I might not have been born in a tribe of pygmies on the island of Sumatra, and then we should have had woefully stunted lives. We should have lacked the associations and training that have had a big place in making us capable of earning a living and getting good out of life. Our debt to our fellow men, and to all that made them what they are, is pretty heavy. We have the facts twisted in our minds when we spend much time giving credit to ourselves. Civilization and religious influences of many kinds have nudged America what it is, and we share in the benefits, receiving far more than we could contribute.—Ohio Farmer.

Proving Thankfulness

We have prospered in things material and have been able to work for our uplifting in things intellectual and spiritual. Let us remember that, as much has been given us, much will be expected from us; and that true honor age comes from the heart as well as from the lips and shows itself in deeds. We can best prove our thankfulness to the Almighty by the way in which on this earth and at the time each of us does his duty to his fellow men.—Theodore Roosevelt.

A Hot Egg Dessert

Beat the yolk of four eggs, mix with them a teaspoon of flour, three tablespoons powdered sugar, a very little salt; flavor with lemon extract or any other flavors that may be preferred. Whisk the whites of the six eggs to firm froth; mix them lightly with yolks; pour the mixture into a greased pan or dish; bake in quick oven. When well risen and lightly browned on the top it is done; roll out in dish, sift pulverized sugar over and send to table.

WEAK SPELLS

"I was so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockcroft, of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything. At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt—felt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks. I read of Cardui. I sent for a bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before. I give the credit to Cardui, for after I had given it a thorough trial, I got well."

Let's don't hollow hard times—we all have lots to be thankful for.

When you see a man with that tell-tale mark on his nose, don't come to the conclusion that it is from drinking moonshine from a jar. He may wear glasses.

Mr. Snapper: "On the contrary dear, nothing brings home the fact with so much force."
