EX-PUGILIST HERE SUNDAY

Rev. Joe Percente Will Tell Story of His Life in Three Baptist Churches of the Community.

The Rev. Joe Percente, ex-lightweight champion of the world, former gangster and bootlegger, but now a Baptist preacher and "America's most unique evangelist," will speak at the First Baptist church of this city on next Sunday evening at 7:30. At 11 a. m. he will speak at the Calvary Baptist church, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon will be heard at the Lydia Baptist church. The general public is cordially invited to hear this powerful man who was rescued from the hands of the devil and who has since that time proved himself a true soldier of the Cross.

Mr. Percente was the physical trainer of the late President Theodore Roosevelt and before his conversion was known in the underworld as a mighty influence for evil. He is now widely known throughout the country as a mighty influence for good, a living example of the wonderful power of God.

Mr. Percente's life story is intensely interesting. For a number of years he was a prominent figure in the ring, winning the lightweight championship from "Curly" Ferguson in 1889 in Pittsburgh, and losing it the following year to Peddler Palmer in London. Retiring from the ring, he opened a saloon in Chicago, and after the enactment of the prohibition law he turned run runner. He was caught and given a penitentiary sentence, but after serving his term he borrowed money from friends and returned to bootlegging. One of his friends committed suicide after checking up short in the bank where he worked, and Mr. Percente felt that he was the cause of his friend's death. Terrorized by remorse over this incident, he decided to end his own life by drowning. While on the way to the river, a song which a Christian woman was singing in a near-by home, "If Jesus Goes With Me I'll Go," touched his heart, and changed the course of his life. He turned back, passing a mission conducted by a preacher who had been interested in him. The preacher persuaded him to enter, and the same night he was converted. Since that time Mr. Percente has been telling the story of Jesus and His saving power. He has a message full of interest and helpfulness. He speaks with conviction, and he speaks from the heart.

The public is invited to hear this unique evangelist at the First Baptist church Sunday evening at 7:30.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank the people of Clinton and this community for the business given me while located here as owner of the Sanitary Cafe. I regret that circumstances have necessitated my leaving Clinton and I shall always hold the kindest regards for the town and its people.

LAST MEETING OF YEAR HELD

Chamber of Commerce Considers Road Projects and Other Matters. Several New Members Added.

The December meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held in the club rooms Tuesday evening with President Winn presiding. An enjoyable dinner was served by the local D. A. R. chapter, after which several matters were considered in the business session.

The president reported the following new members since the October meeting: R. Fleming Jones, Henderson Pitts, C. W. Cooper, A. B. Galloway and R. P. Chapman. Three additional members were received during the evening, Messrs. J. H. Van Hallen, J. R. Cobb and L. W. Davis of the Lydia Mills Booster club.

President Winn repeated his appeal for the Associated Charities fund to add Christmas cheer to several needy families in the community during the holidays.

A rising vote of thanks and appreciation was voted the McCrary Brothers and assistants of Laurens, for furnishing the musical program for "ladies night."

It was brought to the club's attention that petitions seeking the paving of the Calhoun highway were being circulated in the community and all citizens urged to sign same.

J. B. Parrott, member of the county delegation, spoke of the status of Route 56 from Clinton to the Spartanburg county line, and suggested to the club that it make a concerted effort through its road committees to develop this highway. He promised his wholehearted support on this project, or any other undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce.

J. F. Jacobs, Sr., and C. W. Stone of the roads committee, spoke of the progress that is being made to get Route 56 paved and that as soon as present petitions are properly signed, they will be submitted to the state highway department. Mr. Jacobs also spoke of the Calhoun highway project and stated that committees from all towns and communities traversed by this highway will appear before the state commission early next month to urge its hard-surfacing from the North Carolina line through this state and thence to the Georgia connection.

The matter of seeking county aid for library maintenance was brought before the club by J. H. Witherspoon, and a request for $1500 from the county delegation will be made at the approaching session of the legislature.

A motion was offered, calling for the appointment of a committee to provide a Christmas tree at the State Training school if it is so desired, and deemed advisable by the management of the institution.

A motion of thanks and appreciation was unanimously voted the city authorities in providing Christmas decorations in the business section for the holiday season.

LAURENS PAPER AGAIN PUBLISHED

J. T. and W. T. Crews Revive Laurensville Herald. Father Was Editor For More Than 50 Years.

Laurens, Dec. 6.—With J. T. and W. T. Crews as publishers, The Laurensville Herald, one of the oldest weekly newspapers in the state, has been revived, the first issue appearing today. The Herald plant, operated under another management, was burned out last July after which the company liquidated its affairs.

The Herald was owned and published by the late Col. Thomas B. Crews for more than fifty years. After Editor Crews' death in 1911, the paper was bought by a local stock company, and published for eighteen years by B. Y. Culbertson and W. L. Taylor.

The Messrs. Crews recently decided to revive their father's old newspaper. It is issued as a new volume, and today's number is a ten-page paper. Offices of the new paper are in the same building, second floor, that were occupied by The Herald before the plant was moved to the old Traynham building on the south side of the public square.

Small Fire At Training School

On Tuesday morning, about 5:30, a temporary shed at the State Training school, in which the laundry boiler was housed, became ignited by cinders that had been placed too close to the structure. None of the machinery was damaged and it was put back in use about twelve hours later. The entire damage will probably not amount to more than $100. The Clinton fire department responded promptly, but due to the condition of the road, the blaze was extinguished before its arrival.

NOTICE
I have sold the business of the Sanitary Cafe of Clinton, and am no longer connected in any way with this concern. Any bills due and unpaid, will be paid if presented to the Sanitary Cafe.

James T. Machen Passes In County

Laurens, Dec. 11.—Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Princeton Baptist church for James T. Machen, 76, who died Sunday night at Princeton at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Andrew J. Monroe, after a lingering illness, following a stroke of paralysis suffered last spring at his home in this city.

The church service was conducted by the Rev. Jodie A. Martin, of Laurens, assisted by the Rev. J. N. Watson, pastor of the Princeton church. The burial rites were held by the Machens.

Mr. Machen was a native of the Princeton section until about ten years ago when he moved to Laurens. In addition to Mrs. Monroe, he is survived by three sons, Rev. James H. Machen, and Ernest W. Machen, of Florida, and John S. Machen of Princeton; two sisters, Mrs. S. C. Moore of Honea Path, and Mrs. William Vaughn of near Charleston; two brothers, H. L. Machen and J. S. Machen of Greenville.

LEARN ABOUT GOODYEARS FROM US

If you are confused by the claims advanced for different tires, ask for proof instead of "talk" before you buy. Today the relative merits of tires may be very easily compared.

There are two main parts to a tire: (1) the outside Tread; (2) the inside Carcass. In both of these main parts, the superiority of Goodyear Tires will be clearly and quickly demonstrated to you by us.

That these superiorities are real and vital is proved by the fact that millions more people now ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind. The last sales figures show a gain for Goodyear Tires three times as great as the industry as a whole.

This Goodyear leadership, which grows greater each year in the great tire industry, points conclusively to a very superior product.
