Campfire Girls To Carole Tonight

This evening (Thursday) at 6:30 Camp Fire and Blue Bird girls will assemble at the Camp Fire hut to go caroling. A short ceremonial will be presented, after which the groups will go to homes to sing carols, trying especially to visit the homes of shut-ins. The groups will return to the hut for refreshments.

Mrs. W. G. King, Jr., executive director for the Clinton council, has asked that all leaders turn in the group histories before January 1.

The Kikunka Camp Fire girls trimmed a Christmas tree and decorated a Christmas room at Lowry's Rest Home on Thursday of the past week. Taking part in this holiday project were Sue Braag, Vicki Baldwin, Landa Culbertson, Sharon Fakkema, Kitty Hollis, Carol King, Sara Sadler, Phyllis Mixon, Patty Trowbridge, and Suzanne Watkins.

The O.K. Hi Horizon girls have attractively adorned the Camp Fire hut for the holiday season. On Wednesday afternoon of the past week the group trimmed a tree, arranged mantel and window decorations.

Fourteen first year Camp Fire girls of the Okizu group made Christmas tray cards for the local hospitals and rest home. The cards display Christmas seals and an original Christmas message composed by the girls.

The Tandra Horizon girls assisted the Jaycees on Thursday evening with the shopping tour for a number of children. Later, for a number of children Later, assisted by the leader, Mrs. A. B. Davidson, they served supper to the children at the armory.
