

Harry Whitten, Sr.
 Pendleton—Harry Whitten, Sr., 80, died Tuesday in an Anniston, Ala., hospital.
 He was a native of Pendleton, but had lived in Anniston for the past 20 years. He was a son of the late Edward Whitten and Mrs. Martha Douthit Whitten. Survivors include two sons, Harry Whitten, Jr., of Marietta, Ga., and Norman A. Whitten of Miami, Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. S. J. Yeoman of Anniston; nine grandchildren; a brother, Dr. B. O. Whitten of Clinton; and a sister, Mrs. O. C. Foster, of Pendleton.

 Graveside services were conducted Wednesday in LaGrange, Ga.

Moose Lodge Aids Children

The above scene has become a familiar one at Clinton's Moose Lodge and this year was no exception as members worked on their "Operation Santa Claus," in which toys are collected and distributed to needy children of the community. Cooperating were residents of the area and merchants. Shown are some of the lodge members who worked on the project, left to right: J. E. Paul E. Cannon

Laurens—Paul Eugene Cannon, 82, died suddenly early last Tuesday afternoon at his office in the Gulf Oil Corporation plant.
 He had been in declining health for several months, but had attended a luncheon given in his honor a short time earlier at a local restaurant celebrating his 45th year with Gulf oil as a distributor.

A native of Mississippi, he was the son of the late Silas Kirksey and Mary M. Brock Cannon. He graduated from Georgia Tech in 1903, and moved to Laurens from Grenada, Miss., in 1915.

He was an honorary member of the official board of the First Methodist Church and a past president of the Laurens Chamber of Commerce.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Woodie Anderson Cannon; one son, Dr. William M. Cannon of Waterloo, Iowa; one daughter, Mrs. J. B. Hodges of Greenville; three sisters, Mrs. Irene Warren of Abbeville, Ga.; Mrs. R. N. West of Daytona Beach, Fla.; and Mrs. B. F. Mauldin of Lavonia, Ga.; and 6 grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday morning at 11:00 a. m. at the First Methodist Church by Rev. Victor R. Hickman.

Burial was in the Laurens city cemetery.

John W. Gary, 69, Whitmire Druggist, Dies

Whitmire—Dr. John William Gary, 69, died at a Whitmire medical center early Tuesday morning after a sudden illness and several years of declining health.

A native of Laurens County, he was the son of the late Samuel L. and Pellerree Mason Gary. He had made his home in Whitmire for a number of years and operated the Whitmire Drug Co.

Dr. Gary was a former mayor of Whitmire and a former chairman of the Water Commission of Whitmire. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and was a Shriner. A veteran of World War I, he was a member of the Whitmire Presbyterian Church where he served as an elder for a number of years. His wife, the former Miss Druce Smith, died in 1958.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Byrd Martin of Laurens; a sister, Mrs. W. H. Jackson of Lucedale, Miss., and a grandchild. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Whitmire Presbyterian Church by the Rev. W. J. Jackson and the Rev. Davis F. Bridgman. Burial was in the Whitmire cemetery.

CLYDE EHRLHARDT

"See you in church Sunday" will be the challenge as Methodists throughout South Carolina during January to Easter stress regular church attendance.

Spearheaded by Bishop Paul Hardin, Jr., and the S. C. Conference Board of Evangelism, the attendance movement is expected to point up the value to every individual of worship in the church each week. Methodists of this area at Lydia, Bailey Memorial, Sandy Springs, Hopewell, Epworth in Joanna, and Broad Street will be participating.

During the services on January 1, members will be asked to commit themselves to church attendance every week and in the days immediately following, visitors will go to the homes of members not present to enlist them in the campaign.

During the period of this emphasis every worshipper, whether member or visitor, will be asked to register his attendance each Sunday. Records of attendance will be carefully maintained.

Clyde Ehrhardt, decorated Army veteran and former gridiron star, serves as assistant football coach and head baseball mentor at Presbyterian College.

He receives a large share of the credit for the excellent Blue Hose defense of the past three years—seasons that have produced the best three-year record in PC football history, including last January's Tangerine Bowl appearance.

Ehrhardt came to Presbyterian in 1957 with Head Coach Frank Jones, under whom he served as an assistant coach at Decatur High for three years. Except for the initial '57 season, they have continued their winning pattern here and posted 21 victories against 8 defeats and a tie over the past three campaigns.

The big PC coach played center on the University of Georgia bowl teams of the early 1940's and later with the professional Washington Redskins.

He saw service as an infantry officer in both World War II and the Korean War, and he earned every medal for valor given by the Army except the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Ehrhardt received his bachelor's degree from Georgia in 1943 and his master's from Peabody College in 1950. In addition to his coaching duties at PC, he teaches in the physical education department.

He is married to the former Carolyn Dozier of Leary, Ga., and they have two young sons.
