All political races in Laurens County were decided Tuesday with the exception of one — for the State Senate. A run-off contest for that post will be held two weeks hence, on Tuesday, June 23.

Contending for the office will be King Dixon, incumbent, of Laurens, and William C. Dobbins, of Joanna and Clinton, former member of the House of Representatives.

They were the leaders in a three-man race. Dobbins led the ticket with 3,072 votes. Dixon received 2,166, and David S. Taylor, present House member, 1,905.

Democratic nominees were named for three county offices — House of Representatives, Sheriff and County Commissioners; and four Magistrate posts in Hunter, Scuffletown and Dials Townships.

For the House of Representatives from Laurens County, J. C. (Jake) League and Marshall W. Abercrombie were nominated. League led the ticket with 3,927 votes, while Abercrombie, present representative, received 3,705.

Others in the four-man race for the two seats were Vestus Wehnt with 3,336 and William H. McNinch with 2,476.

Sheriff R. Eugene Johnson was re-nominated by a landslide, with 5,182 votes; Leroy (Bud) Keeble with 1,846, and Leonard G. Bragg with 194, were the other two contenders in the three-man race.

For County Commissioner Paul S. O'Dell and George M. Penland were re-nominated for their posts. Penland led with 5,211, O'Dell received 4,961, and Paul Brown, third man in the race, received 3,207.

For U. S. Representative from the Fourth Congressional District, Robert T. Ashmore, incumbent, ran away from Gordon Weathers in Laurens County, amassing 6,121 votes to 1,066 for Weathers. Greenville and Spartanburg are the other two counties in the Fourth District. Ashmore won handily in both counties, and will return to Washington for two more years.

MAGISTRATE POSTS

Charles (Buddy) Oakley was nominated for Magistrate of Hunter Township at Clinton, defeating veteran Magistrate Sam H. McCrary. The vote was: Oakley 1,418 McCrary 1,180.

For Magistrate of Hunter Township at Mountville, J. Derrill Bozard was re-nominated over R. C. Wilkie. The vote: Bozard 1,403, Wilkie 1,140.

For Magistrate of Scuffletown Township, Robert E. Elmore with 96 votes, defeated W. P. Abercrombie, with 69.

For Magistrate of Dials Township, Marvin S. Ross defeated C. M. Curry, 94 to 87.

Council Lets Contract For Removing Hotel Building

The old Clinton Hotel building, at the corner of South Broad Street and East Carolina Avenue, will be torn down within the next several weeks, according to a contract agreed upon Friday night by the city of Clinton and E. C. Brazell of Columbia.

The agreement was reached at the June meeting of City Council, and calls for razing the structure and cleaning off the site within 110 days. Brazell will pay the city $2,500 for salvage rights.

The city recently purchased the building and site from the Mississippi Youngs, a local family, for $47,500. At the same time, the Youngs made a gift of $1,000 to the city to be applied on the construction of a city hall on the site at some future date.

The site, after demolishing the building, a landmark in the community, will be used as a municipal parking lot.

The council session was presided over by Mayor J. J. Cornwall, with the following aldermen present: Boyd Holtzclaw, S. A. Pitts, Harry C. Layton, George W. Bagwell and James C. Craine. Alderman L. W. Cooper was out of the city.

A petition signed by residents of the College View Heights requesting installation of sewer lines in that section was presented to council.

Fred Burnett Jr., spokesman for the petitioners, said the section is faced with a dangerous health problem caused by inadequate sewer facilities. The area recently was annexed to the city.

Burnett requested council to include College View Heights in any scheduled sewer expansion programs of the city. The section is composed of about 25 homes.

Mayor Cornwall stated that Council would begin to make plans for the project as soon as practicable.

Council adopted an ordinance regulating the hours of establishments selling beer within the city, requiring them to close from midnight until 5 a. m.

Council reorganized the seven-member Recreation Commission by naming the following members: Dorsey Turner, Ward 1; L. S. Reddeck, ward 2; George Frady, ward 3; Marvin Gault, ward 4; Joel Cox, ward 5; D. C. Whitman, ward 6. Harry McSwain was named to continue as secretary-treasurer. The commission will select its own chairman.

Council approved an exchange
