

Community Chest Victory Torch

A torch now lights the way to victory during the Community Chest drive, currently underway.

Erected during the past week, it reminds all who see it that there is work to be done and contributions to be made. As long as the flame burns, it silently conveys the message that the task is unfinished. When the goal is reached, the flame will be extinguished.

The torch, 11 feet tall, and metal-clad, is a gift of Clinton Mills and will be used during Community Chest compaigns in coming years. It rests on a concrete base and is a permanent fixture. It stands on the corner of the city parking lot at South Broad Street and East Carolina Avenue.

The torch was designed and built by Murray Adams, tinsmith of Clinton Mills, with the assistance of T. D. Douglas and the late Harold Wallace, Lydia Mills carpenter, who built the framework and assisted Adams in the initial construction stages.

The gas burner atop the torch was designed and built by Bobby Harris, local Gas Authority foreman. Wyman Shealy, Gas Athority manager, had his crew install the torch and connect it to the lines.—Yarbor-

1,000 Young People Coming Saturday For PC Youth Day

Some 1,000 Presbyterian young people of South Carolina and Georgia will visit the Presbyterian College campus this Saturday for the third annual Presbyterian Youth Day.

They will be guests of PC for this special program which includes tours of the campus, a student program of entertainment, dinner in the new dining hall and the Blue Hose football game against Elon.

The occasion is scheduled to open with registration at 10 a.m. followed by campus tours conducted by members of Blue Key leadership fraternity. Blue Key also will have responsibility for the 11 a.m. program in Belk Auditorium. David G. Davies, Jr., of Panama City, Fla., Blue Key president, will preside over this affair designed to give the visiting young people a glimpse of campus life. PC president Marc C. Weersing also will speak to the group at this time. The remaining slate of Youth Day events calls for dinner in Greenville Dining Hall, starting at 12 noon, and the Carolinas Conference football game pitting Presbyterian against Elon at 2:30

Hampton Avenue School PTA Plans For Coming Event

A new year for the Parent-Teacher Association of the Hampton Avene School began Tesday evening when members assembled at the school for their first meeting.

Rev. and Mrs. Lewis co-presidents, presided, introduced the following officers: vice-presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherrill; ecretary, Mrs. George Brockenbrough; treasurer, Mervin Barbee.

To familiarize the new parents with the PTA, the program consisted of a film, "Where Children Come First." telling what the PTA is and what the organization can mean to a communiy. Following the color and sound movie, the new committee chairmen were introduced and gave brief outlines for the new year.

The attendance award was presented to Mrs. Frances Milam's 5th grade class for having the largest percentage of parents attending.

Receiving awards for having the highest number of parents to join the organization were 1st grade, Mrs. Rachel Adair's class; 2nd grade, Miss Evelyn McCrary's class; 3rd grade, Mrs. Polly McKee's class; 4th grade, Mrs. J. B. Speake's class; 5th grade, Mrs. Frances Milam's class; and 6th grade, Mrs. Marian Milam's class. The over-all winner was Mrs. Frances Milam's being treated with ice cream.

Plans for the Halloween Carnival were discussed with the date Saturday, October 30, from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the National Guard Armory. Alfio Undari, chairman for the special event, asked all grade mothers to meet with their chairman, Mrs. George Cornelson, on Tuesday morning, October 12, at 10:30 at her home to plan for the carnival.
