He said Waters wil serve as assistant coach, working with pass offense and backield defense, and will direct the college intramural program and serve as a physical education instructor.

Waters starred for three years as PC's first-string quarterback and climaxed his college playing career by leading the Blue Hose into the Tangerine Bowl at the close of the 1959 season. As a student leader, he compiled an excellent academic record while holding the positions of student body president and ROTC battalion executive officer. He received his BA degree in 1960 and immediately joined the San Francisco club. He played both offense and defense in six seasons with the 'Forty-Niners, operating as one of the trio of quarterbacks in the original "shotgun" offense until sidelined with a knee injury.

A native of Sylvania, Ga., Waters this summer will complete work on his master's degree at Georgia Southern. He plans to bring his wife and two children to Presbyterian in time for the start of the 1966-67 session on August 22.

This will mark Waters' second appearance on the PC coaching staff. He assisted the late Coach Clyde Ehrhardt in a temporary capacity in 1962, from February through May, helping with spring practice and track while off-duty from San Francisco.

The commissioners, representing. 317 Presbyterian churches in Georgia, were also told that an anonymous foundation has pledged $300,-000 toward a capital funds campain to be completed next year.

The Rev. Dr. B. G. Munro, minister of the First Presbyterian Church at Thomasville, Ga., is moderator of the twoday synod meeting here at Broad Street Methodist mately one week before the Presbyterian College. The Georgia synod is one of three supporters of the college.

Two women elders of the church attended as delegates for the first time, following a 1964 constitutional change. They are Mrs. Hazen Smith of Decatur, Ga., and Mrs. W. R. Jordan of Atlanta.

New Telephone To Be Available In Area June 16

A "completely new kind of telephone" will be available to Clinton subscribers on June 16. Southern Bell Manager Harrod Martin said today.

It is the touch-tone, which has pushbuttons instead of the rotary dial. "It is the phone of the future," Martin says. "Studies show that dialing with a touch-tone is about twice as fast as the 'old' way."

In connection with this new offering, the dial tone for the Clinton exchange will be changed Friday to a lowerpitched tone. "It's quite change," Martin says, "but I think people will find the new. sound even more pleasant.

Touch-tone telephones were introduced in South Caro for the first time a relative short time ago. Clinton have it available thro the exchange, accor
