

Work Begins on Clinton-Laurens Road

This was the scene Tuesday as workmen prepared the site for a bridge across a creek just west of the country club. It is the first work to get underway on the rebuilding and four-laning of the Clinton-Laurens road. The prime contractor is Hunter Bros. Construction Co. of Gray Court with a bid of about $900,000. The bridge work is being sub-contracted.—Photo by Yarrowborough.

Plans Approved For County Airport Work

The proposed $120,000 rebuilding of the Laurens County airport last week moved a couple of steps nearer to realization, according to Senator W. C. Dobbins.

A letter from the Federal Aviation Agency, Southern Region, of Atlanta, to Sen. Dobbins stated that the proposed 3200 ft. runway is acceptable from an airspace utilization standpoint, and the existing airport has also been approved from an engineering standpoint for further development.

Pressau Publishes Two Articles On 'Music in Worship'

Two articles on church music by Dr. Jack R. Pressau, associate professor of psychology and religion at Presbyterian College, have appeared in recent issues of religious publications.

His publications on "Music in Worship" has been published in "The Pulpit," while another entitled "Worship and Hymn Comprehension" was carried in "The Hymn." In these he drew upon his broad interest in church music, including the leadership of a presbytery workshop and the subject of his doctoral dissertation.

Dr. Pressau joined the PC faculty last September after receiving his PhD from the University of Pittsburgh. He earned his BS in music from Indiana State Teachers College and also is a graduate of Pittsburgh Xenia Seminary and the Presbyterian School of Christian Education.

BHP Ties Clinton in 7-7 Thriller

The Lower Richland Diamonds will come to Clinton as opponents for the Red Devils Friday night on the local field, for the third straight home game.

The Diamonds won their two opening games and will bring to Clinton a team rated as a razzle-dazzle passing and fancy stepping outfit.

The Clinton Red Devils didn't win Friday night here on Wilder Field, but the fans saw a whale of a football game.

They had to settle for a 7-7 tie with the Belton-Honea Path Bears in a dazzling battle that featured both offensive and defensive play.

Sonny King's BHP crew put up two goal line stands at the six and the one that kept Clinton from going into paydirt. And Clinton stopped BHP at the 10 in the closing minutes.

BHP scored in the second period when Clinton attempted to pass deep in their own territory. The aerial was intercepted by Doug Kelly and two plays later Sammy Chapman went around end on a pitchout to score.

In the third quarter, the Red Devils hit the mark with a pass from Freddie Tumblin to Francis Cooper, the play covering 39 yards.

Both teams kicked the extra points.

Clinton was recognized at the start of the season as the team to beat in the Western AA conference, but Belton Honea Path, playing their first year as a consolidated high school squad, came up with a team Friday that played in a par with the Red Devils.

Four punts were exchanged in the first quarter before Clinton exploded 59 yards in five running plays to the BHP 31. Four plays later the Red Devils were stopped at the 25.

The Bears got their only first down of the half while moving to the Clinton 45 in two plays twice pushed inside its eight plays. Chapman's own 20. In trying to break out the second time, an unexpected pass had disastrous results when BHP intercepted and scored.

After intermission the Red Devils mixed passing and running and appeared ready to score when they had first and goal on the six. The Bears took over on downs on the one.

When BHP attempted to kick, the punt was blocked and Clinton had first and goal on the one. Three attempts netted a half yard.

On fourth down, Darryl Hampton slipped while heading for daylight and BHP had held again.

"It was our bread and butter play," Howe said of the final attempt to score. "The hole was there. Darryl saw it, but his feet slipped as he was going for it. They had to kick out and we had the field position to score on a long pass. So, we got that touchdown. I can't claim we should have had two.

"This was a hard-nosed game. The teams played defense 90 per cent of the time. We made mistakes, but our kids were hitting."

The Bears had another scoring opportunity, with 1:30 left in the first half after Kenny Black returned a punt to the Clinton 10. Hampton's tackle saved a touchdown. A clipping penalty on the second play pushed the ball back to the 27. Then a receiver in the open near the ball and the threat ended.

"We were up for this game," King said. "We were bigger, but we couldn't match Clinton's speed. I believe the fans got their money's worth."

Hearing Friday In Clinton Case

A preliminary hearing has been scheduled Friday before U. S. Commissioner Jesse Ray in Greenville for Alan King Trammell, 27, former head teller for M. S. Bailey and Son, a Clinton banking house.

According to Charles H. DeFord, special agent in charge of the Columbia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Trammell is charged with embezzlement of $1,211.66 from the bank where he was employed.

Mr. DeFord said a complaint filed August 11 before a U. S. Commissioner in Greenville charged Trammell with violation of Title 18, Section 656, U. S. Code, to the effect that "on or about July 29, 1966, while an employee of M. S. Bailey & Son, Bankers, of Clinton, a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Alan King Trammell did willfully embezzle, abstract and purloin $1,211.66, which were funds of the bank."

The Columbia FBI agent said Trammell was taken into custody by federal agents in Metairie, La., August 12, and was taken before a N. S. Commissioner in New Orleans August 15, at which time bond was set at $2,000 and he was released under his own recognizance.

Since that time, the FBI said, the former teller has returned to South Carolina and, through his attorney, has requested the preliminary hearing in Greenville for the testing of the validity of the warrant for probable cause.

The office of the U. S. district attorney in Greenville explained that if possible cause is found, the defendant will be bound over for federal grand jury action Oct. 17 in Spartanburg. Again, the office noted, if the grand jury returns a true bill of indictment in the case, Trammell would be subject to trial at the term of U. S. District Court which opens October 24 in Greenville.

Trammell resigned his post about the end of July, shortly before the complaint charges the funds were taken.

Homemaker Unit Is New Service Of Welfare Dept.

Ratchford W. Boland, secretary of the Laurens County Welfare Board, has announced that a homemaker demonstration unit will be a new service to the welfare recipients of Laurens County.

The homemaking unit will demonstrate and teach better standards of living to individuals and families. Emphasis will be on self help with education in better housekeeping methods, simple meals and nutrition, home sewing and mending, and personal care.

Mrs. J. C. Martin has accepted a position in the homemaker unit. Another homemaker will be employed. Qualifications are a high school education and homemaking experience.

Now is the time to urge every citizen of our community to plan to a generous and prompt response to our annual United Fund drive.

This fund is collected and distributed by experienced local people, assuring efficiency in management and fairness to all worthy causes, plus a saving to us in time, money and multiple appeals.

Giving is expressing our thanks for the blessings we wish to share. Let's give and share and put United over.

1500 Young People To Visit College Saturday

Some 1,500 young people of South Carolina and Georgia will visit the Presbyterian College campus this Saturday for the fourth annual Presbyterian Youth Day.

They will be guests of PC for this special program which includes tours of the campus, a student program of entertainment, dinner in the college dining hall and the Blue Hose football opener against Frederick.

The occasion is scheduled to begin with registration Saturday at 3:00 p. m., followed immediately by campus tours conducted by members of Blue Key leadership fraternity. Blue Key will also have responsibility for the 4:15 p. m. program in Belk Auditorium. Bob Herlong of Manning, Blue Key president, will preside over this affair designed to give the visiting young people a glimpse of campus life. PC President Marc C. Weersing and Student Body President Bob Warren of Allendale, also will speak to the group at this time, a color movie of PC student activity will be shown and several singing groups will perform.

The remaining slate of Youth Day events calls for dinner in Greenville Hall starting at 5:30 p. m., and the football game pitting Presbyterian against Frederick at 8:00 p. m. on Johnson Field.

Advanced reservations indicate that Presbyterian young people from every section of South Carolina will come from all presbyteries of both synods, representing 100 South Carolina churches and 20 Georgia churches.

Village Employees To Meet Tonight

The Whitten Village Employee's Club will meet Thursday evening, September 15th, at 7:45 at the club house. It is hoped all members will be in attendance.

Blue Hose Will Pass In Frederick Opener Here Saturday Night

Presbyterian College will throw a pro-type passing attack and a tight defensive line against a strengthened Frederick College team in the football opener here Saturday night.

The Blue Hose, holding three previous victories without loss over Frederick, will enter the game riding a nine-game home field winning streak that dates back to mid-1963. PC is favored by two touchdowns to keep the string intact before a crowd that will include 1,500 high school young people on campus for the annual Presbyterian Youth Day.

Game time is 8:00 p. m. on Johnson Field.

The Presbyterian team of Coach Cally Gault is expected to unveil a wide-open offense built around the passing of sophomore quarterback Bill Kirtland. He'll operate out of a varied-T, include a newly installed I-formation, while directing his aerials to halfbacks Jim Johnson and Dan Eckstein and End James Smith.

And for variety, Johnson and Eckstein also are fast enough ball carriers to supplement the running game of All-State fullback Sam Williams.

The Blue Hose line averages a comparatively light 201 pounds, but it is quick and hard-hitting — with material enough for two-plateau defensive and offensive units. Pre-season workouts have highlighted the defensive unit as one of the toughest at PC in years. It's paced by middle guard John Monk, tackles Sam Lyons and Tommy Campbell, and linebackers Bob Warren and Jim Sullenberger.

Frederick, coached by Frank Madigan, expects its best team in several seasons. The Lions feature quarterback Jim Cruthoff passing out of a wing-T offense and halfback Skip Bouchard as a runner. An improved line is led by Co-Captains Ned Garber and Jim Matusiak.

The Manning High School band will perform as part of the halftime activities.

With the slogan "Push for the United Fund" paramount, the campaign leaders also heard further plans outlined and procedures discussed by Chairman Creighton, President Young, Robert B. Wassung, first vice-president; G. Edward Campbell, second vice-president; Mrs. Esther H. Pitts, secretary, and Goyne L. Simpson, treasurer, all officers of the United Fund of Greater Clinton, Inc.

Also at the meeting Tuesday, brochures listing the proposed 1966-67 budget were distributed to campaign division heads. Compiled by the budget committee under Gen. A. B. Godfrey, chairman, and members James Von Hollen, Calvin Cooper, and Robert Hanson, the budget approved by the board of directors included the following:

Clinton Camp Fire Council, $5,856; Blue Ridge Council of Boy Scouts, $3,775; Laurens County Cancer Society, $4,400; Crippled Children and Adults Society of Laurens County, $1,250; Salvation Army, $750; American Red Cross, Laurens County Chapter, $3,680; Local Relief, Administrative Expenses, $3,300; National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, $400; United Health and Medical Research of South Carolina, $324; Cerebral Palsy, $100; Laurens County Mental Health Association, $426; Carolinas United Organization, $1,803; and Old Ninety Six District Council of Girl Scouts, $1,036.

Chairman Creighton pointed out that local members of the Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts are to assist in the distribution of campaign material. Other phases of community participation in the drive include window displays, stamp cancellation, placards, and a street banner to be used in the business district.
