Service Station Owner Reports Theft of $2500

A bold thief made off with about $2500 Saturday night under the noses of a proprietor of a service station and people from several cars milling about the station, according to reports to local officers.

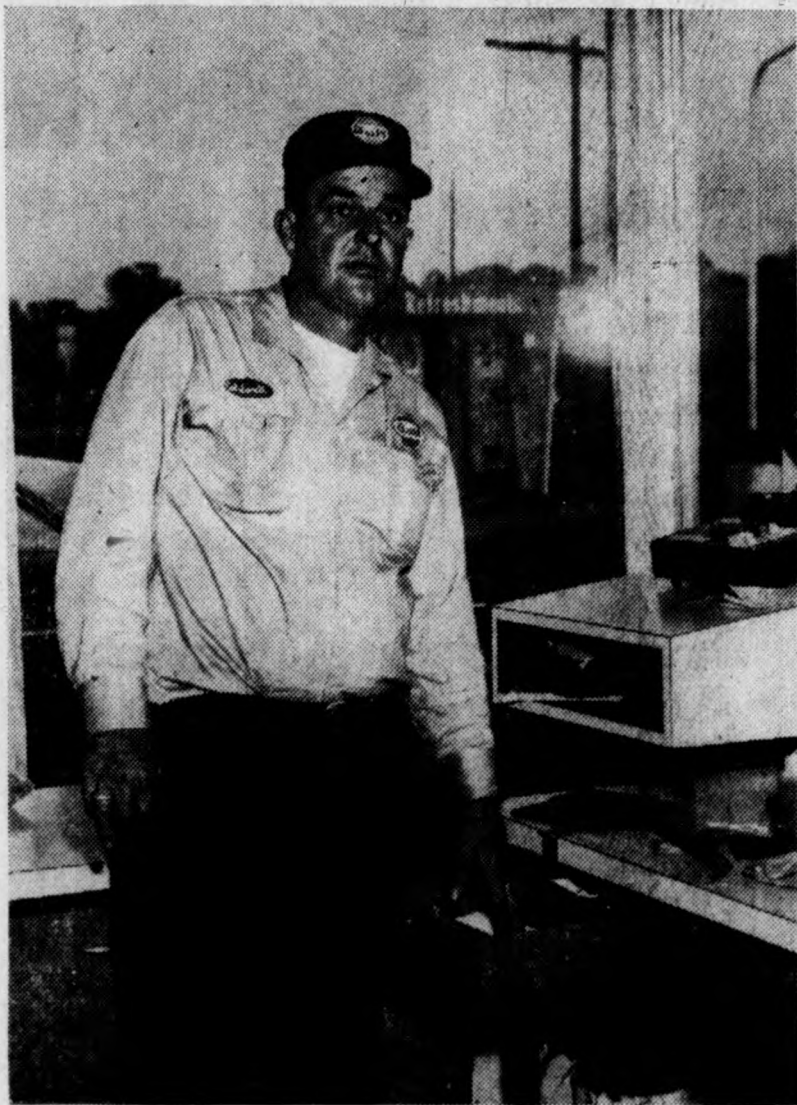

The theft took place at the Gulf service station operated by J. W. Caldwell at the intersection of Interstate Highway 26 and State Highway 72, about three miles from Clinton.

Mr. Caldwell estimated his loss at from $2400 to $2600, being receipts from several days business. He said he last made a deposit on the previous Tuesday.

Sheriff R. Eugene Johnson and his deputies are working on the case, Caldwell said. Up to press time Wednesday, no leads or arrests had been reported.

Mr. Caldwell said he was preparing to leave the station and had put the receipts in a green bank deposit bag and placed it in a drawer in a desk when several cars stopped for service. A number of people were moving about the place while he was servicing his customers, he said.

After completing his duties outside the station, Caldwell said, he returned to the inside and found the pouch missing. The bag contained cash, checks and courtesy card slips, Caldwell said.

College To Observe Parents Day Saturday

The milestone tenth anniversary of Presbyterian College Parents Day is expected to attract almost 1,000 visitors to the campus this Saturday for a program that will include attendance at the night-time PC - Appalachian football game.

Advance registrations indicate a record attendance may be established for the PC event which ranks among the oldest Parents Day programs in the state. Previous highs of 900 were hit last year and in 1964.

The day's schedule will begin with 2:00 p. m. registration, followed by campus tours conducted by members of Blue Key national leadership fraternity. Students will bid their parents an official welcome in a special Belk Auditorium program presided over by Bob Herlong of Manning, president of Blue Key. This 3:00 p. m. attraction will feature talks by President Marc C. Weersing and Student Body President Bob Warren of Allendale, musical selections by three student groups and by the PC choir, and the showing of Presbyterian College's new color film entitled "Beyond Tradition."

Students to participate in entertainment include: Robin Williams of Myrtle Beach, Don Dillard of Abbeville, Antonio Reyes of Montreat, N. C., Beth Lindsay of Greenville, David Templeton of Clinton, and Dan Roberts of Orangeburg. The choir is conducted by Charles T. Gaines, assistant professor of music.

After a 4:00 p. m. reception in Neville Hall, the parents will be guests for supper in Greenville Hall and then will be entertained at separate functions by the six social fraternities and the coeds. The activities will close with the Presbyterian Appalachian football game under the lights of Johnson Field at 8:00 p. m.

With this encounter, the Blue Key will begin a three-game home stand that will round out the 1966 season. All three are against Carolinas Conference opponents and will have a crucial bearing on the league race. PC, now 2-2 in the conference and 3-4 over-all, will enter the Saturday night game a one-touchdown underdog to Appalachian, which stands 2-3 in the conference and 3-31 over-all.

The Apps, winners by a 20-10 score over Presbyterian in 1965, showed unusual strength last week-end by whipping Wofford 14-12, while PS was bowing to Catawba 21-14. Appalachian is paced by halfback Jackie Roten, who has rushed for almost 600 yards in averaging 4.8 yards-per-carry.

Presbyterian, as usual, will center its attack on passing, where records already are beginning to fall. Quarterback Bill Kirtland's arm is averaging 122 yards-per-game for a current total of 854—less than 200 yards short of PC's record season total. His 81 completions in 160 attempts already has established a new mark there. And his ace receiver, end James Smith, set a single-game record last week-end in catching nine passes for 116 yards. With a total of 30 receptions for 392 yards in seven games thus far, Smith now guns for new season records in both of these categories.

Halfback Dan Eckstein continues to lead PC rushers with 339 yards in 67 carries for an average of five yards each try. Fullback Sam Williams follows with 316 and a 3.5 average.
