A Very Special Night

Graduation night at Clinton High School will be a very special night for the Hall King family. Their son, Matthew, will receive his diploma and he will be the seventh member of the Kings immediate family to graduate from CHS.

Hall King, the father, is one of CHS' most legendary athletes in football and baseball. He attended Clemson on a football scholarship. Mrs. King made an impressive scholastic record at CHS. Now Matthew, the youngest of their five children, is ready to graduate. He plans to attend the University of South Carolina next year.

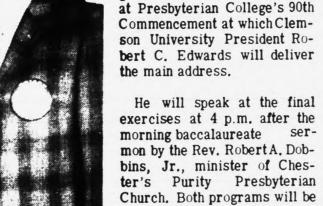

The other four are: Phillip King, who coaches and teaches at Edgewater High School in Orlando, Fla., and lives in Apopka, Fla.; Mrs. Robert (Sylvia) Ballew, who teaches at M. S. Bailey Elementary School; Mark King, who is now in Officer Candidate School at Ft. Sill, Okla.; Mrs. Charles (Martha) Campbell, who is at Plattsburg, N. Y., AFB with

Talented Fisherwoman

Few fisherMEN can match the fish-catching abilities of a Clinton fisherWOMAN. Mrs. Ruth Horton is an avid fisherwoman and misses few opportunities to take a fishing trip. "It's my tranquilizer," she said. "Whether I catch anything or not, it's a wonderful relaxer for me." But she rarely comes back empty-handed. During March and April, she caught a total of 331 crappies. And last weekend she hauled in the biggest catfish she's ever caught. Fishing from a pier, she was casting a doll fly, with a bob, when she landed a 7½-pound catfish.

held in Belk Auditorium. Dobbins is one of two church leaders named by the trustees to receive honorary doctor of divinity degrees. The other is the Rev. James V. Johnson, Jr., minister of Atlanta's Druid Hills Presbyterian Church. Alumnus Powell A. Fraser, president of King College, will be awarded a doctor of humanities at this time; and Bluford B. Hestir, executive-secretary of TRAV (Television, Radio & Audio-Visuals) for the Presbyterian Church US, a doctor of literature.

Commencement activity begins with the 11 a.m. baccal aureate sermon. Member's of the Clinton First Presbyterian Church have suspended their regular worship service to be able to participate in the college program.

The mid-day luncheon for seniors and their guests in Greenville Dining Hall will be followed by the president's reception at 2:30 p.m. The 3:30 p.m. pre-commissioning ceremonies for ROTC cadets in Belk Auditorium will receive a charge from Major General Ansel B. Godfrey of Clinton.

President Marc C. Weersing will preside over the final exercises starting at 4:15 p.m. Degrees, student honors and army commissions will be awarded at this time, with Trustee Chairman Eugene T. Wilson, pastor emeritus of Atlanta's Peachtree Presbyterian Church, making the degree presentations.

Dr. Edwards, the main speaker, has been president of Clemson since 1958. He moved up after two years as development vice-president and an earlier career in the textile industry. His last two positions before going to Clemson were as plant manager of Abbeville Mills Corp. of the Deering Milliken organization and then as treasurer and general manager of the Abbeville Group, 1948-56.

Other Memoirs

BY JOE H. SIMPSON Progress, of course, means many changes in our types of business and methods.

For instance, there are few in Clinton who know that at one time, we had a genuine Chinese Laundry. I do not know his name, but he operated here for several years. His main work was laundering men's collars, cuffs and shirts. He could speak very little English, so when a package was left with him to be cleaned, he would give you a ticket with a Chinese number on it, and you returned this ticket to get your cleaned items. Another business that was a joy to all of Clinton's citizens was the Candy Kitchen. This was a large business, and many pounds of fine peanut brittle, coconut slabs, taffy, fudge, and other types of candy were made. It was made in huge iron pots, and, when done, was poured out on large thick marble slabs to cool, after which it was out into salable size pieces.

Another business that I believe has folded up with the years, is the grist mill that made su fine corn meal and grits. We can of course still buy all the meal that we want, but I still claim that the combread is not as good as that which was made from local ground meal and made with some fat back cracklins mixed in. Sure tasted good with fresh grown vegetables and a good cold glass of
