Senator Gore, the blind Senator from Oklahoma, says the tariff enables one man to get without earning what another man earns without getting. That is a terse statement of a great truth.

Thus far only Alabama and South Carolina have ratified the proposed amendment to the Federal constitution authorizing the imposition of a tax on incomes, "from what ever source derived." Unless thirty five States ratify the proposal the amendment will fail. If twelve States reject it or fail to act upon it, the amendment will not become effective.

Three girls in Clarendon County have been indicted in a magistrates court for assaulting their teacher. It is said these girls have attended a new school for the past three years, this being their fourth school. From all accounts the next school they attend should be the 'reformatory.'

The U. S. attorney general has written a letter to the district attorney's urging them to secure prison sentences for violations of the revenue laws whenever possible instead of a willingly paid fine. The Chronicle has urged from time to time that the magistrates, the municipal authorities and the Judges on the bench adopt this selfsame policy, firm-ing up of bludgeoning as would a full knowledge of the fact staring the tigers in the face that if caught and convicted they could not escape a chaingang sentence.

Talk about your "good roads" but if it were only possible to have the vagrancy law enforced, we are quite sure that Cheraw could furnish recruits enough to the chaingang to build all the roads and bridges needed by our people for sometime.

The first issue of Cheraw's new paper, the "Pee Dee News," issued under date of March 8, has been received. It is neat in get up, is replete with interesting reading and has a very nice lot of advertisements, and, judging by the first issue, promises to be a factor in the growth and development of Cheraw. Rev. J. S. Hartsell, the editor, although a native of Pennsylvania, has lived in the South for so long a time that he has become imbued with its spirit and ideals to such an extent that, with the exception of a slight accent, in conversation with him one would think him "native to the manner born." With such a man at its editorial helm, if we mistake not, the "Pee Dee News" is bound to succeed. Here's wishing it well on its journey on the turbulent sea of journalism.

Smallpox in the Railroad Camps.
The last issue of The Chronicle contained a little item culled from the Morven correspondence in a Wadesboro paper to the effect that smallpox had broken out in the camps of the railroad contractor near Bennett. Early Friday morning The Chronicle was called up by Messrs. Sunstrum & Stratton, the contractors, and told that there was not a word of truth in the report. The Chronicle cheerfully publishes their denial. We are too far away to know anything about the matter personally but supposed the Morven correspondent, living so very near the camp, knew what he was talking about. And while we are on this line the following item from the Wadesboro Ansonian will be read with interest:

"The smallpox situation at the railway camps is under good control and the county physician, Dr. J. M. Covington, Jr., says that there will hardly be any other cases with the disease, boasted that she would come up town and the guard told her that he had instructions to shoot her dead if she tried to leave the camp. She decided to remain."

digestive organs. Foley's Compound Laxative is a natural remedy for stomach liver and bowel troubles. It aids digestion, stimulates the liver, and cures habitual constipation. Sold by all druggists.

The Location of the New Coast Line Route.

Two weeks ago The Chronicle called attention to information it had to the effect that it was probable that the new route of the Coast Line road would go to the west of Cheraw and if such a route should be adopted all of the through trains would be detoured and Cheraw would get only the local trains as now, and we called upon the board of trade to take some action to secure the through train service for the town.

Nothing was done. Now we learn the route has been definitely located and that the road will make its turn near the present "crossing" south of the town and will run in a straight line through the Finlayson and McKay lands to a point on the old route this side of Thompson creek. It is expected that through trains will be put on this road about Oct. 1st. and they will, in the vernacular of the day, "high-ball" Cheraw.

Now, what is to be done? Cheraw must have the advantage to be secured by all these trains stopping at Cheraw, and the only way we can see to secure this much to be desired end now is for Cheraw to "get a move on" and prevail in some manner with the railroad authorities to move its passenger depot to a point on the road near the foot of Market street. Taking this matter up in the right way and right away, it might be possible to get the Seaboard to join in and thereby secure a union passenger depot for Cheraw, which in the opinion of The Chronicle would be a very happy solution of what is now a very mixed problem.

Well, The Chronicle couldn't work up enthusiasm enough to secure the formation of a "Boy's Corn Club" in Chesterfield county, but we want to plead with our farmer friends to encourage their boys by giving them a corn patch and assisting and encouraging them in an effort to break the world's record for number of bushels of corn on an acre of land. It will pay in more ways than one.

A Poor Substitute.
Mrs. Bright—You have become quite an adept in palmistry, I believe? Young Mr. Squeeze—Yes; I have studied it for some time. Mrs. Bright—Well, I have had a plaster impression taken of my daughter's hand, and if you wish to study it you can go so at your leisure. It will save you the trouble of a personal examination, you know.—Exchange.

Saved a Soldier's Life
Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Tex., than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. "I contracted a stubborn cold" he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 160 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. I now weigh 178 pounds." For Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Hemorrhage, Hoarseness, Group, Whooping Cough and Lung trouble, its supreme. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Theo. E. Wannamaker.

AUCTION! Farrand and Farrand Organs and Pianos

All who have used Farrand Organs know of their value as a musical instrument and to those who have yet to buy, we say, there is nothing quite so good, no, nothing that will compare with it. The many patented features that are owned exclusively by the Farrand Company make them eminent over all others. The extra large bellows are easy to pump and supply the air more evenly through the valves, assuring a good pure sweet tone. To prove this we invite you to listen to the Farrand then listen to others. We challenge comparison.

Read Read Read Carefully
In order that you may understand more thoroughly just what the Farrand is, we will on the 26th day of March 1910 give one $85.00 Organ to the highest bidder. This is how it will be done. Every one who reads this advertisement will have a chance to get this organ at their own price. Make out your bid and mail it to day, or come and examine the organ here at our store, decide what you want to pay for it, write the amount on a sheet of paper sign your name to same and seal in plain envelope. At 12 o'clock on the 26th day of March all bids will be opened by three disinterested men. The one holding the highest bid will then be awarded the $85.00 organ upon the payment of the bid price. This is no gamble. A fair proposition to all. It makes no difference to us if you $5.00 or $85.00, the organ goes to the highest bidder regardless of amount bid.

Should you get the Organ then decide you wanted Piano we will give you full price of Organ ($85.00) on any Piano we sell. Remember you only pay the amount bid, and remember, no one pays a cent except the one who is the highest bidder and that one receives the Organ. Come today or mail your bid.

We are the exclusive dealers for the Edison and Victor. These are the leading talking machines in the world, and we invite you to you to come and hear these machines at your convenience. Machines at our store from $15.00 to $125.00.
