NUMBER TWENTY ONE

APPOINTEES ARE ENJOINED

Governor Bound by Recommendation of County Legislative Delegation.

Where the law says appointments shall be made upon the recommendation of the county legislative delegation, the governor is powerless to do otherwise; he is bound to absolutely follow such recommendations. This in substance was the decision reached by Judge Ernest Gary upon the Beaufort township commissioners case. Judge Gary permanently enjoined the Blease appointees from taking office as commissioners for St. Helena township.

Whether the governor will now commission, without further ado, the men recommended by the delegation, Messrs. T. R. Kittles, J. E. Mason, and William Keyserling, remains to be seen. It is presumed that if he declines to do so, the courts will be asked to mandamus him to issue the commissions. The petitioners for the injunction were the present commissioners, Messrs. G. W. Wilkins, Edgar Fripp and William Keyserling.

Arguments were heard before Judge Gary here Saturday afternoon, but he declined to make known at that time his decision in the matter. His decree was issued Saturday night.

Young Federal Prisoner.

Shreveport, La., March 20.—The youngest federal penitentiary ever sent up from this section, Earl Sumrall, aged 18, left here this morning in custody of a deputy marshal for the Atlanta prison. Young Sumrall was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for robbing the post office at Roseine, La., where his father is postmaster.

Launderers Are in Charleston.

Charleston, March 20.—The annual convention of the Association of Launderers of the Carolinas was opened here this morning, the attendance being relatively large.

HOME OF NEGRO IS HAUNTED

Sticks and Clay Thrown Into Building by Weird Visitor, Who Can Not be Seen or Heard.

Columbia State

Remini, March 18.—At the home of Paul Williams, a negro, much excitement is being created by an unknown cause. On the evening of February 28 about 9 o'clock Williams became alarmed by the continual falling of clay and sticks into his house.

At first he thought that some of his neighbors were merely teasing him and concluded that they would soon become weary and cease, but this was not true. The clay and sticks continued to come into the house through the chimney and from every imaginable direction.

Williams made a close search, but he could not find the thrower. He became intensely frightened and summoned a few of his nearest neighbors, who assisted him in making a closer search, but nothing could be seen. They tried firing guns but the more rapid the guns were fired the more rapid came the clay and sticks.

The more intelligent class of people, both white and colored, who do not believe in haunts, have been going to this place witnessing the disturbance and coming away agreeing with the superstitious that the house is being visited by haunts. This has been going on every night since the above date. It begins at dusk and lasts until dawn.

Williams father died about four months ago at the age of 105 and the suspicion is that he is the thrower of the sticks and lumps of clay, who pays his night visits, giving spectators an exciting entertainment.

Attention Grocery Clerks.

The ten retail grocers or clerks in South Carolina first selling, after reading this, ten pounds of Luzianne Coffee to ten different customers and sending us the names and addresses of those customers, will be sent either a nice souvenir paper weight or cloths brush. Write the names and addresses plainly. Guarantee every pound of Luzianne Coffee. The Reilly-Taylor Co. New Orleans, La.

DARLINGTON'S FIRST TRAIN OVER ITS NEW ROAD.

Line Practically Complete and Regular Freight and Passenger Schedule Will be Operated Within Short While.

From The State.

Darlington, March 22.—The first train to pass over the new road built by the Seaboard Air Line from McBee, a small town in the southwestern portion of Chesterfield county, through Darlington to Florence, arrived here yesterday afternoon at five minutes to 4 o'clock. The blowing of the whistle and ringing of the bell attracted the larger part of the business community to the scene.

The train that came in this afternoon was made up of only four or five freight cars laden with material for the building of the track, but it is stated that within a very few days freight trains will be operated and in about two weeks a regular passenger service will be put on. The work is progressing very rapidly on all lines. The track is about completed to the centre of town and foundations and frame work for both depots have been well advanced.

The coming of the Seaboard means a new era for Darlington and for a large part of this county and the adjoining county of Chesterfield. Territory that is opened by this new road has long been suffering for want of the proper rail facilities. Besides the town of Darlington has felt the need for some time of further railroad advantages. The shipping to and from this point has increased during the past 12 months from 33 to 50 per cent., estimated conservatively, and though shifting engines are operated day and night and have been for several Sundays, the work is too heavy to receive proper attention at the hands of the Atlantic Coast Line with its present facilities.

"Beware of the demagogue," said Teddy Roosevelt in his Atlanta speech on Thursday. Very good advice; the trouble, though, is sometimes to distinguish the real article. A small boy at school, being asked what a demagogue is, replied that it is "something to hold liquor."

Open for Business.

After quite a delay on account of slow moving freight trains, Messrs. Goodale & Stafford have at last opened up their grocery store in the building on Second street, recently used as a skating rink. This building has been remodeled and is now one of the handsomest grocery stores in the town. Mr. S. O. Goodale and Mr. E. H. Stafford, both of whom are well known to our readers, compose this new firm. They have an announcement in this issue of the Chronicle, and they invite the patronage of the public. It is their intention to carry a full line of staple and fancy groceries and they do not propose to be undersold by any one.

Another Show Coming.

The John R. Smith Shows and Buf-Cheraw all of next week.

These shows have been here before and therefore our people know what they are. It is claimed, however, that they are much improved over what they were last year.

Read the large advertisement on another page of this issue.

The tents will be pitched on the Sellers lot on the corner of Second and Church streets, next to the power house.
