Make Topographical Survey Soon

The United States Geological Survey, in cooperation with the South Carolina Relief Administration, will soon begin a topographical survey of those sections of South Carolina that have not been mapped previously. Due to the fact that no similar survey has, in the past, been made in any of the counties of the Fifth Congressional District, Congressman J. P. Richards has been in consultation with the Geological Survey and the State Relief Administration urging an immediate survey in the counties of the Fifth District. Mr. R. M. Porter, Chief Engineer of the State Relief Administration, who will direct the survey in South Carolina, has definitely assured Congressman Richards that one of the first survey projects will be commenced in the Fifth District. Mr. Richards is of the opinion that this survey will open up great possibilities for industrial development and that the completed survey will prove to be a real source of adequate information to all concerned.

LIKES IDEA OF LIMITING PRIZE MONEY AT STATE FAIR

Columbia.—Paul V. Moore, Secretary of the State Fair, has been greatly pleased with the way South Carolinians have taken to the idea of limiting the prize money to exhibitors of South Carolina. From every section and in every department the move has been heralded as progressive and pleasing.

"But" Mr. Moore said "as fine as the exhibits are going to be, we are not overlooking the amusement side and I can without contradiction that we have never worked harder to give the visitors a better rounded program of sports, amusements and educational features."

The Carolina-Clemson game, will, of course, top the football program Thursday at noon, and the Brookland-Cayce and Sumter will for the football feature of School Day Friday.

JONES—SAVAGE

A wedding distinguished by its simplicity was that of Elizabeth Jones to Henry Savage, Jr., which was solemnized yesterday at noon at Trinity church. "Dee", as she is affectionately known to her friends, is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll H. Jones and is the sister of Mrs. William P. DuBose and sub-deb, Beverly Jones. After attending Hollins college for one term, she finished at the University of South Carolina in June, 1929, where she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa fraternity and Delta Delta Delta sorority. She spent the winter of 1929 at Wellesley, from which institution she received an M. A. degree in 1930. The following two winters she spent in Pennsylvania, where she was a member of the faculty of Penn Hall, school for girls.

She will be particularly missed by the Columbia Junior League, of which she has been an active member. Much of her talent has been devoted to the Junior League Marionettes and the Arts and Interests Committee.

Mr. Savage is an outstanding young attorney of the Camden bar. He is an equestrian of note and polo day's Columbia State.

MISS BURNET TO WED WILLIAM G. JEFFORDS, JR.

Mrs. William Shannon Burnet of Camden announces the engagement of her daughter, Carolyn Whitaker, to William Godfrey Jeffords, Jr. of Walterboro.

Miss Burnet was graduated from the University of South Carolina and is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Jeffords also attended the university and is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

S. C. Conference To Convene Here

To the People of Camden: On November 15 will convene the session of the South Carolina Conference, which will bring to our city of ministers and laymen, not less than two hundred and fifty people. Accommodations must be provided for that number as a minimum. Some of the lay delegates will not come; many more will not remain throughout the session; but we can not count on this. We were very careful to get the consensus of opinion of the entire community before we extended the invitation. We greatly appreciate the interest shown by all the other denominations; also the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce. The task will not be hard if all will cooperate.

Next week, these homes must be secured. Our organization has been fixed, and it expects to do this in good time. A special edition of Camden, and Camden Methodism will be issued by the Southern Christian Advocate. It has been 44 years since this body met in Camden, and our neighbor—Bishopville has entertained it twice in recent years, and now our time has come, and let us show this large group of visitors how royally we can do this job.

C. F. Wimberly, Pastor.

Big Crowds Expected To Attend State Fair

Columbia, Oct. 10.—There is one big gathering of South Carolinians that no one wishes to miss. That is the State Fair, which will start in Columbia Monday, October 16, and continue night and day for the entire week. For over half a century that has been the meeting place of the people of South Carolina, and this year, with an unusually good program provided and with the new deal on, indications are that we will have the biggest crowd in years—the young and old will be headed toward Columbia.

The fair officials are emphasizing the fact that this is a South Carolina Fair and have limited prize money to those who live in this State. This will make better exhibits and keener competition. The professional has been eliminated. In further keeping with the home idea, the crack band of the University of South Carolina has been engaged to furnish music. The grandstand show this year is furnished by Gus Sun, one of the best known theatrical men. The Clemson-Columbia game Thursday bids fair to draw a capacity attendance, judging by advance sale. School Day will draw boys and girls from all parts of South Carolina. They will be admitted free that day, Friday, and there will be a big football game between Sumter and Brookland-Cayce. "We invite all South Carolina to come to Columbia and enjoy this show," said President Witcover. "It is not our Fair, but the State's fair—of and for all her citizens. It is going to be a great fair and I urge you one and all to assemble in Columbia for this happy event."

MILLS—NORTON WEDDING

A wedding characterized by its simplicity was that of Miss Sara Mills and William Laurence Norton of Walhalla, which was solemnized Saturday afternoon, five o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Mills.

The ceremony was performed in the spacious living room before an improvised altar flanked with ferns, miriads of candles burned in cathedral candelabras. The bride entered the ceremony room on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was most becomingly dressed in a horizon-blue wool ensemble with squirrel trimmings and steel gray accessories, her corsage was of tallasman roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Mills of Atlanta was her sister's only attendant. The groom had as his best man, his brother, J. J. Norton, Jr., of Cedartown, Ga. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Mills of Clemson college, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. A. D. McArn of the Presbyterian church in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held. In the dining room where punch, pound cake and fruit cake was served a color scheme of white and green was used. The lace covered table was centered with white roses and fern, white candles burned in silver holders, pink roses and pink cosmos were used throughout the house.

Liberty Hill News

Oct. 9.—The Kershaw County Fair will open its gates Monday for the admission of visitors, but the Fair, proper, will not be in readiness until Wednesday. There will be a number of free attractions, and the agricultural and other exhibits will doubtless be as good, or even better, than the excellent quality of those displayed at former fairs, which have been of undoubted value as an inspiration and encouragement to work and plan for better field and garden products, better stock and fowls, better farm management and better home life, generally! We hope that every person in the County—and many from the adjoining counties, who can do so will attend at least one day. Let the "Slogan" be "Meet Me at the Fair". Come! If you have nothing to place on exhibition come and see what the other fellow has and plan to do better next year! Thus will we have a "bigger and better show" each year and encourage the promoters to redouble their efforts to have the biggest and best of everything obtainable. "Meet Me at the Fair!"

Sunday was "Rally Day" at the Presbyterian Sunday School, and the assembled audience listened with much interest to an admirable address by Dr. Patterson Wardlaw who asked the boys and girls if they were "ready for war". Some people thought there would be no more wars. He hoped not, with bullets for poison gas, but we have enemies who have to be warred against. He mentioned some of them as graft, fraud, money worship, injustice, impurity, Godlessness and selfishness as the general head of them all. A sick world was calling for help and the only remedy was Christ's idea of "Peace on earth and good will to all men." A collection was taken for Sunday School extension. Church services conducted by Elder R. C. Jones, prayer meeting night led by Elder N. S. Richards.

Miss Margaret Richards of the music department of Columbia College was a Sunday guest in the home of her parents, former Gov. and Mrs. Richards.

A number of our people went Friday night to see a "beauty show" at the Great Falls High School Auditorium, when a "Miss Great Falls" was chosen.

Misses Mary and Sara Cunningham Winthrop students were at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cunningham for a visit Sunday.

Mr. A. C. Cureton has gone to Charleston where he was drawn to serve on the Federal Jury.

Mr. N. S. Richards is at home after a pleasant trip to Washington, D. C., where he spent several days. He saw the "World Series" ball games, visited many of the government departments, the Smithsonian Institute, Lincoln Memorial and other places of interest and reports a very pleasant "outing".

Miss Callie Jones of the City School faculty of Columbia came over to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Jones. She was accompanied over by Dr. and Mrs. Patterson Wardlaw, who, while here, were guests in the home of his relative, Mr. L. P. Thompson.

We heard on Sunday night, by Rev. J. R. Dungee, colored minister of Ridgeway, who is assisting Rev. Rose borough of Camden, in a meeting in his church here. A sermon on the prohibition subject, it was a masterful discourse on the liquor question containing many ideas of merit, as well as a scathing denunciation of the liquor traffic and its direful results when unrestrained by legal requirements. Rev. Dungee is a young man of foresight and ability and his sermon was full of logical facts and good advice to his hearers.

After a wedding trip which will include the World's Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Norton will live in Walhalla, where Mr. Norton has extensive business interests.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were:

Mrs. Allen Johnstone, Sr., of Newberry, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. George McCutcheon, J. Malcolm Johnstone, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mills, Miss Mary N. Mills, J. Laurens Mills and Miss Mary Doyal, of Atlanta, the Rev. W. H. Y. Mills, of Clemson college, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Norton, Sr., of Seneca, Mrs. Sarah Norton Verner, of Walhalla, J. J. Norton, Jr., of Cedartown, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Holleman Seaborn, of Walhalla.
